
Colonnade

Special Collections

10-8-1925

Colonnade October 8, 1925

Colonnade

Follow this and additional works at: <https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade>

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Mass Communication Commons

Recommended Citation

Colonnade, "Colonnade October 8, 1925" (1925). Colonnade. 15.
<https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade/15>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Special Collections at Knowledge Box. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colonnade by an authorized administrator of Knowledge Box.

THE COLONNADE

VOL. 1

GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, MILLEDGEVILLE, GA., OCT. 8, 1925

NO. 2

CLASSROOM BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION

FOUNDATIONS FOR AUDITORIUM NOW BEING MADE

The destruction, by fire, of the administration building last December has caused the college to work under a great disadvantage. It has been greatly handicapped since ten class rooms, several studios, administrative offices, and the auditorium were destroyed. The fact that this college suffered for the lack of room before the fire, added more to the terrible disaster.

During the last meeting of the legislature, Dr. Parks asked for assistance. He readily found the entire group in sympathy with the college, and appropriations for $195,000 were voted. This sum was to build a new class room building and to replace the auditorium. The senate was almost unanimous in this matter, only one vote being against it.

Plans had already been made for the erection of the new building and the work upon it was rushed when the funds became available.

The new class room building, which is so rapidly nearing completion, is situated at the rear of Atkinson and Parks Halls, between both dormitories. There is to be a porch, the roof of which is supported by beautiful, large columns. Directly in

Continued on last page

SOPHOMORE COMMISSION BEGINS YEAR RIGHT

Who were those sophomores and normal seniors, besides cabinet members and membership committee, who were back on our campus a whole day before school opened this fall? Why were they here? What could they find to keep them busy for a whole day if there were no classes to attend? Those were Sophomore Commission girls who had returned early along with other "Y" workers. They came to help meet the girls, especially the freshmen, as they came up from the trains, and to perform any little tasks they could find to make the dormitories more home-like for the first night. Didn't you have a good feeling deep, deep down in you when you came in and found your bed already made up and your room arranged nicely? You can guess who helped do it. And then there were about twenty freshmen who had come early to take entrance examinations. Just suppose they had been here all alone that first night; they might have been ready to go home on the first train the next morning.

Maybe you would like to know just a little bit about Sophomore Commission. Last spring about a month before school closed, twenty-eight girls were chosen by the freshman class to be on commission. With Miss Goodson, our efficient secretary, and Rosabel Burch, undergraduate representative, to work with them, these girls were to serve for one year. Realizing that more effective work could be accomplished if they were organized, officers were elected. The officers chosen were: Cornelia

Continued from first page
Continued on last page

FOUR CLASSES SEND DELEGATES

WILL REPRESENT G. S. C. W. AT W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

A number of G. S. C. W. Girls will leave on Oct. 6 to attend the W. C. T. U. Convention at Macon. Each year this college has a large delegation to the state convention, and this time all four classes are represented.

Many noted women will be present. Among them is Mrs. Mary Harris Armour, a forceful speaker who has carried the fight against liquor traffic the length and breadth of the country. Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general of the United States is expected to be present. Mrs. Willebrandt has complete charge of that section of the department of justice which has charge of the direction and dismissal of cases violating the liquor laws. Mrs. Nellie C. Burger, president of W. C. T. U. of Missouri, will be a noted speaker. Mrs. Maud B. Perkins, general secretary of Young People's Branch in National W. C. T. U. is scheduled to address the Convention.

With Anna Elizabeth Branch as delegation leader, the following G. S. C. girls will attend the convention: Dorothy Roberts, Elizabeth Ross, Lillian Torrance, Sarah Connally, Nan Slappy, Minnie Stowe, Virginia Arnold, Annie Laurie Godbee, Catherine Bagley, Frances Lawrence, Elizabeth Hearn, Dorothy Ferguson, Lucile Dunaway, Margaret Dunaway, and Ellen McKee, Miss Oma Goodson will chaperone the group.

OLD GIRLS GREET FRESHMEN

NEW STUDENTS MADE WELCOME.

We who have been at G. S. C. W. for three years feel that we realize just exactly what each new girl has to look forward to, and we hope that we may have a share in making your dreams of college life come true. We hope to share in making your college days on our campus the happiest, most profitable, and most successful in your life.

Knowing what G. S. C. W. has meant to us and what it can mean to you, O Freshman Class, the Senior Degree Class welcomes you to our college home.

FRANCES HINTON,
President Junior Class, '25.

The Sophomore Class is happy to welcome you and to extend to you the splendid fellowship that characterizes our institution. Our interest is perhaps increased and made more sympathetic because it seems only a few weeks since we too were Freshmen and experiencing the thrills of

SCHEDULE FOR OCT. 5-11

- Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Meeting at 2 P. M.
- Monday: Sophomore Commission meeting at 3 P. M.
- Tuesday: Freshman Hiking Club. Committee meeting at 7 P. M.
- Wednesday: Chapel, all classes.
- Thursday: Mid-week vesper at 7 P. M.
- Friday: Literary Guild at 7 P. M.
- Saturday: Senior Hiking Club 3:30 P. M.
- Sunday: Vespers at 7 P. M.

COLONNADE TO REFLECT CAMPUS INTERESTS

ONE THOUSAND COPIES OF THIS EDITION

This issue of the Colonnade marks the second edition of a college paper in the history of the Georgia State College for Women, the first edition appearing on July 20, 1925, at the regular session of Summer School. Although for many years there was an annual supported by the college, this is the first publication of its kind.

