The student senate of Ohio State University has endorsed a plan to have seniors grade their instructors at the end of the year. This method should prove highly successful in determining the instructor's status, providing an element of fairness prevails in grading him on his merits and not altogether on his personality.-Exchange.

New York .- The New York Times says that while colleges are being branded as country clubs and students as loafers, the amazing totals are being computed of the boys and girls who are paying, in hard and often menial work, for every crumb of higher education they are getting.

"Forty-three per cent of the men students of the land-grant colleges throughout the country, according to a recent government survey," says The Times, "are working their way through, and almost a quarter of the women, while the combined yearly earnings of students in 1,000 higher institutions are estimated at $32, 500,000."-The Blue Stocking.

All junior and senior students at American University who receive class honors during a given semester will be given the liberty of unlimited cuts in all regular classes during the following semester. They are also allowed double the regular number of chapel cuts. Freshmen and sophomores who receive class honors are to be allowed twice the usual num-Ler of cuts in regular classes and chapel. Honor students, however, just as ordinary students, are held responsible for all written class work at the discretion of the instructor .- Blue Stocking.

Information on College Reveals Interesting Facts. 398 Courses of Study Offered

A bulletin of information issued this week by the Georgia State College for Women reveals many interesting facts in addition to carrying the usual information for the prospective students who are seeking admission to the college.

Three hundred and ninety-eight courses of study are offered requiring 980 semester hours. A student may complete any one of these courses in two years with summer school. It would take 29.70 years to complete all courses offered, if a student desired to do this.

During last year 2,471 students attended the college during the summer and regular terms. In the practice school there are five hundred and thirteen pupils. This number brings the total of students attending the college from Baldwin, county to over six hundred.

The college is one of the outstanding universities for women in the nation. It is the first state college for women to be established having been chartered in 1889. It was the first normal school in Georgia, and the first to offer a modern professional training for teachers.
