ANNUAL HIKE HUGE SUCCESS

Students Tramp to Bonner's Pasture for Annual Outing. Gala Program Enjoyed

Tramp, tramp, tramp!! 'Tis the day of the great G. S. C. special, it ranks with fall holidays, it recalls Thanksgiving and it is even spoken of in the same sentence with Christmas, it is the day of the wonderful annual hike!! New girls look forward to it, old girls rave about it and outside girls wish they were in on the fun.

The usual spot of gathering is in the pasture across the river, but due to the large amount of rain this fall, and the fact that the river rose, we had our hike in a new place—out by the Central depot. It made us all homesick when we remembered that fall holidays were not as far off as they were last June we immediately cheered up again.

Food! you never saw the like!! Seventeen stations!! They should have carried Miss Thomas and Dr. Hall along to act as an honorary escort. Some of the girls were in need of them—and we wonder why too, they only ate popcorn, dates, candy, grapes, peanuts, marshmallows, two sandwiches, drank two glasses of punch and only one dope. Looks like their tummys would be good sports on the day of the annual hike and not play them a dirty trick, doesn't it? Anyway some of them did—we saw several looking all pale and uncomfortable like.

The food was good enough, but what came afterwards was much better. The barn fire was beautiful, but who saw the barn fire when they gergous October harvest moon was shining like nobody's business?

Mrs. Hines was a scream. Mr. White needs a medal and three cheers for Mr. Wynn and his fibbing speech. Did you know we had such talented people teaching us?

However, the faculty stunt fought us all back to earth. We saw our professors grow young again.

Who would have suspected the brilliance that lay behind these calm faces we see before us each day? Thus you see the annual hike is educational as well as fattening. And why shouldn't it be educational, everything else here is supposed to be, even the very air you breathe my dear child, is laden with knowledge—at least we suspect it is.

But anyway, isn't the annual hike fun?

COUNTIES REPRESENTED IN CHAPEL EXERCISE

Chapel exercise, Saturday, October 13, was in charge of girls from Barrow, Brooks, and Ben Hill counties.

Alice L. McCormick of Fitzgerald led the devotional.

The other girls taking part on the program were Katherine Fletcher of Fitzgerald, Edna Mahley of Fitzgerald, Marion Riegan of Quitman, Virginia Hall of Fitzgerald, Nell Carroll of Windey, and Margaret Nixon of Fitzgerald.

Lyceum Announced by Professor Thaxton

EDUCATION CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Dr. Webber Presides at First Meeting on October 9th. Next Meeting on October 22

A new club has been formed on the campus for those interested in education, psychology, and philosophy. The club is under the direction of the members of the faculty of the Education department.

The first meeting was held for the purpose of organization Wednesday, October 9, in Dr. Webber's classroom. Dr. Webber presided at this meeting. In a short talk he spoke of the purpose of the club as being to foster a greater interest in the fields of education, psychology and philosophy.

Thirty-seven charter members were enrolled.

A constitution committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. Miss Bolton was made chairman of this committee. Others appointed were, Misses Daughtry, McClendon, Keanan, Jordan, and English.

A program committee was appointed to arrange a program for the next meeting. Those on this committee are Dr. Meadows, Mr. Thaxton, Dr. Webber, and Miss Hightower.

Miss Ruth Stone was made temporary secretary.

The membership of the club is limited to the members of the faculty in the Education Department, the seniors and juniors majoring or minoring in Education and later probably to sophomores interested in the field.

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday, October the 22nd. In this meeting the organization will be completed.

Y.W.C.A. HOLDS RECOGNITION SERVICES OCTOBER 6TH

Beautiful Service Impresses Students
Willie Baker Program Committee Chairman

The recognition service for Y. W. C. A. membership was held in the auditorium Sunday evening, October 6. This is one of the most beautiful services through out the year, and it has been said that students remember it longer than any other they ever attend.

The worship service was the central theme at vespers taking its beginning from the part each individual play in a group organization. Annie Joe Maye, vice-president, led the devotional. Willie Baker, chairman of the program committee made quite an inspirational talk applying the ideals of chivalry to present every day conduct. In the ceremony that followed Robbie McClendon, president, received the light from the association flame held by Miss Annie Moore Daughtry, general secretary, who in turn lighted the candles of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and they lighted the candles of the entire membership present at vespers. Milledred O'Neal sang a solo.