Students have long felt the need and desire for a news edition which should deal with campus interests. This desire was partially fulfilled when in 1923 the Y. W. C. A. sponsored Triangled Thoughts, a bi-monthly paper which continued for two years, and which was given to the students by the Y.

Last Spring, definite steps were taken for the establishment of a college newspaper, beginning with a four-page paper, to be published twice a month, and with a subscription fee of fifty cents a semester. The purpose of the fee is to secure funds for the improvement of the publication.

Because of the number and beauty of the columns which are so characteristic of this campus, The Colonnade has been chosen as the name for the news edition which strives to be representative of this college.

If you like the Colonnade, then boost those that are to follow by placing your subscription today.

JOURNALISTIC COURSE BEGUN

PROF. W. T. WYNNE IN CHARGE OF THIS DEPARTMENT

For the first time the college curriculum includes a course in Journalism, which is open to members of all classes. Under the direction of Prof. Wynne, it meets three times a week. It is intended primarily not to make writers but to instill clear ideas of thinking and writing; to help its students think straight and write clearly. It is designed to do three things: train students fundamentally interested in journalism, to take positions on the college paper; to help students who expect to make journalism a profession; to increase the efficiency of those who take it by helping them learn the value of clarity and directness in speech and writing; to give news value to the expression of their thoughts.

Those who have attained to high positions in any profession today are those who have added to their efficiency by learning the importance of news value.

The college graduate must know something more than text books; he must know how to use this effectively. If one learns the rules of clear thinking and writing she should have something that will help her sell her natural talents, enhanced by a college education, to advantage on a market where the demand for especially trained workers is greatest.

Haven't you a friend or two who would be a Colonnade subscriber if she knew of the existence of such a paper? Why not lend her your copy and widen the circle.

DEGREE SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

FRANCES HINTON RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

On September 24, the Senior Degree Class assembled at the Mansion. This dignified group was called to order by their last year's president, Frances Hinton, who explained the object of the meeting. The roll was called and a few names were added to it. The meeting was then turned over to Dr. Parks. At his request, the members of the class who had been out teaching told something of their work. In his most charming manner, Dr. Parks gave a very informal and inspiring talk about self-government and college standards. This was followed by an intermission during which delicious punch was served.

The group was again called to order and the election of officers took place. Frances Hinton, of Greenville, was re-elected president. She is worthy of this honor and responsibility and her talk was proof enough for her sincerity. Anna Elizabeth Branch, of Augusta, was re-elected vice-president; Mary Joyce Banks, of Milledgeville, secretary; and Daisy Daniel, of Rome, treasurer. These girls were wisely chosen for they are all capable, outstanding girls and represent different types in the class. The meeting was then adjourned.

Last Tuesday the class met again. The class president talked to the girls about privileges of self-government and the secretary read the list of privileges of which Dr. Parks

Continued on last page

LITERARY GUILD ORGANIZES

MARTHA HENDRICKS ELECTED PRESIDENT

The Literary Guild held its first meeting for this year at seven o'clock, Friday evening, Sept. 25. Miss Crowell, who is the advisor of the club, acted as chairman.

The constitution was read explaining that those eligible for membership must either be juniors or seniors, majoring or minoring in English.

After everyone had entered their names on the membership roll, the following officers were elected: Martha Hendricks, president; Mary Lee Anderson, secretary-treasurer; and Marguerite Mitcham, chairman of the social committee.

Before the adjournment of the meeting, it was suggested that an amendment be made to the constitution, permitting any upper classman, so desiring, to become a member of the Guild. The vote was unanimously carried and this provision was made.

Possible subjects for study and discussion were considered, the novel and short story being the favorites.

After the business meeting, a social hour was greatly enjoyed.

SEND THIS EDITION OF THE COLONNADE TO THE HOME FOLKS. LET THEM READ ABOUT YOUR COLLEGE EXPERIENCES.

1000 STUDENTS ATTEND OPENING EXERCISES

MR. R. J. GUINN, OF ATLANTA, MAKES ADDRESS.

The thirty-fourth formal opening of the Georgia State College for Women took place at eight-thirty, Wednesday morning, September 16, when the students and faculty assembled in the Methodist church, for the first chapel exercises. Approximately one thousand students were present, together with the entire faculty and a number of visitors.

After the devotional led by Dr. Emory, pastor of the Methodist church, Dr. Parks cordially welcomed both old and new girls to the college. Mr. R. J. Guinn, noted educator of Atlanta, congratulated the members of the student body on their admission to such a famous institution. Hon. Miller S. Bell, secretary-treasurer of the Board of Trustees, extended a welcome in behalf of the members of the Board. Dr. E. A. Tigner also a member of the Board, expressed his pleasure in attending the opening of the college.

Two of the new faculty members were then introduced. Dr. Webber, head of the Education department, made a short talk giving as his philosophy of life: "Doing the right thing first." Prof. Wynne, head of the English department, formerly a Georgian, declared that he was only an old friend who had come home.

Classes were begun Wednesday afternoon. One of the most prompt organizations in the history of the college was realized with a great majority of students following a regular schedule.

FACULTY CORPS INCREASED

MEMBERS OF ABILITY ADDED TO FORCE.

G. S. C. W. regretted the loss of some of her faculty members this year, but she is to be greatly congratulated because of the strong members which have been added.

Among these new recruits is Prof. W. T. Wynne, who succeeds Dr. Holliday as Prof. of English. Prof. Wynne is a Georgian who graduated from Emory and has taken post-graduate work at Peabody and Columbia Universities. He holds the Master's Degree, and for a number of years has been a very prominent educator in Tennessee.

Another who comes to us very highly endorsed is Dr. George H. Webber, Prof. of Education. He taught formerly at Winthrop College, S. C., and Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania.

