ARE WE HAVING FUN NOW?

"Having fun is serious business." Let's take for example, dressing wildly, or wildly dressing, or wildly undressing, or not dressing or undressing at all; whatever your case may be. June, a month to say goodbye to some, and hello to others; you say goodbye and I'll say hello - hello, hello. I don't know what you say goodbye - I say hello. The majority of the time its better to say hello. Hello summer sun and summer fun, Hello tanned blondes in polka-dotted bikinis and jelly shoes, with jelly heads and jelly buttons? In-ies or out-ies man! Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds - an old song but still a Hit for some.

THAT GC FEELING ...

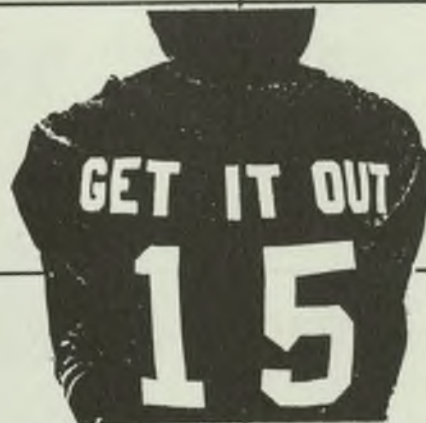

President Speir is jumping for joy, because GC spirit is in the air. A school is a school, but a school with spirit is a great school and a great place to be. A well-rounded college career should include more than just the academic side of college, but also the out-of-class social activities. "Why should one want to be well-rounded?" you might ask. If you're not well-rounded, you must be square. But to be square involves much more than not being well-rounded. If this interests you to the point you would like to find out more, you can find a full report in room 599 of Atkinson Hall.

KAPPA ALPHA OLD SOUTH

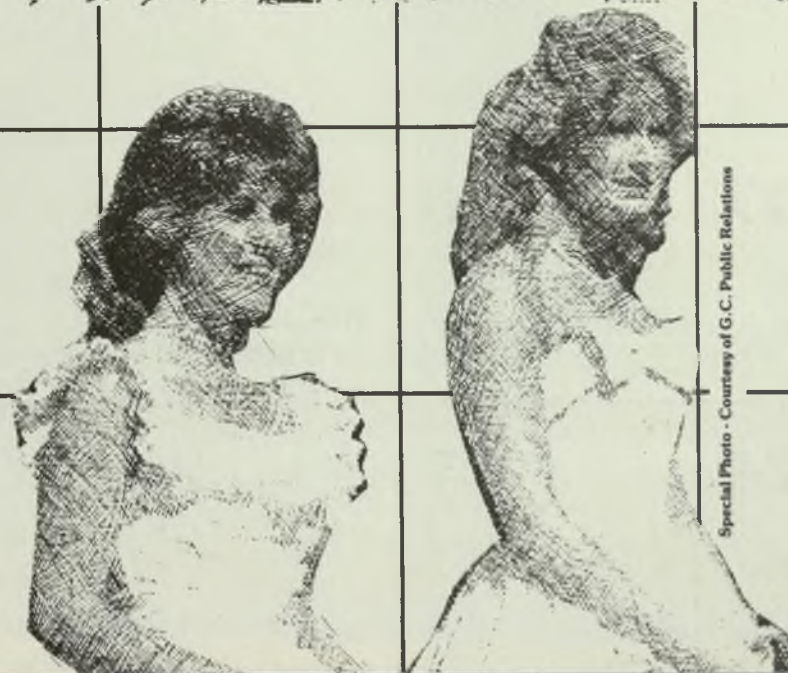

KA celebrates Old South week around the first week of April every year. Even though it's in April the spread faces August because when I think of the old south I am reminded of the Southern Belles fanning themselves on the front porch of those lovely antebellum homes during dog days in August. Not to mention the mint juleps and the Southern gentleman riding up on horseback coming to call. Kappa Alpha celebrates by having an Old South formal, the Carl Vinson golf tournament and a beer bust to raise money for muscular dystrophy. They also have a small parade and all gather round to have their photograph taken in their "Old South" attire on the front steps of the Old Governor's Mansion.