STRONG COURSE WITH VARIETY

Merchant of Venice Opens Season. Musical Numbers Bring Fine Artists Here

Mr. O. A. Thaxton

Our college has always realized that an education from books only was not a complete education, and has endeavored to provide for our students a series of entertainments under the name of Lyceum Course. In order to furnish a variety of worthwhile attractions, it is necessary for us to study the entire Lyceum field and select a combination of numbers that will be entertaining, instructive, and uplifting. This year we are fortunate in securing an exceptionally strong course. An investigation of the numbers offered will show that different interests are provided for.

Those musically inclined will enjoy "Schutz Concert Company," which is composed of a group of superb concert singers. The selections rendered will be solos, duets, and quartets. These are all taken from better composers. Their program is well balanced, and the singers are well trained. Another musical number is "The Mulvaney Concert Company," consisting of five artists. Their program consists of quartets, trios, duets, and solos. In the concert a number of interesting comedy numbers are included. The second part of the program contains numbers from the latest musical comedies given in the costumes used in these shows. The Russian Cossack Chorus will appear as a special number. This is a group of Russian singers directed by one of the most famous artists. Their selection are well chosen from Russian and other European composers. The advance notices of this company promise one of the finest musical evenings of the year. This number will be an extra number, but holders of Lyceum tickets will be entitled to a reduction in price.

Those interested in plays will enjoy the Avon Players, who present "The Merchant of Venice." This company is composed of actors of prominence, and they have received many congratulations on their success with this noted play. The Bellharz company will present a three act comedy, "The Big Pond." This company is composed of New York artists, and this is their third appearance here. The play is a gay and diverting comedy, rompingly delightful, and ingeniously amusing. The third play is "A Message from Mars." This company has also been here before and their number for this season is one that will entertain and thrill. This company is composed of talented actors, and it will be a real treat and inspiration to those who are present.

We are not neglecting the lecture features and have chosen three lecturers. The first one is Dr. John Murray, the head of a college in England, an educator of prominence, and a former member of the British Parliament. He will bring a message from the old world and will discuss some of the problems confronting the English speaking peoples of today Count Luckner, a famous character in the World War, will be with us and will tell his part in that great conflict. This is an amazing tale of adventure and one that will be long remembered by those who hear it. Dr. Pillsbury, a naturalist and educator and scientist, will give a lecture on nature, using moving pictures and slides. He will portray some of the hidden secrets of nature and will explain the use of modern science in investigation and discovery. Zollner impersonator and characterist, will give us an evening of impersonation and reading. He is one of the most prominent men in this field and his appearance will be of pleasure and of profit to all. Von Calio will be our magician this year. Not only will he entertain with magic, but he will give us an evening of magic and music. He is unique and extraordinary in his manner and presentation.

In addition to these numbers given above, there will be two other numbers. It is impossible to say just

LYCEUM SEASON OPENS FRIDAY 18

Merchant of Venice Presented by Avon Players Before Full House Friday Night

The Merchant of Venice was presented to a full house by the Avon Players in the auditorium of the Georgia State College for Women on the evening of Friday, October 18. The drama appeared under the auspices of the G. S. C. W. Lyceum committee.

Masterly interpretation of character marked the entire performance. In the role of "Shylock" Mr. Frederick G. Lewis was superb. His unusual ability and the vitality of his acting place him foremost among the exponents of Shakespearean and classic drama.

As "Portia," Miss Alma Baker gave a splendid interpretation of character. She is young actress of unusual talent.

Harold Selman deserves praise for his realistic impersonation of "Lancelot Gabbro." He added a lively touch to the drama.

Although she is the youngest member of the cast, Margot Semmes displayed extraordinary dramatic ability.

Joseph Selman was excellent in the role of Bassanio. His performance was most creditable.

The role of Nerrissa was splendidly enacted by Majory Dunaway.

Other member of the cast worthy of note include Robert Selman, as "Lorenzo"; Eugenie DuBois, as "Balthazar"; William G. Calvin, as "Tubal"; James Conrad, as "Duke of Venice"; Roderick Keroma, as "Prince of Morocco"; Kenneth Mackenzie, as "Antonio"; Frank Lester, as "Salarino"; Lathrop Mitchell, as "Salanio"; Roy Pelton as "Gabbo"; Harold Scott, as "Gratiano"; and Edward Smith as "Leonards."