Miss Myrtle Williams, associate Prof. of French and Spanish, holds the Master's Degree from Columbia and a diploma from a college in France.

Prof. of Geography, Miss Emma Dietrich, was formerly head of the Geography Department at the State Teachers' College at Farmville, Va. She holds the Master's Degree from Oberlin College in Ohio.

A former student and extension worker of this college, Miss Euri Belle Bolton, comes to us as Prof. of Psychology. She has taken the Master's Degree at Peabody.

Miss Lillas Myrick has returned to the Chemistry Department, after receiving her Master's Degree at Co-

Continued on last page

The Colonnade

Editor-in-Chief: Anna Elizabeth Branch. Associate Editors: Hazel Hogan, Marguerite Jackson, Ellen McKee. Business Managers: Irene Lamkin, Martha Hendricks. Circulation Managers: Kathleen Monts, Sypper Youmans. Exchange Editor: Margaret Highower. Alumnae Editor: Frances Harris. Joke Editor: Lucetta Lawrence. Faculty Advisor: Mr. W. T. Wynne.

THE STAFF EXPRESSES APPRECIATION.

The sails are set—we're launching out—can't you almost hear the splash. The staff wishes right here at the beginning of the voyage to splash! The staff wishes right here at the beginning of the voyage to splash. Because you realize that to succeed, each of us must help support this project, you have done your bit early. This enthusiasm will be a dynamic influence in enlisting the entire student body to help.

A BEGINNING.

September 14th! the beginning of another school year! The beginning of a year of opportunities. How far that year seems to carry us on the highway of life. Does it hold joy or sorrow? Both; so take them cheerfully as they come. Does it hold satisfaction or discontent? Satisfaction, if you are determined to have it so. Will it finally bring success or failure? you are determined to have it so. Will it finally bring success or failure? you are determined to have it so.

BIG SISTERS.

The members of the Membership Committee of Y. W. C. A. are "better known" as Big Sisters. They are one of the stars that shine as brightly in the firmament of a Freshman's first few weeks at college. Now tell me please what would a poor Freshman, carrying her suitcase (having been too timid or tired or maybe green to run for a car at the station) do, if a big sister didn't take her under her wing and show her to her room? Big sisters always smile, for they are only too glad to help Freshmen.

THE "Y" ROOM—EVERY GIRL'S HAVEN OF REST.

Have you seen it? Just a tiny little room out on the end of first floor Terrell. Stop by the first chance you have and examine it. Probably these are some of the things you'll see: a long table with books and a desk, a big book case, and flowers everywhere. And please notice the very first time, that there is a very predominant color. I guess you know why it is blue. 'Tis for our blue triangle standing for loyalty and trust.

IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Things I Saw and Heard While Waiting for a Petition to be Signed in the Registrar's Office.

After being told by one of the office assistants to wait for five minutes, I sat on one of the benches and began to observe the ebb and flow of the girls in brown.

In the first crowd was a homesick Freshman who couldn't understand why Mary Jones had been allowed to substitute French for Domestic Science and the same petition filed by the "Freshie" had been turned down when presented to the Registrar. After a detailed explanation had been made about the difference in accredited schools and A2 schools the little Freshman left the office but I thought to myself, "What a fair example of convincing a woman against her will." I saw plainly that the Freshman was of the "same opinion still."

The next interesting person was a girl who proves that in spite of the efforts spent on some high school students as soon as they are away from the protecting wing of the high school English teacher they drift back to their former manner of speech. This girl came in and in a very earnest way asked if her Summer School records from the University of Georgia "had come." With a kindly smile that was almost a laugh the assistant replied, "They have not come."

I have often heard that because Mr. Scott was a "man of all trades" that the general College Public considered his office a place where anything may be found or left and any problem can be solved. Within the short time I was waiting, a pet dog was brought in and after being tied to the desk was left while the owner went to town. Three girls inquired for lost "beauty repair boxes;" two asked about lost or stolen fountain pens and one for five dollars which she had left just "somewhere" where she had been "sometime" that day.

THE MASTER WEAVER.

Before the Loom the Master Weaver stands. While Fate, the restless Shuttle, flashing darts; The Weaver with His firm, all-knowing hands. Directs and guides the multitudinous parts.

NEW Y. W. HANDBOOK PROVES USEFUL.

Here comes a foolish question! Have you seen the new Y. W. C. A. handbook for 1925-26? But then some unfortunate person may have been so busy and excited getting all packed, that this little book may have been overlooked. If you happened to be so unlucky, listen:

You shall know it by its cover of blue embossed in gold. A small brown silk cord tied in the back completes those glorious G. S. C. W. colors, brown and gold. That "Beauty is only skin deep" is false in this case, for glance inside the covers. You will find that the real "beauty" of the book lies there.

TO JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER

Beneath the Southern pines and palms, Midst languid scented air, I read his simple-hearted psalms Of homely joy and care. Maud Muller raking in the hay And dreaming far-off dreams; The barefoot boy content with play And woods and winding streams.

I see the snow-capped hills and dales, I read the quaint, sweet word, I feel the kinship that must run Where'er his songs are heard.

But ah, above this human touch, How strong his child-like trust! Why, as I read, on God I clutched And strive to leave the dust.

And when some day by Silent Sea I await the muffled oar, I'll know, yes, know, that God must be Upon yon darksome shore. "Then why does the groom always wear black?" asked a bright little boy.

HELP THE FRESHMEN IN WATCH-WORD AT G. S. C. W.