BACK TO SCHOOL GC STYLE

COLONNADE

RUSSELL HENDERSON

Welcome back. Summer is over. It is now time to get out of the sun and get back into the books, unless of course you are one of those dedicated students, who stayed in the books all summer long. While the trees are shedding the old, Georgia College is bringing in the new. New faces wandering around, slightly lost, who are beginning their college career. It is always interesting to watch the new mingle with the old as they enter the cafeteria during the first week. There never seems to be enough tables when you don't know a single person in the cafeteria. Don't worry though, after a few wild back-to-school parties, more people know you than you think. If you can only remember them, you've got it made.

LIVE! AT GEORGIA COLLEGE, IT'S ...

Music is an integral part of the Georgia College scene. WXGC 88.9 FM is your student operated radio station, and they play anything from contemporary Christian music to the 88 Express (funk) to Heavy Metal to just good old rock-n-roll. If you're not tuned in, then you can attend one of the many musical functions around GC. You may ask, "What kind of music is here?" GC has something for everyone, anything from the Insect Surfers to Gilbert and Sullivan to singing dogs, and Randy Howard's bluegrass styles to Duffy Jackson's drum solos. The Georgia College Jazz Ensemble is directed by Jim Willoughby playing for students at such events as the quarterly concert, the Miss GC Pageant, NOVA, and INSIGHT. All points were covered or at least passed by.

HOMECOMING '83

Homecoming activities for Georgia College students and alumni were held November 16-18. Activities started with the men's intramural flag football championship at the West Complex near Georgia 49. "This is a traditional event for homecoming," said John Kerr, director of public relations. Thursday a band performed on the front campus of the college during a cookout, the homecoming queen, Karen Tapley, was crowned, and later that evening another band performed in the college cafeteria. A homecoming parade was held downtown Friday afternoon. The parade was followed by a social hour at the Cathy Alumni-Faculty Center on Hancock Street.

SPORTS

an OVERVIEW

The Georgia College Colonials Club held its annual awards banquet May 24 at Georgia College and honored two student athletes and a person from the Milledgeville community for their contributions to the intercollegiate programs. The Colonials Club awards to the outstanding male and female athlete went to Kevonne Stouder, a senior member of the Georgia College women's gymnastics teams, and Darin Chaplain, a member of the Colonial baseball team. The student awards are based on athletic ability, academic ability, and leadership.

The Colonials Club William Childers Service Award went to Mr. Don Allen, Manager of Milledgeville Ship and Shore Travel Agency. Allen has been working with the intercollegiate program at Georgia College for the past few years and has been instrumental in travel arrangements not only for Georgia College's teams but from teams around the nation who come to Milledgeville for various special events, including the NAIA National Women's Gymnastics Championships and various playoffs in soccer, basketball, and baseball.

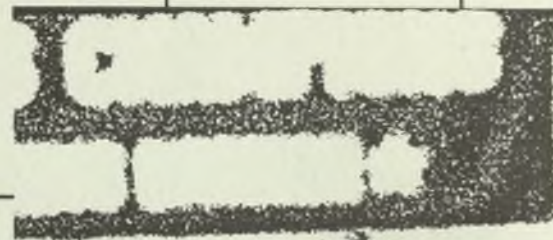

Stouder, a native of Warner Robins, Georgia, has competed in varsity gymnastics for four years at Georgia College. She has maintained a 3.5 grade point average in two academic majors and has been named an All-American All Around Gymnast in both the AIAW and the NAIA. She helped lead the Georgia College women's gymnastics team to two national titles in 1981 and 1982.

Chaplain is a junior from Mableton, Georgia. He has maintained a 3.2 grade point average. He posted a 10-2 record on the mound for Georgia College this season with a 3.46 ERA and was instrumental in the Colonials successful bids for the District 25 NAIA Championship, the Area Championship, and the teams going on to the NAIA World Series in Lewiston, Idaho.