The success of the performance was due not only to the artistry of the acting but also to the scenery, and the elaborate costumes.

G. S. C. W.
For The Alumnae

THE ALUMNAE
For G. S. C. W.

THE ALUMNAE COMMITTEE

The Alumnae who have gone before us love the Y. W. C. A. We realize that it is because of their wonderful work, high purposes, and ideals that we have the heritage which is ours in the Young Women's Christian Association on our campus. The organization as we have it today is a powerful and far-reaching force. Its roots are deep. It lends encouragement and inspiration to every girl at G. S. C. W. This would not be true if those before us had not put themselves into it as we are doing now. Realizing and appreciating these facts as we do, we want to keep the Alumnae in touch with the activities and growth of the Y. W. C. A.

On Thanksgiving morning, when the Alumnae have "come home," we are planning to have a service in the auditorium at nine-thirty, where we as students and Alumnae, may worship together. We want to give thanks for what G. S. C. W. and the Y. have meant, and are meaning, in making possible for us a "fuller and more creative life."

Again, at Commencement time just at the twilight hour, we will come together to worship in a Vesper service.

The Alumnae Committee is composed of the following girls: Lella Herrmann, Sandersville; Grace Whigham, Thomasville; Frances Matthews, Toccoa; Ruth Lord, Jefferson; Josephine Pritchett, Griffin; Mae Sheppard, Atlanta; Una Violet Umphrey, Havana, Fla.; Evelyn Redfern, Pavo; Mildred Butler, Cairo, Sub-Chairman; Paunee Ribbsby, Cairo, Chairman. This committee is ready and eager to help in everything the Alumnae on our campus undertake—whether it be tea room, presenting a play, or any other activity. We want to be the connecting link between the present student body and those who have gone before.

THE SEASONS

WINTER

Bleak, bare trees silhouetted against a dull grey sky with low hanging clouds; Smoke curling heavenward from a cottage chimney; A flurry of snow flakes falling on the white eart. No sounds save the swish of the snow; no color. A study in grey and white, Winter. SPRING Willow trees weeping beside a brook; A blue bird calling his mate; A tuft of green grass drinking April rain; Deep blue violets nestled in the cool Mother Earth. Sounds of rain and bird notes; Fresh colors of green and blue. Life beginning. SUMMER A warm starry night and a full grown moon; A garden where velvety roses scent the air;

Nature, the greatest Artist, has again given us a masterpiece of color and design to be placed in the Art Gallery of the ages. With her magic brush, October, she has splashed the canvas of the world with her paints of many colors, and transformed the world into a veritable Gypsy land.

As leaves of red, green, brown, orange and yellow are wafted downward from the trees, they resemble a drift of holiday clothes. Silently and lightly they fall and make a coverlet of rare pattern for Mother Earth. There they give back to Mother Earth the substance of which she formed them a few months ago, that in another beautiful season, Spring, other like them may brighten our world.

Beautiful flowers, rich in color and perfume grace this masterpiece of painting. Sacks of hay, red apples, yellow pumpkins and crimson berries have their places also.

Blue, blue skies, and fields white with cotton make the picture complete, satisfying. Nature, the artist with whom no human dares compete has again won glory and fame.

A trickling fountain composing mystic music; A man and a maid. Sounds of a murmuring fountain; the silver of moonbeams and the soft tints of June roses. The time of Romance. Summer.

AUTUMN

Trees dressed like Indian princesses with their crimson, yellow, orange, and brown; Bread fields stacked with sheaves of wheat; Pumpkins grinning at the golden Harvest Moon. Sounds of rustling leaves and the wind in the wheat; the rich, gay colors of The Harvest. Autumn.

—THE CORINTHIAN.

WINTER

Stark trees 'gainst a cold, grey sky Stir the spirit's restless wings; Dead leaves on the frozen sod Cringe as the chill wind sings. Bleak hills; from a silhouette, Behind them the setting sun— Snow flakes fall from the clouds Just as the day is done. They steadily fall through the night, And when the day dawns clear, Dead leaves and stark trees are white As the wings of an angel fair. The heart finds contest at the sight, Sweet peace envelops the soul.

CLIFFORD GIGNILLIANT.

SILVER MOON FARIES

The silver moon came out one night To view a lovely beautiful sight. The fairies small had come to play, To romp, to dance, the night away. The queen so airy and so sweet Held sway with wand, ah, so petite. They gaily skipped 'til morning bright And vanished with the dawning light.