Fearfully the Freshmen of many colleges board the train for their schools. Mournfully the young sports caress their beautifully oiled locks, dreading the time of separation that is destined soon to be upon them. Carefully they rehearse speeches planned for the notorious Rat Courts about which they have heard so much. Remorsefully, the flappers picture themselves with pig-tails projecting in all directions from the heads that are usually so exquisitely marcelled. Oh, awful is the fate of the Freshmen!

But no rule is a rule without an exception and in this case G. S. C. W. is that exception. No Rat Courts are held there. No ridiculous parades take place that would bring embarrassment to even the boldest of the bold. No pranks are played that might prove to be dangerous as well as funny. And yet there is just as much life and pep in the old girls of G. S. C. W. as can be found in any group of students, anywhere, but all their energy—the directed toward the Freshman—goes toward making them happy rather than frightened or embarrassed.

The judges' stands are crowded out by Information Booths. In the place of the judge stands a girl wearing a Big Sister Arm Band on the dormitory steps other Big Sisters meet the new girls, take charge of their bags, and help them find their rooms. These have been made cheerful by "Y" workers who have dressed them up with linen sent ahead by the students.

The days and nights that follow are not full of nightmares for the Freshmen. Instead, there is always some old girl to be found ready and anxious to answer any questions, settle any difficulties, and solve any problems that may prove too much for the more inexperienced ones.

In all the halls the girls are welcomed by posters that are as sincere in their messages as they are unique in their ideas.

Punch is to be found by those who have been engaged in a conflict with schedules, a reception brightens them at the end of the first week; ice cream and cake cheer them on Sunday; and vesper services, that night bring them a welcome not only to the pep and fun of the social life and the busy cheerfulness of those who are working hard toward high-set goals, but to the gloriousness of friendships formed with the sincere purpose of following the Man of Galilee in all campus relationships.

If there are any doubts left in the minds of the newcomers as to the sincerity of the welcome given them at G. S. C. W., they are quickly dispelled when Dr. Parks gets up, in chapel, carefully removes his nose-glasses, holds them suspended in mid-air by the thumb of his left hand, smilingly shakes his right hand at the girls and says, "Cister, we're glad to see you!"

PERSONALS.

Miss Lila Mills, '24, was the guest of Virginia Arnold and Rosabell Burch, for several days.

Miss Carolyn Wheeler recently spent several days on the campus, visiting friends.

Miss Julia Bowen, of Waynesboro, was a recent guest on the campus.

Miss Azilee McDaniel spent Sunday here with her sister.

Mrs. Narsworthy, of Dawson, Ga., was the guest of her daughter, Florence.

Miss Frances Burghard, of Macon, was at G. S. C. last Sunday.

Social News

CABINET AND COMMISSION ENTERTAIN FACULTY

On Saturday, September 3, each member of the faculty received the following invitation: "When Monday rolls around, if you are still in town; Delighted would be the bunch To have you in for lunch. By 'bunch' we wish to imply; Cabinet and Commission 'Y.'"

The guests assembled in the parlors of Terrell Hall and were ushered to the dining room by members of Cabinet and Commission. The dining room was beautifully decorated to carry out the color scheme of blue and white, "Y" colors. The tables were arranged in the shape of two triangles, each table having as a central decoration, a vase of pink roses. Ferns on pedestals were placed at intervals about the room.

A delightful three-course luncheon was served by members of the social committee. The menu was as follows: Fruit Cocktail, Olives, Chicken Salad, Ice Cream, Pickles, Sliced Tomatoes, Cheese Balls, Sandwiches, Celery, Cake.

Y. W. ENTERTAINS.

On Saturday evening, September 19, the "old" girls entertained the "new" with a radio party. It was attended by one thousand girls and members of the faculty.

The party was planned by the social committee of Y. W. C. A., to whom the credit for the originality and success is due. Terrell Hall porch was attractively arranged to represent a living room where a number of G. S. C. graduates were having tea. They tuned in and "caught" G. S. C. The program consisted of talks by Miss Goodson and Cliff Taylor, music by the Jolly Stroumblers, a solo by Mary Hyman and the weather forecast. Two readings were given by Virginia McMichael and an enjoyable evening came to an end with an original bed-time story read by Ellen McKee.

WITH RADIO PARTY

As night fell we gathered on the hillside for the most interesting part of the evening. A huge bon fire was built by members of the faculty and the class president. Dr. Parks led us in singing his favorites, and impromptu speeches were given by Miss Andrews, Dr. Beeson, Mr. Warnock, Mr. Harding, Dr. Daniel and Mr. Scott.

Misses Mary Hyman and Ethelyn Averett sang two solos for us; the Coveta County girls presented a stunt; the senior degrees sang several peppy songs, and lastly numerous cheers and yells were sung to Dr. Parks, the faculty, the hike, and the different classes.

The bon fire, this sunset, the stars, the crowd, the kindness of Dr. Parks—all made us join enthusiastically in singing "A Perfect Day."

OPEN HOUSE ENJOYED BY STUDENTS.

On Wednesday, September 16, the Y. W. C. A. held open house in the "Y" room. One was able to stop there at any time during the day, drink a cup of delicious punch, and talk with the many friends one might find there.

The social committees assisted by the Cabinet members received and welcomed the guests. One does not always find there the bowl of punch, but always the same friendly spirit and hearty welcome. It is truly the "home" of the Y. W. C. A. and every day in the week is "open house" to everyone.

THE FRESHMEN GO SHOPPING

The bell sounded through the dormitory and almost simultaneously doors opened and girls rushed out of their rooms into the halls and down the stairs. It wasn't a fire or even a fire drill but girls still rushed on! At the front of the building, partners filed in line behind partners and with the chaperon leading, the Freshmen started to town for the first shopping expedition.