Georgia College Colonials Club is the official booster organization for the intercollegiate athletic program at Georgia College and provides a number of scholarship awards and special events, including the annual all sports dinner.

MISS GA. COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP PAGEANT

The 17th annual Miss GC Pageant was held in February. Twelve contestants competed this year for the honor of being crowned Miss GC 1984 and one year's tuition free of charge.

Miss Georgia, Tammy Fulwider, was the master of ceremonies and Miss GC 1983, Minette Marcial, was on hand to crown our new Miss GC.

Miss Jennifer Turner, who was sponsored by Gamma Beta Phi, won both the talent and swimsuit competition, and was crowned Miss GC 1984. Her talent consisted of a dance routine to "Oklahoma". Jennifer is a 19 year old honor student from Conyers, Ga.

The first runner-up was Miss Leigh Finley. The second runner-up was Miss Delane Ashe. The third runner-up was Miss Miriam Lampkin and Miss Audrey Williams received the congeniality award.

Judging the pageant this year, were Charles and Barbara Shaheen, Alva and Debra Gashem, and Bob Ritchie, the official Miss Georgia Pageant photographer.

In addition to the contestant's talents, other entertainment was provided by Miss Georgia, Miss GC 1983, David Henderson, Derrick Brown, the Betty Jennings dancers, and the GC Jazz Ensemble.

WE LOVE GEORGIA COLLEGE!

There are many things to love at Georgia College. For those who simply love to learn and love spending their time in a productive way, Georgia College offers a wide array of very competent professors, who love to keep us busy. For those who love the college life out of class, there are an endless amount of extra-curricular activities to keep us busy. We have parties, dances, movies, live entertainment, fraternity and sorority activities, department club activities, intramural sports, and several local night clubs. And for those of us who love to do both, it is hard to find the time to sleep; it's a good thing we're young and full of energy.

RESIDENT LIFE SPRING FLING

What better time than Spring to have a fling? At last we can retreat from the warmth of our dorm rooms and frolic in the sun. The race is on, who will burn their skin the fastest? We all seem to go crazy in the spring, any excuse is good to get out on a beautiful day. The spring fling gives us all a great excuse to get out. We can do all kinds of abnormal things, such as throw eggs, frisbees, or water balloons, get sick eating pie, pull each other into the mud with a rope, demolish an old car, or just drink and fall down.

THOSE FROlicking FACULTY OF GC

If you've never been to faculty frolics at Georgia College, you've just missed the best opportunity in the world to see all those profs that you thought were staunch white-collar conservatives show you what they're really like after that last class of the day. These people let their "hair down". You will find anything from John Kerr dressed as "Secret Agent Man" to Greg "Boy Road" Jarvie in drag with his Roids' groupies chanting "We don't need no education . . ." to Bob Wolfersteig with his piano playing pug. Quite a variety. And dear Mr. Linton Cox, GC's beloved humorist. What else did you miss? Dave Baarda on the auto harp . . . Little Wayne (Glowka) and the Hondas with those baritone blue grass tunes, And Grady Torrence with his cajun tales . . . ("Well I dones allright I guess till I a got to de las question, 'how far it be to de moon'. Well, I jus gabe dat man back dat paper and said "if dat de route you gots fo me well you can keep this job yoself".) I don't know about you but I'll be there again next year . . .

ALL THOSE PARTIES!

May . . . The merry month of May . . . all those parties. It will make your head spin. Formals, dances, beer bust, Greek Week . . . Greek week occurs around the second week of May every year. The greeks start out the week with the chariot races, a step-show, and the crowning of the Greek god and goddess. Tuesday it's fun and games which include tricycle races, the egg toss, tug of war, and a hot dog eating contest to mention a few. There's also a banquet, a track and field day, and a big party to celebrate the end of the week. Kappa Alpha fraternity and Delta Zeta sorority were this year's winners. Other parties . . . PKA spring fling, Rock Creek beach party, Psychology Club party, WXGC party . . . It's a wonder any one survives spring at GC. The Spectrum staff knows that it will be very busy during the merry month of May.