ELEANOR OLIFF.

"There are more things in Heaven and earth," said Hamlet but he and we find, to our sorrow, that some information is misinformation.

We, the Alumnae Association of the Georgia State College for Women, are editing a new bulletin of our graduates. We entered the lists of the work light heartedly. Now after a week's efforts, we feel that years have rolled by, that we are buried under a deluge of names, and that few in Georgia know where they went to College.

Our first step in our gigantic task was to go to the students for aid. We went where we knew we could get it and we did. Our College has become a family affair. There are more than fifty daughters of graduates at present in our classes. There are sisters, aunts, cousins, and "in laws" more than we could count. And there are numberless friends of our present student body, who graduated here in the past.

We have checked through hundreds of names and we hope we have not missed any. In our files is a "Port of Missing Persons" and there we put the names of those who from 1889 to 1929 seem never appeared on a graduating list. We have a "lost" niche and a "found" one and there is great rejoicing when a name can be transferred from the first to the second.

Do you remember others? Please students, write home and ask for this information from you "home folks." Help us to make this bulletin accurate and complete.

The Alumnae Association will have charge of the tea room every Friday afternoon. Students and faculty members are cordially invited to come.

FRESHMAN LOVE

Along about this time of every college year students of fellowmen and lovers of big words have a wonderful opportunity to observe what might be called a psychological phenomenon. Members of the freshman class can be caught wearing that far away look that can mean but one of two things—either he has indigestion or else he is in love. And since food at Judd hall is well prepared it follows by the process of elimination that the freshman involved must be at least mildly infatuated with some member of the "Dear, inconsistent sex."

To the lonesome and home-sick freshman the friend of his high school days suddenly becomes the girl of his dream—veritably a pal after his own heart. Then follows an exchange of letters with sundry quotations about distance lending enchantment, and absence making the heart grow fonder. Tell such a freshman that, after all, "Love is nothing but the biological urge with a little sentimentality thrown over it" and he will laugh at you for your ignorance of the celestial bliss that he enjoys. His soul is riding on the wings of the morning into realms of sheer delight. His head is bumping against the skies. In his mind a break with "The Girl" would be infinitely worse than anything Death has to offer.

Nor does the cynic need to confine his studies to freshmen alone. Even the proverbially grave, old seniors sometime exhibit the phenomenon.

when might prompt a repetition of the adage, "There's no fool like an old fool."—Blue Stocking.

WHAT IS YOUR HOBBY HORSE?

What is this I hear about riding hobby horses? and especially the Freshman hobby horses. On all sides I hear rumors of "my hobby is skating," "no, mine is hiking," "Isn't it fun to be in the poetry hobby?" Do you suppose they are going to have Yo-Yo hobbies? Anyway, on with Freshman hobby horses!

THE HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

The Hospitality Committee, with Grace Gregg as chairman, has the ambition of making every old and new girl feel welcome and at home at G. S. C. We, the members of this committee, strive to make our auditorium, "Y" rooms, and every spot on our campus gay and hospitable to those who live or visit among us, especially those who attend our various religious services. The members of this group are: Mary Johnson, Burma Hartley, Elizabeth Merritt, Aquilla Williams, Elizabeth Bird, Sara Weaver, Louise Dorminy, and Martinez Young.

—LOUISE DORMINY, Sec.

VISITOR ON CAMPUS

Mr. Smith, who is conducting a Sunday School Training Course this week at the Milledgeville Methodist church, made a most inspirational talk to the entire student body on Tuesday. His suggestions were that we take advantage of each opportunity that is offered us and that we honor our fathers and mothers, making them feel that they have not lived in vain.

PARTY ENJOYED

A party of unusual enjoyment was the one at which Pearl Hackett, Martha Edwards and Ruth Stevens entertained on Saturday October 12. During the evening delicious refreshments were served, after which a special feature act was presented by Miss Grace Gregg.

Those attending were: Keeta O'Connell, Ag Scheean, Anna O'Leary, Alice Sumnerall, Ann Hicks, Grace Gregg, Catherine Jones and Carolyn Russell.

WEINER ROAST

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was a weiner roast given by several Atkinson Hall girls. The group left the campus early in the afternoon and assembled at "The Little Log Cabin" in Government Square.