With hats arranged becomingly on the short hair, uniforms spotlessly new, and with faces bright with the anticipation of a new experience, the Freshmen enter Mr. E. E. Bell's. From the time the first letter of instruction had reached them this summer, telling them to order the uniform here, the girls looked forward to visiting this store.

Some of the girls expressed bitter disappointment in finding "Bell's" Dry Goods Store" just like any store at home. They had pictured this huge store decorated with college uniforms, sweaters, college pennants, pillows and memory books. They found all these things but they still looked as if they would like for everything to be on display in "sale style."

Among other lines of girls in brown, the girls visit Wooten's Book Store. Post-card views of Milledgeville, mechanical drawing paper, G. S. C. stationery and other articles were added to their purchases.

Grocery stores are the last to be visited. With pickles, candies, olives and crackers, and other indigestible school girl delicacies added to their list, they turn homeward.

STUDENT BODY GUESTS OF PRESIDENT

The thrill that comes once in a year—the annual hike! The entire campus was in a state of delight when Dr. Parks announced at luncheon Monday, October 5, that we should assemble at four o'clock, in front of Terrell Hall, to start on the Annual Hike. Everybody was on time, in line, full of pep, ready to hike. The faculty, matrons, and entire student body, were invited as guests of Dr. Parks.

In groups of two's the long line of uniform girls marched. Just at the edge of town, the fun began. All along the way, there were sub-stations attended by degree seniors and student assistants, who served dainties. There were juicy pears, chocolate bars, grapes, crackers, jaw breakers, chocolate kisses, fun, and laughter all along the way until "The Meadow" was reached. When we got there there was more fun than ever—walking across the Oconee river, playing in the sand, talking, sitting, singing, and playing.

When we were all rested we found our line again and were served delicious cookies and iced drinks—then to the weiner stand where each girl was given a couple of rolls and weiners, a glass of iced punch. After this we were given apples, and ice cream.

As night fell we gathered on the hillside for the most interesting part of the evening. A huge bon fire was built by members of the faculty and the class president.

Dr. Parks led us in singing his favorites, and impromptu speeches were given by Miss Andrews, Dr. Beeson, Mr. Warnock, Mr. Harding, Dr. Daniel and Mr. Scott.

Misses Mary Hyman and Ethelyn Averett sang two solos for us; the Coveta County girls presented a stunt; the senior degrees sang several peppy songs, and lastly numerous cheers and yells were sung to Dr. Parks, the faculty, the hike, and the different classes.

The bon fire, this sunset, the stars, the crowd, the kindness of Dr. Parks—all made us join enthusiastically in singing "A Perfect Day."

THE NEW CHIMNEY

It stands out against the sky—a sentinel to progress. You have seen its clear outline against the blue background, and have marveled at its simple beauty, as you pass near it on the back campus. Calm and dignified, it watches in the daytime, while in the night—the moonlight casts its partial light over a light-house shrouded with romance.

And still it stands, through all, a silent monument of a great work, the growth and development of a great institution of learning—an embodiment of the work of a great man.

Wesleyan College was the joint reception given to the freshmen by the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Government Association, which took place Saturday evening, September 19.

The social event of the week at Wesleyan College was the joint reception given to the freshmen by the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Government Association, which took place Saturday evening, September 19.

We are deeply appreciative of the hearty support given by our advertisers to the first issue of The Colonnade. We want to make The Colonnade of the largest possible interest and service to G. S. C. women everywhere. And we want to hand back to our cooperative merchants and subscribers their interests in our paper by patronizing them.

We print the subscribers below to show our appreciation and to promise our support: Doone's Pharmacy, Chandler Brothers, Eberhardt's Studio, Baldwin Hotel, Stanley's Hat Shop, Frasley's Pharmacy, Culver and Kidd Drug Co., Bell Grocery Co., Williams and Ritchie, Jewelers, E. E. Bell, Jones Drug Store, M. F. Davis, Stenbridge and Co., Lee's Dept. Store, Roger's Grocery, Manhattan Fruit Company, Union Recorder, R. H. Wooten's, Chandler's 5 and 10 cent Store, Milledgeville Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Miss Rosabell Burch, '25, of Augusta, is a member of the G. S. C. W. Household Science Faculty.

The melancholy days have come And we are on the blink; How can we fill this colyum up When it's too hot to think?—Ex.

PLACE YOUR COLONNADE SUBSCRIPTION TODAY

Sara D. Jordan, President of the Normal Senior Class of '25 has accepted a position in Stone Mountain, Ga., her home town.

ALUMNAE SUPPORT THE COLONNADE

College Papers To Be Exchange Medium

For a number of years there has been developing on the G. S. C. W. campus a great need for a college publication. Now that the time has come, in the progress of the college, a paper is being launched. It is the purpose of The Colonnade to reflect the character of the college. However it could not survive if no need existed or if it failed to fulfill that need. The Colonnade shall endeavor to do this; it shall strive to become a means of bringing about a closer association of the Alumnae, with each other, with the student body, the faculty, and the various college activities.

The success of the Colonnade is foretold but with the support of such loyal Alumnae its future is an established fact. It is not necessary however, to say the greater the support the more worth while the paper. School spirit and associations, need never end with such a connecting link as a good college paper.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Brenau students, after a period of several years, have again instituted for the Sunday evening program, the lowering of the flag at sunset. They march out singing "America" from a circle around the flag pole, and stand at attention as the bugle sounds retreat and the flag is lowered.

North Georgia Agricultural College, after having elected a new president, is swiftly regaining the ground lost during the last administration, and the outlook is said to be extremely promising.

