
Colonnade

Special Collections

4-28-1931

Colonnade April 28, 1931

Colonnade

Follow this and additional works at: <https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade>

 Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Mass Communication Commons

Recommended Citation

Colonnade, "Colonnade April 28, 1931" (1931). Colonnade. 54.
<https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade/54>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Special Collections at Knowledge Box. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colonnade by an authorized administrator of Knowledge Box.

Campus Crumbs

Afflicted by spring fever, the Tulsa Collegian breaks forth with a dissertation on osculation.

"A kiss is a pronoun because 'she' stands for it. It is masculine and feminine gender mixed, therefore common. It is a conjunction, because it connects. I is an interjection (sounds that way). It is plural because it calls for another. It is singular; nothing else like it. It is usually in apposition with caress; at least, it is sure to follow. A kiss can be conjugated but never declined. It is not an adverb because it cannot be compared, but it is a word that expresses feeling."

Dr. G. W. [McCastline, medical officer of Columbia University states that the typical Columbia freshman does not smoke; drinks two or more glasses of milk daily; regularly eats his spinach and lettuce, and prefers swimming as a sport. It is our belief that the typical medical officer of Columbia University is somewhat of a credulous soul.

Autobiography of a Telephone

I am a telephone. While I am not broke, I am in the hands of a receiver. I have a mouthpiece, but unlike a woman I never use it. Fellows use me to make dates with girls and girls use me to break dates. Husbands call up their wives over me; while wives call their husbands down over me. I never get to call on anyone, but sometimes the company comes and takes me out. I am not a bee, yet I often buzz. I am the "Bell" of the town, and even though I do not get jewelry, I get many rings.

A suspicious looking package which was found to contain the dead body of a negro infant was the cause of the arrest of two University of George Washington pre-med students recently. It reminds us of the Davidson student of a year or two ago who had the pleasant habit of slipping into cemeteries and decapitating the bodies in graves he dug up. This charming undergrauate would then proceed to burn the skin from the heads with acids and use the polished skulls as ornaments. While we have no ghosts at Mercer, the ancient skeleton in the biology department has often been swung to the breezes and exposed shamelessly to the gaze of the curious.

P. S. The U. of G. W. students explained their connection with the case satisfactorily.

The Columbia Spectator took a poll of the men in the street last week to find out their opinion of college men, and discovered that the general idea was that college students spend most of their time loafing. Well, it is mighty hard to fool the man in the street, you know.

Our thought (?) for the day; "It is my belief that the true purpose of education is to stimulate ideas, to preserve and to promote ideals. I do not believe that education can be thrust upon a person by forcible feeding. Mental is like much of it unless they have an appetite for it. I hope that, in this university, we can create such an appetite, make our students mentally hungry" says Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri.

The Colonnade

Volume VI

Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Ga., April 28, 1931

NUMBER 17

Physical Education Division G. E. A. Hold Banquet

The first meeting of the Physical Education Division of the G. E. A. was a banquet which was held Thursday evening, April the sixteenth, in the dining room of the Dempsey Hotel. This meeting was attended by teachers of physical education from the various schools and colleges of Georgia. G. S. C. W. was represented by the six teachers of Physical Education and three teachers of the Health Department.

On Friday morning the second meeting was held, and those who attended were privileged to hear Dr. Brown of Peabody give some practical ideas about a physical education program. Dr. LeRoy Hubbard, who is chief surgeon at Warm Springs, explained the work done there and showed some very interesting pictures of the place. Mrs. Wooten of G. S. C. W. gave a report on the meeting of the Federation of child welfare which was held in Washington.

The afternoon meeting was given over to discussion groups. At five o'clock in Mercer's Stadium all the schools of Macon co-operated in giving a demonstration of elementary games, elementary and advanced marching, and military drill.

At the meeting on Friday G. S. C. W. was represented not only by the teachers but by the following students: Mary Rogers, Catherine Jones, Evelyn Biggers, Mary Eberhart, Lucy Candler, Jessie Musclevwhite, Rebecca Harkwalter, Geraldine Bray, Helen Southwell, and Christine Dekle. Those girls are either majoring or minoring in Physical Education.