Those present were: Misses Blanche Vessery, Francis Goss, Evelyn Chambliss, Helen Pearson, Christine Holliman, Ruth Harrison, Lillie Minter, Treva Whitaker, Virginia Watkins, Sara Weaver, Sara Outhouse, Susannah Foster, Ethel Carter, Tennis Brownlee, Merle Smith and Elizabeth Merritt.

One of the many delightful socials enjoyed by Ennis girls was a party given in room 44 Sunday night. After an hour of laughter and games the following girls were served salad and punch. Helen Wilson, Mildred Matthews, Virginia Frazier, Ruth Branam, Mable Underwood, Catharine Wilcox, Inez Black, Tommy Shetter, Helen Elder.

Miss Francis Christie, the guest of her sister Elizabeth Christie, was delightfully entertained Saturday night in room 703 Terrell C at a feast given in her honor. The guests included former classmates and friends of the honor guest. They were Misses Beatrice Howard, Irma Vaughn, Josephine Williams, Robertine McClelland, Margaret Cunningham, Kitisie Melton, Cornelia Montgomery, Marie Mathews, Fannie George Mahone, Marie Tucker and Eugenia Ceregin.

Delicious salad course was served by the hostess.

Miss Bess Duncan, of Wesleyan, who was the week-end guest of Virginia Drane, Frances Belk, Sarah Bell, and Dot Lowe, was delightfully entertained by her hostesses at a feast Saturday night in 509-510 Terrell B. The guests enjoyed a number of contests after which a delicious salad course was served. The guests included: Miss Duncan, Miss Bell, Miss Stearns, of Wesleyan, Sallye Garrett, Mildred Howell, and Carolyn Johnson.

ENGLISH SOPHOMORE CLUB ORGANIZED

On Tuesday afternoon the English Sophomores met for the purpose of organizing an English Sophomore club. Miss Scott presented the plans for the club, which were received enthusiastically, and a nominating committee was appointed to select girls for the officers.

ORGANIZATION OF SCIENCE CLUB

On September 25, 1929 at 2:00 the Science Club held its first meeting of the year for the purpose of organization. Blanche Marshall, vice-president of spring term 1929, in charge. The following officers were elected: Blanche Marshall, President; Miriam Rustin, Vice-President and Chairman of program committee; Ruth Jordan, Secretary and Treasurer; Carolyn B. Scott, Chairman of Publicity Committee; Martha Bass, Chairman of Social Committee; Miss Martin was elected as Faculty Advisor.

MEETING OF SCIENCE CLUB

On October 15, 1929, the Science Club met in the Biology Lecture Room at 5:35. The meeting was called to order by Blanche Marshall, president. Ruth Jordan, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. The Constitution was then read and approved.

Dr. Lindley offered a prize of $5.00 to any member of the club, who could collect the best set of clippings relating to Science for the year. After the business was attended to, the meeting was turned over to Miriam Rustin, Chairman of program committee. Ruth Jordan told how creases could be kept in skirts and trousers, if you are interested in the latter you'd better see her. Martha Bass told about the new sport dresses that hotdogs are wearing. Dot Bryant told about synthetic perfumes.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again in two weeks. We have had a good attendance at these meetings and hope that this will continue, for we are planning some very interesting things for the coming year.

The Meriwether Club held its first meeting in the "Big Parlor" of Terrell Hall at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, October 2. The old members who are back this year are Carolyn Tigner, Mildred O'Neal, Mary Mitcham, Grace Gregg, Frances Smith, Edna Tigner, Lila Smith, and Sara McGahee. The following new members were present: Elizabeth Byrd, from Manchester; Jane Hill, Gladys Parham, and Virginia McLaughlin, from Greenville; Emily Colley, Elizabeth McKoon, Nell Couch, and Dorothy Bradbury, from Luthersville; Hazel Emory, from Woodbury, and Sara Howard and Helen Clayatt, from Gay.

The officers elected for the year 1929-30 are:

Carolyn Tigner, President; Mildred O'Neal, Vice-President; Virginia McLaughlin, Secretary and Treasurer; and Edna Tigner, Chairman of the Social Committee.

The members of the club enjoyed a delightful tea at the college tea room Friday afternoon.

Many interesting social affairs are being planned by the club.

Marie Tucker attended the Georgia-Yale game in Athens.

Mrs. Mozell Teasley of Elberton, spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Margaret Teasley.