The Georgia College Bands, both Concert band and Jazz Ensemble, are very active both on and off of the campus of Georgia College. The Jazz Ensemble participated in the Miss Georgia College pageant. On March 5, 1984, the Concert Band and Jazz Ensemble presented their Winter quarter concert. Guest artist for the concert was drummer, Duffy Jackson. The Georgia College bands go on tour every Spring quarter. They perform all around the state before going on a short "break" to end the tour. The officers of the band are: President, Penny Key; Vice-President, Jeff Daniel; Secretary, Pat Dawson; and Freshman Representative, Curry Alexander.

The director of the bands is Associate Professor of Music, Jim Willoughby. Mr. Willoughby has been named Director of the Georgia Association of Jazz Educators All-Star Jazz Ensemble for 1984.

SPECIAL PHOTO

International Student Association is a campus organization open to all members of the college community. Its primary purpose is to promote a better understanding among American and International students and the faculty/staff of Georgia College through various social and cultural events. In addition, the ISA (1) provides international students with the opportunity to get involved in college activities so they may have a pleasant and profitable stay in the United States and (2) encourages Americans to learn about the customs, cultures, and languages of other countries.

DEBATE TEAM

The Georgia College Debate Team had an active winter quarter this year. Debaters Terry Knighton and David Sulzbacher competed in tournaments at the University of South Carolina, Berry College, and Georgia Southern College. Knighton and Sulzbacher won rounds against teams from the University of Tennessee and the University of North Carolina-Wilmington. Debaters Tammy Higdon and Thomas Baldwin joined Knighton and Sulzbacher for the tournament at Berry College. In spring quarter, Knighton and Sulzbacher took Higdon and Baldwin by a 2-1 decision in a public debate in Russell Library.

JOURNALISM MAJOR APPROVED

The University System of Georgia Board of Regents gave approval to Georgia College for its four year degree program in Journalism last February. The new bachelor of science degree program went into effect Spring Quarter. The new Journalism program will have three areas to concentrate in. They are Public Relations, Advertising, Print, and Telecommunications.

Journalism majors at Georgia College will be able to make use of excellent facilities including the recently completed television studio in Atkinson Hall, headquarters of the Georgia College cable television project (GCTV) as well as the media lab located in the English Building that was developed through funding from the Knight Foundation. For more information contact Mrs. Mary Jean Land in the department of English and Speech at 453-4222.

NURSING DEPARTMENT RECEIVES NATIONAL ACCREDITATION

The Spectrum staff would like to congratulate the Nursing Department on receiving full accreditation by the National League for Nursing in December of 1983.

According to spokesperson Mary Collins, although partial accreditation is sometimes given to institutions, the Nursing Department received the full unconditional accreditation until the next review in eight years.

Georgia College offers a Baccalaureate degree program in Nursing and places students in clinical internships in a number of central Georgia hospitals. The NLN accreditation means that GC Nursing graduates have access to a number of professional graduate programs, scholarships, military promotions, and various forms of financial aid.

GC Nursing students are able to take advantage of a number of clinical learning laboratories including the VA Center in Dublin, the Medical Center of Central Georgia in Macon, and Central State Hospital in Milledgeville.

NOVA

The NOVA Orientation Leaders are upperclass students who volunteer their time to help new students and their parents learn about Georgia College. During the summer orientation sessions, held this summer on July 11 - 12 and August 8 - 9, they lead small group discussions, conduct campus tours, and generally help the new students and their parents feel comfortable at GC. They also have major responsibilities at the fall orientation (held just before the start of fall quarter), at other quarterly orientation sessions, and at additional college functions throughout the year. Members are chosen during winter quarter, and trained in the spring.

The Spectrum would like to congratulate the Student Government Association (SGA) officers for the 1984-85 year. They are: President, Chuck Claxton; Vice President, Liz Reynolds; and Secretary-Treasurer, Avis Russell. Executive elections are held at the end of Winter Quarter every year, and Student Senate elections are held in the Fall. The SGA office is in room 143 of MCU. Students are welcome to drop by and get to know their officers and senators.