About four hundred co-eds have chosen the University of Georgia as their "Alma Mater" this term. Their number has steadily increased since the University was first made co-educational.

It is said that a new addition has been added to the University of Florida by the way of 800 freshmen.

Mercer's enrollment is the largest in the history of the college, and from all reports, a great many of the members appear on the campus "almost" bald.

The social event of the week at Wesleyan College was the joint reception given to the freshmen by the Y. W. C. A. and the Student Government Association, which took place Saturday evening, September 19.

The steamer "Montt Clay," which is to take the students around the world on the educational trip, is sponsored by the New York University. The announcement is now made that date for registration has been extended to September 21 and the sailing date from New York, is November 7. This change of date will mean arriving home about July 1, 1926.

JOYCLIFFE HOUSE PARTY PROVES SUCCESS

Cabinet Members Attend.

The summer brought its regular rounds of visits and house parties, but the summer of 1925 saw the first house party put on by the "Y" cabinet. It was held at Joycliffe, seven miles from Macon. It began on the afternoon of September, eleventh until the afternoon of September fourteenth, when all had to turn their sun-burned faces once more "Milledgevilleward." But these faces were smiling and happy because the cabinet girls, with Miss Goodson, had accomplished the aims they had in view when they went out to Joycliffe.

This was not an ordinary house party for you see it had more than one aim, that of having a good time. Added to this general aim of a few days packed full of fun, were the more serious desires to become better acquainted and to plan the work for the "Y" for the coming year. You see both of these will be beneficial to the student body. The cabinet girls have been banded together with a spirit of sisterhood with a common purpose of offering their best in the services of the "Y" by planning the work that is to be done before hand difficulties were foreseen, and swept away, and greater possibilities appeared and were considered.

Questions vital to the life of every girl on the campus, were presented and discussed. A realization of the needs of the student body was brought about by this frank, open exchange of ideas, and a determination was found to meet these needs. Joycliffe, you know, lives up to its name. Hills, covered with trees, surround the bluff, itself, with its rustic log cabins. The bluff overlooks the lake, where of course, swimming and rowing were a daily pastime. And the air—ask some girl how it felt in the early hours of the morning!

The glorious part of the house party was the companionship it afforded. Evenings on the hillside, songs and stories made old friends become more closely drawn together. Slight acquaintances did not remain so long as they lived together striving for service. Personalities met, exchanged ideas and came away richer, broader, and more powerful.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Colonnade is striving to be a definite medium of interest between alumnae and the present student body. For this reason each edition will contain news concerning girls who have graduated from G. S. C. W. The news in this issue deals chiefly with the more recent graduates, but in the future, members of every class will receive mention. The staff urges your cooperation in this matter.

Waynesboro, Ga., is to have several G. S. C. alumnae as faculty members for the coming year. They are Josephine Sibley, '24 of Augusta; Helen Stenbridge, '23 and '25, of Waynesboro; Julia Bowen, '24, of Waynesboro; Mary Hatcher, '23 of Waynesboro; Gene Lansdell, '24 of Harlem; Mohala Butts, of Benua Vista.

Lavinia Tyler, '23, A. B. '25, is attending Columbia University.

Lila Mills has moved from Collins to Miami, Fla., where she is connected with the Cushman Private School.

Evelyn Northcutt is a member of the Domestic Science faculty of Winston-Salem, N. C. Dorothy Miller is also teaching music there.

Colene Reed of Symrna, has accepted a position in the high school of her home town.

Willie Mae Carmichael, '25 of Symna is teaching in the Atlanta school system.

Rome, Ga., has, as faculty members this year, Annie Sue Griffith, Mary Griffin and Mildred Davis, all of Rome.

Mary Wise of Sandersville is at Piedmont Hospital taking a course in Dietetics.

Jewell Youmans, B. S. '25 is head of the Home Economics Department at Vidalia, Ga.

Dorothy Morgan is teaching in Columbus.

Lottie Moning Curl, B. S. '25, has accepted a position in the school at Adel, Ga.

Inez Woodall, '23 of Atlanta, will teach there this year.

Boogie Watson and Sara McElroy, '25 have accepted positions in the Macon public schools.

Lucile Wheeler is private secretary to Mr. A. M. Douglas.

Frances Stubbs is Librarian and a member of the English Faculty of State Normal, Statesboro, Ga. Frances was president of the Senior Degree class of '25.

Mary Collins, B. S., '25, teaches English in Douglas High School.

Frances Barnes has accepted a position in the High School of her home town, Comer, Ga.

Louise Keith, Mamie Reeves and Olive Robinson are employed in the Nelson grammar schools.

Sally Powell, "The Songbird of G. S. C.," '25 is teaching voice as Prosperito, S. C.

Melvina Trussel is head of the Chemistry and Household Science departments at State Normal, Statesboro, Ga.

Blanche Harrison of Augusta, Catherine Whiteside, of Cartersville, and Alice Vernon Smith of Tennille, all members of class of '24, are teaching at Maryland, Tenn.

Lucy Hendley has a position in the schools of Fulton County. Deryl Clark is spending the winter at her home in Blythe, Ga.

JOYCLIFFE HOUSE PARTY PROVES SUCCESS

Cabinet Members Attend.

The summer brought its regular rounds of visits and house parties, but the summer of 1925 saw the first house party put on by the "Y" cabinet. It was held at Joycliffe, seven miles from Macon. It began on the afternoon of September, eleventh until the afternoon of September fourteenth, when all had to turn their sun-burned faces once more "Milledgevilleward." But these faces were smiling and happy because the cabinet girls, with Miss Goodson, had accomplished the aims they had in view when they went out to Joycliffe.