Mrs. Newman Wood of Sandersville, spent Monday and Tuesday with Jessie Wood.

Mrs. Harper Tucker of Sandersville, spent Wednesday with Elizabeth.

DR. HUNTER AND DR. WYNN DISCUSS "THE MERCHANT OF VENICE" WITH STUDENTS

Last Wednesday afternoon at five-thirty, a number of students gathered in the auditorium for the purpose of getting a better understanding and appreciation of "The Merchant of Venice" which was presented Friday evening by the Avon players from New York.

Dr. Hunter gave a brief, interesting synopsis of the play, and pointed out some of the famous passages. Dr. Wynn also discussed the play and made the students more familiar with Shakespeare.

These delightful presentations by Dr. Hunter and Dr. Wynn were greatly appreciated, and the students wish to express their thanks.

It is none too early to be organizing a yo-club on the campus. Such

PRACTICAL TALENTS

Talents are of two kinds according to the fruits which they bear. The impractical talent produces only theory while the practical theory has as its outgrowth theory vitalized by application.

Talents which are employed only for theorizing are of scarcely more worth than that talent of old which was buried in the earth for safekeeping until the Master's return. To the owner they are of no value other than the mere joy of possession.

Theories, however, when digested and absorbed by the practical mind are likely to produce usable results. Thus, the theorists finds his place only as the guide of the man of action. But, the world does not pay for theory, it pays for practice.

Though a man dream great dreams, he is no better off in the end unless he makes his dreams realities. Speculative ability is one thing, and practical ability is another. The man who shows himself capable of forming large views of life may prove altogether unfit for carrying them into effect. The speculative man is prone to indecision. He sees all sides of a question, the facts on one side balancing almost completely the facts on the other. Therefore he knows not which path is more expedient. Whereas the practical man guided by animate sense of values arrives at certain definite convictions and proceeds forth with to carry his policy into action.

It is the man who does, who acts, who works that makes this world ever new and interesting. Those who do not believe that yo-yoing has come into its own as a collegiate sport will only have to read the following clippings to be convinced. These clippings were taken from the papers of two Southern colleges.

GO ON YO-YO

Yo-yo-ing is a very, very virile and masculine sport. It develops the muscles of the body, sharpens the faculties of the brain, and encourages coordination. How gratifying it is to see a great big man (the kind that is just built for yo-yo-ing), hard at work in his daily workout! See how the eyes are brightened; how the breath comes thick and fast! Notice the bulge of his arm muscles and the healthy glow on his skin as he struggles to dominate the movements of the massive yo! Ah, how the old folks must delight over the change that has come over the youth of the land. No more the puerile game of football. Dear me, no! Let us forget those gentle practices of a past generation and devote ourselves to something worthy the attentions of a man. Let us do away with football practice and turn the field over to the yo-enthusiasts.

Yo-yo-ing is certainly the easiest way to attain a gentlemanly bearing. Someone recently called attention to a man who was demonstrating the height of nonchalance—he was plodding dimly through the rain, yo-yo-ing like a hardened veteran! It is possible that the Murad will be neglected in favor of the yo-yo, as the one unfailing agency for nonchalance!

It is none too early to be organizing a yo-club on the campus. Such an organization, dominating, as it would, the greatest interests of college life, should be a great thing for P. C. A number of excellent slogans at once suggest themselves: "Our yo-yos as good as yours," "Let us yo-yo as of yours," "Join and let us help you yo-yo yo-yo," are a few of the more obvious ones. Then think of the many beautiful songs that could be adopted: "Yo-yo the clouds away," "Your yo-er isn't your yo-er no more," "Give us a yo and we'll go home," and a host of others.

Come on, fellows! Get behind this thing! Let's put P. C. on the yo-map. Show your school spirit and yo with a will. Let's put Presbyterian College at the top in yo-ing!

FAIR DAY

"Whoopee! we're moving!" came a call from the back of the long line of brown and white figures, and the students moved forward to the fair grounds, which had been lent to G. S. C. W. as its playground for one long, eventful afternoon.

The long procession moved as slowly as the girls could walk under the circumstances, which, it seemed, were very urging, resulting in their reaching their destination within a few moments time.

Before the Indians had time to apply their "natural" color, before the snake charmer could settle his snakes comfortably in his tent, before the man at the pink lemonade stand could mix his colors, and before the ponies on the Merry-Go-Round could get rested from their morning's exertion, they were surrounded by girls—girls to the right of them, girls to the left of them, nothing but girls to be seen on the fair grounds.