New Y Cabinet Installed at Vespers

The newly elected Y. W. C. A. cabinet of the Georgia State College for Women was installed at the vesper services, Sunday April 19.

The installation service was an impressively beautiful candle lighting service, the candles being symbolic of the light of the threefold purpose of the association—mental, physical and spiritual development.

Miss Nor Ethel English, second vice-president, spoke in behalf of the old cabinet, assuring that the old members going away from the college walls will find in their new fields service, new opportunities of "following the gleam."

Miss Vera Hunt, president of the association, spoke for the new cabinet revealing the challenge for daring adventures in real creative living on the campus.

Miss Mary Rogers, first vice-president, gave the devotional; Miss Winifred G. Crowell, a member of the advisory board, closed the devotional with a prayer.

The dismissal prayer was given by Miss Margaret Rucker.

Three G.S.C.W. Graduates Elected Officers Ga. Home Economic Assn.

Miss Mary T. Brooks, Fulton High School Atlanta, Ga., President; Miss Vivian McLendon, Griffin School System Secretary; Miss Frances Lowe, Bibb County Schools, Treasurer.

The meeting of the Georgia Home Economics Association which was held in Macon Georgia, April 17-18 was the twelfth annual meeting.

We are very proud to state out of the twelve past Presidents three of them were G. S. C. W. graduates. Miss Clara Lee Cone, Supervisor of Home Economics, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Leila Bunce, Supervisor of Home Economics in Fulton County School;

STUDENTS VISIT KINGFISHERS CABIN NEAR MACON

Members of Literary Guild Entertained by Mr. Harry Stillwell Edwards on Creek

Kingfishers Cabin, the home of Harry Stillwell Edwards, noted author, was visited by the members of the Literary Guild of the Georgia State College for Women on last Monday.

The young ladies from the college made the trip over to the Edwards home, on the creek, in automobiles and spent several hours at this interesting place. Mr. Edwards entertained them with several stories and showed them around his country home.

COLLEGE FIELD DAY IS NOW APPROACHING

On Tuesday afternoon, May 12, the students from the Georgia State College for Women will present their annual field day program.

The theme this year is centered around the early American period, featuring the story of Rip Van Winkle—This story will be carried out in pantomime.

The physical education class of "Pageantry and Festivals" has shown much interest, and enthusiasm in working this story into pantomime. The principal characters, selected from the advanced physical education classes are:

Rip Van Winkle, who slept 20 years,—Mary Eberhart, Dame Van Winkle, who drove his wife from home—Dorothy Barr Rip Van Winkle's dog, who followed him every where he went, Catharine Jones.

Following the pantomime the enter-class events will be put on.

When the final scores have been read, the students will gather and supper will be served.

The classes have chosen competent leaders to guide their events. They are: sophomore—Mary Fort; junior—Mary Rogers; senior—Katharine Jones.

The freshmen have not chosen their leader but great and mighty things are expected of them.

Miss Gussie Tabb, G. S. C. W.;

The Georgia Association is conceded to be one of the strongest and best of the American Home Economics Associations.

Miss Margaret Edwards, Alabama College, Montevalla, Ala., complimented most highly the efficient way in which the program and business were conducted.

The American Home Economics Association has been invited to Atlanta, Georgia for the annual meeting of 1932. The cooperation of all Home Economics as well as all Educators will be needed to make the meeting a success.

STUDENTS AT PEABODY HIGH OBSERVE PLAY DAY

Newest Form of Competitive Play Takes Place of Field Day

The Peabody High School, Practice School of the Georgia State College for Women, observed Play Day on the College Athletic field Tuesday.

The children were divided into eight groups, according to distributed colors, and they played assigned games for a specified length of time. At noon, lunch was served, picnic style, on the grounds. In the afternoon, the students gave individual challenges, dances and relays, according to the same plan.

"Play Day is the newest form of competitive play among high school children", said Miss Margaret Candler, head of the physical education department of the high school.

Mrs. W. E. Ireland is head of Department of Physical Education and the contests were held under her supervision.

