SUMMER SCHOOL Y. W. ORGANIZED

Work of Year Continued by Organization that Served Regular Term

In our Summer School voyage it was necessary to have some pepole who would guide us on our way. So the girls who had been here last year, because they perhaps knew a bit more about its organization, came together to choose the captain and the crew of the good ship Y. W. C. A.

The success of the voyage? That, of course depends on the passengers, but we would like to congratulate the First, there is the captain of Ship Y. W., Anna Elizabeth Branch. "Well done, good captain," comes from our hearts. Then the secretary to see that nothing went wrong on board, Polly Moss.

People even on a voyage like to lead a well rounded life, so in the early morning came Morning Watch services that meant much to the passengers. These were planned by the chairman, Rosabel Burch.

There was the Bulletin Board work by Cornelia Ledbetter, and closely associated with this was the Poster Work executed by Jimmie Weeks. Of course folks wanted to know when and where events were to take place, and those two committees saw to it that they knew!

In the afternoon basket-ball games were planned along with other ath-(Continued on Page Four)

EXPRESSES THANKS TO OFFICERS, FACULTY AND STUDENTS

It has been a pleasure to know the teachers and students at the Sammer School. It has been a joy to see the fine spirit of work and co-operation manifested by so many people. The College is trying to give service to the Teachers of Georgia, and the success of the Summer School is gratifying.

The Summer School is endeavoring to afford an opportunity fo: students to continue advanced work with college credits, and for teachers to secure work leading towards State Certificates. But most of all, it is hoped that the inspiration and information gained at the Summer School will result in better schools next year for tens of thousands of Georgia School children.

My thanks are due the Officers, and the Students for the great Summer School of 1925.

LEGISLATURE

$195.000.00 Appropriation Pill Introduced

The entire state of Georgia is interested in the Legislature now in session at Atlanta. The educational program proposed and the far-reaching influence of this legislation put in the hands of the present General Assembly the greatest opportunity in years for putting Georgia "on the map" educationally. The Governor and the leaders of of both houses are strongly in favor of the enlargement of the educational facilities of the state institutions and especially the betterment of the rural schools so as to more nearly equalize the opportunities of all the boys and girls of the state.

Among the bills introduced for the furtherance of this program is one by Representative McCluney, of Baldwin county, appropriating $195,-000.00 for the erection of a new auditorium and class room building in the place of the Main Building of the Georgia State College for Women, which was totally destroyed by fire last December. The destruction of this building which was used for the General Offices of the College, class rooms, music rooms, and auditorium has greatly handicapped the authorities in carrying on the work of the school. A large number of teachers desiring to attend the present Summer School to better prepare themselves for work with the youth of Georgia, were denied admission because of the loss of this building and the lack of funds to provide a larger faculty. It is hoped that the energy lieved by the immediate passage of

No institution has done more for the common schools of the state and furnished more teachres than the G. S. C. W., and anything that hinders and hurts this school will indirectly hurt the schools of every county in Georgia. Thousands of teachers who have received benefit of the high ideals and modern educational methods and training at Milledgeville, have gone into every county of the state. To further extend these benefits to other teachers and thereby aid hundreds of thousands of boys and girls of Georgia, it is necessary that increased facilities and funds be provided for the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville,

CLASSIFY YOURSELF

There are two types of folks in this old world, most of them get behind and push, some get in front and puli, but there are others who neither push nor pull, but use their energy in kicks-directed on the other fellow. In thinking of this last group and wondering if perhaps they weren't good for something the suggestion is given that they be placed on doors to be used as out-of-date knockers.

The booster is the fellow that succeeds in putting the bill across. Oh, of course he grows tired of the hot weather, and classes may seem without end, and perhaps home takes on an added attraction-But—does he sit back and howl, deafening others with his egotism? No, if he grows tired he confides in himself and then keeps his own pils.

The Staff welcomes back the Alumnae who are attending Summer School. We think of you as real friends, big sisters as it were, and we realize that upon you depends a great part of our happiness. Your representation of the standards upheld by our Alma Mater will largely determine our success when we have left college. We appreciate the fact that the marked influence of a "sample product" can either make or mar the future production of that company. We might term G. S. This volume, bearing the name of the introductory poem, consists of a and other outstanding American magused, each written with an easy and natural style.

Old Prof. Dickson is the second volume of poems written by Dr. Holiday, the first, Cotton Pickers and Other Poems, appeared some years ago, and was so successful that the edition has been exhausted several years. Appreciation is keenly felt by of pep and have added much to the southerners who have read these collections, because they serve as an inspiration to coming poets of this section, and encourage them to seek this field of expression.

Among the works of this eminent author, totaling fifteen, are these two volumes of poems, a book of short stories, several studies in Ammerican literature, text books, and others, the most recent being an historical novel now on the press, I Sat By the Gate Beautiful. Besides these he was written numerous articles which have been published in magazines and papers in America. England, and France. For more than R C a year he was special article writer for the New York Evening Post.

Besides enjoying the reputation of being among the foremost authors of today, Dr. Holiday has done a great work along the line of journalism in colleges. He founded the school ...T. C. of journalism at the University of Montana, and later continued work in this field as Dean at the University of Toledo. Next year he will introduce this subject into the curriculum here at G. S. C.

For the past year, Dr. Holliday ...T. C. has served in the capacity of head S. C. of the Department of English, of this College, giving valuable assistance in many ways. MILTON BRADLEY DISPLAYS SEEN IN PARKS HALL

"Drawing paper ordered now, may be delivered at opening of school. Will be glad to open charge accounts with all teachers." This sign in Parks Hall, displayed by Mr. Yarbrough, of Milton Bradley Co., of Atlanta, caused every primary teacher to stop and examaine the attractive display of drawing paper, art supplies and story books.

This company, which is one of the best supply houses for teachers' materials will probably have a permanent representative at the next summer session of our school.

Fifty of the delightful story books have been bought by the college, and will be placed in the college for general use.

A catalogue of supplies may be obtained by writing to Milton Bradley Company, Atlanta.

in consideration of her splendid scholarship, and prominence as a student, and the quality of her thesis. She was a class officer for two years, was Associate Editor of the college publication 1924-1925, and received her Bachelor of Arts degree in June.

The subject of her address, "A Survey of Georgia Orators Since 1865," dealt as the subject implies, with the post-war orators of Georgia. Among those included were Grady, Toombs, Watson, Hill and others. The subject was well handled and in an interesting manner.

As the interests of the representatives of various colleges, eight in number, were so varied, it is natural to expect that the contents of the addresses would have a wide range of differences, yet all the papers showed that much thought and time had been expended.

Judge Richard Russell has always been a friend of G. S. C. W., and he did not fail to show his loyalty again, when he admitted that he dismissed a meeting over which he was presiding, in Athens, in order that he might attend the exercises, when he learned that a G. S. C. W. girl was