Immediately the Ferris wheel began its ceaseless revolutions, the Tilt-A-Whirl began its numberless turnings, the ponies on the Merry-Go-Round took up their mad race to no where, and the holiday spirit held sway.

Here was a crowd of girls buying feathered hats; there, a bunch examining tin horns and debating whether or not to buy them; here, some eating steaming hot dogs, covered with mustard and onions; there, come standing before the machine which turned out pictures at the rate of ten in every five minutes; oh, there were girls everywhere—happy, carefree, laughing girls, enjoying their play ground of the day.

Fair days are happy days for G. S. C.

Dr. Johnson finds the bell and saves the day. That is exactly what happened in chapel Tuesday morning. A babel of voices called to order by Dr. Beeson, the devotional, the song and lastly, the announcements. It was during these announcements that the little bell, which has its exclusive place on the auditorium stage table, was discovered to be missing. Dr. Beeson immediately inquired as to the whereabouts of his little pal that had helped him so faithfully conduct numerous chapel exercises. Grim silence fell on the audience, where could the bell be? It must not be lost, for everyone knew its value and exalted position; why, could it not quiet around fifteen hundred girls with one or two sounds of its small but emphatic voice? Then Dr. Johnson stealthily retreated toward a window sill just off the stage and found the truant bell. Steadily and with careful handling the little bell was passed by the dignified masculine members of the faculty until it reached Dr. Beeson, who restored it to its respective place in the auditorium where we hope this little bell will rest securely and will call many more exercises to order. The Lost is Found.

LOST AND FOUND. ONE BELL

FANNIE MCLELLAN TALKS AT VESPER

The Vesper service on October 13, held in the auditorium Sunday evening, was in charge of Fannie McLellan and Sara Harvey.

The devotional was led by Sara Harvey. As a special musical number, a beautiful organ solo was played by Theo Hotch. Fannie McLellan talked on Love, its kindness and long suffering as typified in the Divine Being.

If you are not receiving your Colonnade regularly, write your name and dormitory address on a slip of paper and leave it in the staff room.

IVERSON DEWS ELECTED EDITOR OF "SPECTRUM"

The Spectrum staff for the year 1929-1930 was elected Wednesday, October 12. The Editor-in-Chief, Iverson Dews of Decatur, is exceptionally capable and the choice of her for this office insures a fine 1930 annual. Other members of the staff, each of whom is a valuable part of the whole, include: Associate Editors, Kitisie Melton, Decatur, and Robbie McLendon of Thomasville; Local Editors, Carroll Butts, Milledgeville, and Rebecca Holbrook of Atlanta; Athletic Editor, Margaret Candler, Villa Rica; Y. W. C. A. Editor, Fannie McLellan of Dalton, Feature Editors, Mary Bohannon of Newman, and Ann Hicks of Rome, Ga.; Art Editor, Bertha Johnson, of Ellaville, and Assistant Art Editor, Ruth Lowther of Ocala; Business Manager, Mary Elliott of Norcross, and Assistant Business Manager, Miriam Rustin; Treasurer, Myrtice Lynch, of Machen; Circulation Managers, Gertrude Gilmore, McDonough, and Elizabeth Stewart of Milledgeville; Advertising Manager, Josephine Proctor of Swainsboro, and Assistant Advertising Manager, Bobby Burns, Fitzgerald.

The Class Editors, chosen by each class, are: Senior, Dorothy Jay; Junior, Margaret Cunningham; Sophomore, Mildred Butler; The Freshman Editor has not been elected.

The Staff, with its different members is a well chosen, capable whole, and the student body believes wholeheartedly in its efficiency and future success.

Dr. Wynn's class in Journalism made a trip to the office of the Union Recorder Thursday morning for the purpose of gaining a little first hand knowledge of the inside workings of the printing office. Mr. Jere Moore graciously explained to the class the intricacies of the press. The big Linotype machine held the greatest fascination for the girls. Mr. Britt who was managing the machine very kindly explained to the class how it operated. Actual contact with newspaper atmosphere gave the girls a much better conception of a journalistic career.

DR. JOHNSON ENTERTAINS FOR THE HISTORY CLUB

Saturday afternoon from four to six, Dr. Johnson was hostess to the History Club in Ennis Recreation Hall.