This was not an ordinary house party for you see it had more than one aim, that of having a good time. Added to this general aim of a few days packed full of fun, were the more serious desires to become better acquainted and to plan the work for the "Y" for the coming year. You see both of these will be beneficial to the student body. The cabinet girls have been banded together with a spirit of sisterhood with a common purpose of offering their best in the services of the "Y" by planning the work that is to be done before hand difficulties were foreseen, and swept away, and greater possibilities appeared and were considered.

Questions vital to the life of every girl on the campus, were presented and discussed. A realization of the needs of the student body was brought about by this frank, open exchange of ideas, and a determination was found to meet these needs. Joycliffe, you know, lives up to its name. Hills, covered with trees, surround the bluff, itself, with its rustic log cabins. The bluff overlooks the lake, where of course, swimming and rowing were a daily pastime. And the air—ask some girl how it felt in the early hours of the morning!

The glorious part of the house party was the companionship it afforded. Evenings on the hillside, songs and stories made old friends become more closely drawn together. Slight acquaintances did not remain so long as they lived together striving for service. Personalities met, exchanged ideas and came away richer, broader, and more powerful.

We are deeply appreciative of the hearty support given by our advertisers to the first issue of The Colonnade. We want to make The Colonnade of the largest possible interest and service to G. S. C. women everywhere. And we want to hand back to our cooperative merchants and subscribers their interests in our paper by patronizing them.

We print the subscribers below to show our appreciation and to promise our support: Doone's Pharmacy, Chandler Brothers, Eberhardt's Studio, Baldwin Hotel, Stanley's Hat Shop, Frasley's Pharmacy, Culver and Kidd Drug Co., Bell Grocery Co., Williams and Ritchie, Jewelers, E. E. Bell, Jones Drug Store, M. F. Davis, Stenbridge and Co., Lee's Dept. Store, Roger's Grocery, Manhattan Fruit Company, Union Recorder, R. H. Wooten's, Chandler's 5 and 10 cent Store, Milledgeville Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Miss Rosabell Burch, '25, of Augusta, is a member of the G. S. C. W. Household Science Faculty.

The melancholy days have come And we are on the blink; How can we fill this colyum up When it's too hot to think?—Ex.

PLACE YOUR COLONNADE SUBSCRIPTION TODAY

Sara D. Jordan, President of the Normal Senior Class of '25 has accepted a position in Stone Mountain, Ga., her home town.

Manhattan Fruit Co.

Hancock St.

Hot Lunches, Hamburgers, Weiners, Coffee and Soft Drinks. All Kinds of Fruit in Season. Polite Service—Come and Satisfy Your Appetite. Call 296.

BURKE & TUCKER

LEE'S DEPT. STORE

The Home of Popular Merchandise and Popular Prices

Buying from a Lee Store is a Sound Economic Policy

FOR THE LADIES

Fine Silk Hosiery, Dorothy Dodd Shoes, Notions

M. F. DAVIS

104 West Hancock St.

—CALL AT— ROGER'S

GROCERY and

Save on every dollar

BOONE'S PHARMACY

Welcome G. S. C. W. Students To Our Store A full line of Toilet Articles Your business appreciated. Call us when we can serve you. 896 Day Phone Night Phone 117-J Home of Whitman Candies

FROWNS REMOVED Quickly by Buying at

CULVER & KIDD DRUG CO.

JONES DRUG STORE

Quality Service Satisfied Customers PHONE 111

Union Recorder

QUALITY PRINTING "Quality and Service Our Motto"

—ASK THE OLD GIRLS— They Know

Jokes

"Say man, is that the moon rising over there?" "Really I don't know. I'm a stranger here myself."

Unexpected

Policeman—Well, how did you come to get hit by the automobile? Rube in N. Y.—I didn't come to get hit by the automobile! I come to see my nephew.

He—How do you like my mustache? She (demurely)—Just between you and me, I like it.

A Real Sport

"Oh, George, is it really a diamond?" "By gosh! If it ain't, I'm out four bits."

Teacher—"Who can tell me what a post office is?"

Jonny—"A place where a Scotchman fills his fountain pen."

Hymen the Realist

Harriet—"I don't believe in long engagements, do you?"

Harry—"Sure; why shouldn't a young couple be happy as long as they can?"—Notre Dame Juggler.

The Proper Spirit

Daughter—Yes, mother; Albert did kiss me last night, but I sure sat on him for it.—Stanford Chaparral.

The Worst Yet

Absent minded Professors meeting his son—"Hello, George, how's your father?"—Harvard Lampoon.

So He Did

Sunday School Teacher—"Johnny, can you tell me who built the ark?" Johnny—"Naw." S. S. T.—"Correct."—Penn Punch Bowl.

Howdy!

"What do you say to a spin?" "Hello, old top."

CLASS ROOM BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION

Continued from first page

front of this building is the long cement walk. This adds effectiveness to the outer appearance of the building.

There are twenty-four class rooms in this building and classes have already been meeting in them. This structure will be completed in a very short while.

Work has already begun on the new auditorium and will be pushed forward as soon as the class room building is completed. The auditorium will be ready for use about the first of the year.

In addition to these new edifices, a new boiler room is being erected back of Terrell Annex C. This will greatly improve the heating facilities of the entire college.

STEMBRIDGE & CO. School Supplies

Variety Merchandise Phone 352-J

OLD GIRLS GREET FRESHMEN

Continued from first page

our first contact with G. S. C. W.

We welcome you with fine enthusiasm and eager anticipation! Never in the history of the world was there greater opportunity for students of science and art—and we congratulate you on your choice of college.

EDITH FLETCHER, President Sophomore Class, '25.