EAST CAMPUS COMPLEX FORMED

Georgia College has an East Campus Complex. The complex consists of Rocky Creek Park, the Georgia College lake lot next to it, and the Lake Laurel Facility.

Rocky Creek's facilities include bath houses, a pavillion with office and storage space, grill, dock, picnic area, beach, swimming area, nature trails, and primitive camping facilities. Located next to the Rocky Creek Park is Georgia College's lake lot, for use by the college community. Its facilities include a dock, picnic tables and grills, and a boat ramp. The third member of the complex is Lake Laurel, the oldest of the three college facilities. It is located on Lake Laurel Road and has a lodge that sleeps 43, docks, sailboats, and canoes.

Floyd V. Anderson, who is Director of Recreational Services, oversees the facilities at the East Campus Complex. Anderson reported that the park can be used by GC recreation majors as a practical training facility. "They can now do internships on campus, instead of having to go off campus," he said.

Anderson also added that in the off-season of Rocky Creek, groups will be able to use the park in the afternoons and evenings and on weekends by reservation. Reservations can be made by calling the complex office at 453-4294. Rocky Creek Park is open daily from May until September.

EXTERNAL DEGREES

Georgia College has initiated a special degree program in Macon that will allow Macon area students to work toward the bachelor of business degree in management and the master of business administration degree.

The courses will be offered at Macon Junior College and taught by Georgia College faculty members. The courses are a part of university system sponsored external degree program.

Courses began in September. Program coordinator for Georgia College is Dr. Bruce Brumfield. The new four year degree and graduate programs will allow Macon students to complete class work without coming to main campus in Milledgeville.

FLANNERY O'CONNOR SYMPOSIUM

Georgia College hosted the third Flannery O'Connor Symposium Saturday, April 14 and Sunday, April 15 in Milledgeville. The symposium entitled "Of Time and Place and Eternity", was "a weekend of thoughtful and lively lectures, films, and tours of the writer's terrain". Speakers for the 1984 event included Ralph Wood on the Protestant response to O'Connor's fiction; J.O. Tate on O'Connor's "Southern-ness"; and Frederick Asals on violence in O'Connor's works. Presenting The Flannery O'Connor Memorial Lecture was Sally Fitzgerald, who read excerpts from the forthcoming biography. The symposium events also included a visit to Andalusia Farm north of Milledgeville, where O'Connor did most of her writing.

HIGHLIGHTS OF BLACK AWARENESS MONTH

"Achievement Against the Odds Through Education" was this year's theme for Black Awareness Month held in February.

An exhibit at the Museum of Archives of Georgia Education opened the month. The title of the exhibit was "The Integration Years - 1950 to Present". It was the culmination of four years' research and was partially funded by the E.C. Mitchell Fund, the Grumman Aerospace Corp., and an institute of museum services grant. The exhibit displayed a general view of desegregation in Georgia.

A black history symposium on integration was held. Featured at the symposium were Dr. Thomas Armstrong, a G.C. history professor; Dr. Marcellus Barksdale, a professor and specialist of oral history; and Dr. Melvyn Williams, an attorney from Macon. The symposium was co-sponsored by Phi Alpha Theta, a national honorary society for history majors at G.C. The symposium and oral history project were supported by grants from the Georgia Endowment for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

"A Tribute to Harriet Tubman", a one woman act play showed events in the life of this famous Abolitionist. The event was sponsored by the Allied Arts Division of the Milledgeville-Baldwin County Recreation Department and Georgia College Lyceum.

In addition, Dr. Luther Burse, who is President of Fort Valley State College, gave a speech at Peabody auditorium. The month ended with musical performances from "The Waller Family" and "The Voices of Joy". "The Voices of Joy" is a local gospel group in which several G.C. students are members.

ALUMNI NOTES 1984

The Georgia College Alumni Association honored a number of individuals at the annual Alumni Weekend April 27-28.