Idolene Cosby of Elberton, the president of the club, held a short business meeting immediately after the guests arrived. The program was then turned over to Dorcas Rucker of Alpharetta, chairman of the program committee.

Games including fortune hunting, sparring for husbands, and Virginia Reel were played.

Gertrude Gilmore of McDonough and Mildred O'Neal of Greenville, Georgia, presented several musical numbers.

Caroline Scott, Bessie Murray, and Caroline Russell assisted in serving a delicious ice course.

SOUTHERN DIVISION OF NATIONAL STUDENT COUNCIL MEET IN ATLANTA

As a part of the student movement of the Young Women's Christian Association, we are interested in the meeting held in Atlanta, October 14-17 following the annual meeting of the Southern Division of Council. Attending this gathering were the eleven delegates elected by all Southern Associations at the Blue Ridge Conference. Miss Peggie Armstrong of Agnes Scott College is the chairman of the Southern Council. Miss Carrie E. Meares and Miss Elizabeth Smith are the two National student secretaries for this region, and as such they play very vital parts in the Association.

The matters considered at this meeting centered mostly around plans for the Blue Ridge Conference.

HALLIE SMITH ENTERTAINS BIBLE STUDY CLASS

Miss Hallie Smith entertained most delightfully in the Tea Room, Tuesday afternoon, October 11, compelling the members of her Bible Study Class. A delicious salad course was served during the meeting.

The officers of this class are: President—Ina Willis. Vice-President—Louise Chambliss. Secretary and Treasurer—Louise Conoly.

HOW TO MAKE A FRESHMAN UNDERSTAND SOMETHING

1. Tell him you're going to tell him something.
2. Tell him.
3. Tell him you've told him.
4. Summarize what you've said.
5. Repeat you are going to tell him something.
6. Repeat that you have told him.
7. Call a consultation.
8. Cross-examine him.
9. Tell him again.
10. Give him a blueprint.
11. Wire him.
12. Telephone him.
13. Pantomime it.
14. Let him go ignorant.

GETTING OUT A SCHOOL PAPER

Getting out a school paper is no picnic. If we print jokes people say we are silly. If we don't they say that we are too serious. If we publish original stuff they say that we lack variety. If we clip from other papers they say we are lazy. If we stay in the office they say that we ought to be out hunting news. If we go out hunting news they say we ought to be in the office attending to business. Like as not some one will say that we swiped this article from some other magazine. "We did." —Copied.

NIGHTFALL

The dusky purple twilight falls
On hill and vale and softly calls
The night to charm away our woes
That day has gathered as our foes.

The night is calm, and sweet, and clear,
With stars that glisten like the tear
Of one who sits and thinks of all
That nature gives, as dusk doth fall.

ROUND THE WORLD TRIP SPONSORED BY SOPHOMORES

Don't you like those vivid and colorful invitations that the Sophomore class has issued to all of us to attend the trip around the world? Just think of being able to attend college and still able to go abroad! I am still quite thrilled over visiting the countries from Canada to Palestine in eight weeks. And have you noticed the guides for the world tour? Miss Crowell for Canada, Miss Neely for France, Dr. Wynn for Europe, Dr. Floyd for Spain, Dr. Webber for Geneva, Mr. Fowler for Italy, Miss Pyle for the Phillipine, Miss Crowell for England, and Miss Rogers for the Holy Land. Truly "the world stands out on either side."

And as Mary Driskell, sub-chairman of the Y. W. C. A. worship committee, cautions, "Don't let the ship leave you."

We, the members of the Finance Committee of the Young Woman's Christian Association, wish to take this opportunity to express to the faculty and to the student-body our grateful thanks for the splendid spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation with which they made possible the raising of the 1929-30 budget.

SOPHOMORES ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

The Sophomores class can now be called regular Sophomores because they have elected the class officers for the year 1930. The first and second weeks of October were set aside during Sophomore chapel for the purpose of electing these offices.

Vera Hunt was class president of the Freshment during 1929.

Those elected are as follows:
President—Vera Hunt.
Vico-President—Sallye Garrett.
Secretary—Katherine Vinson.
Treasurer—Mary Rogers.

Sallye Garrett was Secretary of the Freshman class; Mary Rogers were captain of the Freshmen on Field Day.

Dr. Beeson and Mrs. J. T. Terry presided over the elections.
