Biographical/Historical note

Kathleen Wilkinson Wootten was born on Jan 27, 1893 in Gastonburg, Alabama. Wootten received her A.B. from Sullins College in 1910 with a major in English and Piano and her M.A. in Health Education and Science from the Teachers' College at Columbia University. She served as the Director of the Health Department at Georgia State College for Women from 1917 to 1926. Afterwards, she continued teaching courses in health, mental hygiene, sex education, safety education and physical education at the institution.

During her career, Wootten researched and studied with some of America's greatest doctors, surgeons, obstetricians, pediatricians, psychiatrists, and dentists. In addition, she lectured at various institutions and researched abroad. She published numerous books and articles on health related topics. In speaking of her active involvement in her field, Wootten admitted that she had an "endless amount of enthusiasm for health education."

In 1940 Wootten was elected as a member of the Nancy Hart Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She was an active member of several professional organizations including the American Association of University Women, American Child Health Association, and an honorary life member of the National Tuberculosis Association. She was included in Who's Who in Education and Who's Who Among American Women.

Wootten married Lieutenant Colonel Henry Stewart Wootten, owner of Wootten Chemical Company, on July 8, 1920. Ornithology, gardening, and painting were among some of Wootten's interests.

Scope and Contents note

The materials in this collection date from 1909 to 1966. The collection is arranged into five series. Series 6 contains the books from her library.

The collection contains Wootten's personal and professional correspondence, greeting cards, journals, maps, and materials relating to the Health and P.E. Department at Georgia State College for Women where she taught Health from 1917 to 1952. The collection also contains numerous articles on various Health subjects such as sex education and hygiene. There are also miscellaneous papers such as Wootten's business correspondence and resumes. The collection covers most of her life beginning in 1909 and ending in 1966. However, there are gaps in each decade, notably in the 1920's and 1930's.

The collection is organized into five series and most of it is arranged chronologically.

Series 1 – Personal Correspondence: contains correspondence of the Wootten family from 1909-1966. Mrs. Wootten most frequently corresponded with her husband, Mr. Stewart Wootten, her nieces and nephews, her son, and her grandchildren. Series I also contains greeting cards (1901-1956), postcards (1947-54) and travel journals.

Series 2 – Professional Correspondence: contains Wootten's textbook correspondence from 1927-1951 with her publishers such as A.S. Barnes and Company as well as correspondence from persons and institutions seeking permission to quote from her textbooks from 1934-1958. Finally, it contains material from the Recreation Association (sponsored by the GSCW Health Department) from 1934-35 and 1936-37.

Series 3 – Miscellaneous Papers: contains assorted material such as Wootten's Business Correspondence from 1920-58, magazines and articles from GSCW, her resumes (1915-1952) and her genealogy research from 1924-1953.

Series 4 – GSCW P.E. and Health Department: contains the bulk of the material. It documents the history of the Health department from the 1890s to the 1930s, as well as P.E. and Health department annual reports, her course notes and syllabi, the GSCW Health Club minutes, lists of officers from the 1930s and 1940s, and photographs of Health Club activities.

Series 5 – Health Articles and Bulletins: contains articles on various health subjects such as teaching health in public schools, sex education, and hygiene.

Series 6 – Books: contains books focusing on health-related issues.