G. S. C. W. ANNUAL HAS BEEN DELIVERED

The members of the Peabody Violin Club will give a recital on Friday evening at seven o'clock at the Practice School Auditorium.

The students are under the tutelage of Miss Beatrice Hosbrugh who has arranged the program. The young ladies taking part are: Misses Catherine Scott, Maie McCullough, Josephine Bone, Mary Caroline Lee, Laurette Bone.

The public is cordially invited to attend the recital.

NEW FACULTY ADVISORS ELECTED FOR Y. W. C. A.

To replace the advisors whose terms have expired, the executive committees elected Miss Ella Perkins, Miss Sarah Bigham, and Mrs. N. E. Ireland. The advisory board includes besides these: Miss Polly Moss, Miss Hallie Smith, Miss Alice Napier, Miss Winifred Crowell, Mrs. Nellie Womack Hines, Miss Blanche Tait, Dr. George H. Webber and Dr. J. L. Beeson, ex-officio.

Indian Burial Urn Given To GSC Museum

An Indian burial Urn containing the skeleton of a seven or eight year old child was presented the history museum of G. S. C. W. by Mrs. Annie L. Prosser Medlin, an alumnus of the college.

Mr. Medlin was plowing in a field on the Shinholster plantation when the mule stepped into the pottery vase. Mr. Medlin examined it and took it to the house to his wife. It was given to the college by Mrs. Medlin.

The skeleton immediately went to dust when exposed to air. Six teeth were found and dentist here stated that the age of the child was approximately seven years. Beads and other Indian ornaments were found in the urn. A special glass case has been ordered to hold the relic in the museum.

The Urn was two feet high and one and one-half feet in circumference. The child was put in the vase in a sitting position. The vase had a lid and a small opening at the bottom. It was shaped like an old Egyptian vase and had probably been buried more than a century.

Sophomore Commission 1931-2 Named

The returns of election of the members to next years Sophomore Commission were read in the regular chapel exercises of the Georgia State College for Women Wednesday, April 22. The following students were elected: Lucy Hearn, Mildred Connell, Margaret K. Smith, Christine Goodson, Dorothy Smith, Virginia Tanner, Louise Hatcher, Jeannette Tigner, Marie Parker, Evelyn Turner, Carol Reed, Sue Mansfield, Hattie Carter, Katherine Lawrence, Grace Creel, Miriam Lanier, Betty Watt, Marion Brown, Amelie Burrus.

"Seeing the Invisible" was the subject of the thought provoking and inspiring vesper service, lead by Miss Nell Coleman, Thursday evening, April 23.

"Man can look up along the tie that binds us to our God, and only by keeping this hold strong can man live the full rich life and learn to see and appreciate the invisible," Miss Coleman said in closing, after clearly showing the value and ability of "seeing the invisible."

NOICE!

There will be no edition of The Colonnade next week due to lack of funds. Subscribers please pay your subscription this week to Lavonia Newman, Treasurer.

Thank you,

EDITOR

THE COLONNADE
PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY STUDENTS
OF THE GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN CORNER HANCOCK CLARK
ST. MILLEDGEVILLE, GA.

"Entered as second-class matter October 30, 1928, at the post office Milledgeville, Ga., under the Act of March 3, 1879."
Subscription Rate, $1.00 per year

COLONNADE STAFF 1930-31
Editor-in-Chief Margaret Trapnell
Managing Editor Sara Stokes
Exchange Editor Virginia Luke
Treasurer
Lavonia Newman
News Editors
Mary Rogers — Caroline Russell
Editorial Staff
Bobbie Burns — Virginia Keenen
Kethryn Vinson
Alumnae Editor
Susie Dell Reamy
Y. W. C. A. Editor
Claire Flanders
Society Editors
Oscie Respass — Savannah Foster
Circulation Managers
Eulalie McDowell, Mary Snow Johnson; Dorothy
Lowe; Lavonia Newman; Virginia Smith;
Mary Driskell; Sara Morgan; Margaret Rucker.

Reporters
Rebecca Markwalter, Virginia Smith, Martha Shaw,
Lillian Leadbetter, Elizabeth Cowart, Dorothy
Lowe, Mary Snow Johnson, Lavonia Newman,
Mary Bell Gibson, Marguerite Arthur, Virginia

Social

Mr. C. A. Wells of Atlanta visited his daughter, Frances Wells at Ennis Hall, Thursday and Friday.