Freshmen, welcome! You're coming to a college of ideals and accomplishments which cannot be surpassed; and it is because of you that we shall become bigger and better. You come with new thoughts, new plans, high aspirations, and a supply of energy, which if directed in the right channels, will lead to greater things for you and for G. S. C. W.

We have looked forward with eagerness to the time when with hands outstretched we could greet you and say that one word which embodies a world of sympathetic understanding, a score of amusing incidents to tell you, a number of unwritten rules to impress upon you with all fun and seriousness; it is a word which means that we're glad to see you—"Welcome!" Freshmen.

ELIZABETH GREEN, President Freshman Class, '25.

So this is college! Yes 'tis Freshman dear, and we'd like to be among the first to tell you "Howdy Folks!" You've heard that line of a little poem, "When a hand is on your shoulder in a friendly sort of way?" Well, our hand is on your shoulder, because you see, we're your big sisters.

We want you to feel that we're standing by you, and when you need us we're so glad we can help a wee bit.

Welcome! Welcome! to everything here in our college, but best of all to your very own.

Y. W. C. A., Cliff Taylor, President.

DEGREE SENIORS ELECT OFFICERS

Continued from first page and the matrons had approved when the class officers met with them. It was made clear that only those who were on the Senior Honor roll would be granted the privileges. Those present who would seriously accept the responsibility of self-government indicated this by signing their names.

At Chapel, Wednesday, self-government was formally presented. The Seniors gave a program which consisted of singing the class song and short talks made by the class officers. This important ceremony was closed by Dr. Parks.

Miss Ina Padgett visited her sister, Miss Mamie Padgett here prior to her return to Columbia University where she is assisting Dr. Sherman.

Greetings G.S.C. Girls

We Sell the best Which Costs You Less

Chandler's Grocery

FACULTY CORPS INCREASED

Continued from first page

lumbia University.

Miss Rosabell Burch, arecent graduate is a member of the faculty this year. Miss Burch is teaching in the Domestic Science department.

Miss Jehnella Camp of Newnan, a former graduate of the College, is assistant instructor in Mathematics.

Terrell Annex A has a new matron, Mrs. Kaiser, sister of Mrs. J. T. Dixon, matron of Terrell Hall.

Mrs. Boza McKinney, of Birmingham, now in charge of the dining room in Terrell Hall B.

Mrs. M. M. Martin of Leesburg, another graduate of the College, is assistant matron and is located at Horne House.

Miss Sara Jordan, who was head of the Bookkeeping Dept. in the Richard J. Reynolds High School, Winston-Salem, N. C., is assisting in the President's office.

Miss Mildred Wright has returned to assist in the offices of the registrar and the bookkeeper.

Miss Ernestine Bqineare is assistant to the Registrar.

Miss Bailey is Assistant Prof. of Art. She is a graduate of Pratt Institute in New York, and has studied in France, in which country she taught Art this past summer.

Miss Sallie Brooks is an additional assistant in the Domestic Science Dept. She is a graduate of this College and also of Peabody College.

In addition to these G. S. C. W. Gladly welcomes Miss Rogers, who has resumed her work here, after a year's leave of absence, which she spent traveling abroad.

Also, Miss Johnson returned to us as Dr. Johnson, having lately received her Ph. D. from Chicago University.

SOPH. COMMISSION BEGINS YEAR RIGHT

Continued from first page

Ledbetter, president; Lorene Brown, vice-president Annie Laurie Godbee, secretary; Lucile Scroggins, treasurer. Each girl was given a definite responsibility, that of being sub-chairman of the various committees to work with her respective chairman and with other members of the committee.

Sophomore Commission links the sophomore and two year normal classes with "Y." But, that isn't all; commissioners want to work for and with the senior, junior, and freshman classes.

They returned to the campus early, got right down to business, and will continue to work throughout the year. During the weeks and months that we spend together, they want to share with us in our school work, our social life, and our spiritual life.

Let's know them every one and come into personal relationship with them, realizing that they are not a group of girls off to themselves, doing nothing but meeting, meeting all the time, but that they are just a part of our campus.

QUICK HOME CONNECTIONS Through MILLEDGEVILLE TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CO.

Phone 499

Williams & Ritchie

JEWELERS

MILLEDGEVILLE, GA.

EBERHART'S STUDIO

24 HOUR SERVICE

LEAVE YOUR KODAKS TODAY

CALL TOMORROW

AT 6:30

BALDWIN HOTEL

CATERING TO THE COLLEGE

TRADE

FOR CHIC AND SMARTNESS

VISIT

Stanley's Bonnet Shop

Visit Our Special Sale

Of Van Roalte Silk Underwear

and Silk Hosiery

NEW STYLES AND COLORINGS

E. E. BELL

Come Buy

CHANDLER'S

5c and 10c STORE

The home of Novelties

R. H. WOOTTEN'S

Book Store—Headquarters For G. S. C. W. Girls

Our ne wstock of Books, Stationery, Fountain Pens, Tennis Balls, and Racquets and Gift Novelties now on exhibition. We are always happy to serve you.

Bell Grocery Co.

Wholesale and Retail

Potato Chips—Gelfand's Relish

Mayonaise—Merita Bread

Cakes—Salted Peanuts

Fancy Groceries, Assorted Candies

263 PHONES 498

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

Enclosed find $1.00 for which please send me "The Colonnade" for one year.

Name

Address

P. O.

Date

WELCOME TO ALL STUDENTS

New Friends: We are glad to see you—Old Friends: We are glad you are Back. Old Friends 'Hurry Back' with New Friends to

Fraleys Pharmacy

Phone 115 Phone 118