William Zarkowsky, Vice President of Grumman Aerospace Corporation in Milledgeville, has been named recipient of the Golden Key Award. Zarkowsky will be retired from Grumman this spring and is scheduled to teach a special seminar in the Georgia College School of Business. He holds a bachelors degree in Aeronautical Science from New York University and a masters degree in Industrial Management from MIT.

Zarkowsky served as President of Grumman Aerospace and a member of its Executive Committee. He is on numerous engineering committees and is a member of Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma Pi, and Iota Alpha. Zarkowsky is a member of the Georgia College School of Business Advisory Cabinet, and Economics for Executive Forum.

Sarah Anne Staples, Professor of Biology at Andrew College in Cuthbert, Georgia, was selected recipient of the Alumni Service Award for 1984.

Ms. Staples received her B.A. degree from Georgia College and an M.S. degree from the University of Georgia. She has held two National Science Foundation grants for study and research and was a Rotary scholar in Norway.

At Georgia College Ms. Staples was elected to Phi Sigma and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. She has received local, state, and national acclaim for her work with Phi Theta Kappa National Scholastic Fraternity for Junior Colleges. She was named Outstanding Sponsor 1980 of the organization.

Laura T. Hillman has been named recipient of the Alumni Achievement Award. Ms. Hillman taught voice for several years in the Georgia College Department of Music and is currently on the faculty at Florida State University. She holds an undergraduate degree from Georgia College and a masters from Columbia University.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION RECOGNIZES OUTSTANDING ALUMNI FOR 1984

Recipients of the Outstanding Young Alumni Awards were announced by the Georgia College Alumni Association during the Alumni Weekend April 27-28 at Georgia College.

They are: Phillip Brantley, psychology major at Georgia College, holds a Ph.D. from the University of Georgia and currently on the faculty at Louisiana State University; Lynn Wilcox, graduate of Georgia College and the Medical College of Georgia, presently working with the Georgia Department of Human Resources; E. Riley Bray, architect with Britton, Thompson, Bray, and a faculty member at Middle Georgia College; Edward Williams, III, personnel manager at YKK, USA; Kathryn Powell, currently teaching English at a second language to Laotian and Vietnamese children in the Clayton County School System; Emily Johnson, currently on the faculty at West Georgia College and nominated for Professor of the Year Award at that campus; Lorraine Lee, actively involved in projects with the Georgia Department of Archives; and Jacqueline Nelson, recognized as a leader in her field, working in Dietetics at Central State Hospital.

Editing a college publication of this nature has been a great challenge this year. When you're working with a limited budget sometimes you just have to get out there and do it yourself. It's hard work but it's also fun at times. You just try to do the best that you can. It's been difficult to explain to students that the SPECTRUM is no longer a yearbook. BUT in this period of transition we've tried to maintain a yearbook type format to this publication. We place our emphasis on photojournalism. The Colonnade and the Peacock's Feet are your editorial and literary publications respectively. So we try to cover as many events with our camera as possible. As the old adage goes, "A picture is worth a thousand words."

Martha S. Lucas, Editor '83-'84

It has been a pleasure producing the Spectrum for the last two years. I would like to see more involvement in the future, though. I hope the yearbook last year and the magazine this year will be as meaningful to you as it was to me. My work has very little meaning unless it means something to you. I will not have the opportunity to be here next year, since I will be graduating this summer, but I encourage all of you to get involved in any of the college media organizations. Express yourself and enjoy doing it, because there will come a day when that will separate you from those who don't.

Miles D. Whipple, Associate Editor

Special Thanks to KATHY DAVIS and Kilpatrick Media Center for use of their facilities . . . To Paul Putkowski, a former SPECTRUM alumnus who gave his time and talent in helping print some 30 photographs, and JACKIE SMITH and the Colonnade for the use of some of their photographs. Thanks to John Kerr and the Public Relations staff in helping with News Briefs and Alumni Notes. In addition, thanks to all the supporters of the Spectrum, especially President Edwin G. Speir for approving the production of this publication.