Misses Mable Stephens and Miss Rosalind Arnold of Decatur, Ga., visited the Decatur girls, Monday April 20.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wesley of Atlanta, Ga., visited their daughter Rebecca Wesley in Ennis Hall Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Ennis spent the week-end with her mother in Atlanta at her home on Juniper street.

Miss Lila Amis spent last week-end with her sister, Eloise.

Miss Sara Callahan, of Atlanta, spent the week-end with Christine Dekle.

Miss Elise Stone visited friends on the campus last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Webb and aiva of Roberta, spent Sunday with Pearl.

Misses Jane Etheredge and Jane Brownlee, of Jackson, spent the week-end with Fennie Brownlee.

Miss Louise Cobb, who teaches at Vidette, Ga., spent part of the week-end with Susannah Foster.

Miss Frances Morgan of Columbus, spent the week-end with her sister, Elizabeth.

Mrs. H. C. Pearson of Haddock, visited Helen Sunday.

Misses Martha Carmichael and Janie Callahan, of East Point, visited friends during the week-end.

Miss Nellie Clyde Boyd spent the week-end with Miriam Gordon and Mannie Lou Walden.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell and John visited the Danville girls Sunday.

Miss Nell English of Griffin spent Sunday here Wednesday with her sister, Nora Ethel English.

Mr. W. H. Hearn of Eatonton, visited his granddaughter, Lucy Hearn Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Sumner of Dublin, spent Sunday with Frances Crawford.

Grace Menter had as her week-end guest her sister, Elizabeth.

Miss Mary Williams of Greensboro, visited the Greensboro girls on Sunday.

Inez Wilson spent Sunday with her sister, Lena Mae Wilson.

Mrs. J. E. Baker of Summerville, spent from Wednesday through Friday with her daughter, Eddie.

Julia Boswell had as her week-end guest Miss Jewel Carson of Talbotton.

Miss Betty Jane Pieratt and Miss Lucy Adams of Covington, spent the

A TRUE PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

No more movie thrills for me! I'm ready to leave my share to the professionals. I've always (until recently) wondered what I'd do in a case like that—my meeting a train midway across a tressel, I mean. Movie heroes either hang on a tire till the train speeds by or make picturesque dives into the water below. Well, last spring I had a chance to see what I'd do, and when it came I wasn't so anxious to know. Just outside of Lynchburg, Virginia, the James river is nearly half a mile wide. There is a double track tressel at this point. Lou and I had always wanted to walk the track so one day we started out. "Oh, it's safe enough," we agreed. "If a train should come on one track, we'd just have to wait on the other till it passed." But fact is stranger than fiction, and the inevitable does happen. We were about half way across when we heard a rumble. In a moment we could see a train approaching around a curve on the left track from the far bank. Excitedly we moved to the right track and waited. Excitement turned to horror when we realized at the same moment that another train was coming on the right track.

It was impossible that they were to cross at the same time! But if impossible, why two tracks? This was no time to reason. The tressel was trembling with the vibration of two huge engines—not a hundred yards away. Below—far below—was the river. Then I saw the fire barrels, huge water containers kept on little platforms on the tressel for emergencies. I jerked Lou down the track to one of these. We squeezed in between the barrel and the platform rail. The tressel was shaking as if in an earth quake. Here was a rush, a roar, and a dash of dirty smoke. Two gigantic black objects rushed by, he force of their speed nearly swept us with them, but we clung to the greasy barrel and held our breath. A moment a horrible moment—and it was over. The trains disappeared into the pines on the bank and were away toward the mountains. Weak, but more thankful than we had been in a long time, the two of us sank down on the tracks out there over the James. There was but one thought between us—"Never again."

Sophomore commssion, accompanied by Miss Polly Moss, Nora English and Vera Hunt, hiked to the river and had a picnic lunch Monday afternoon.

Members of the Freshmen Council hiked to the river Monday afternoon, April 20, for an allround good time and a picnic lunch. Miss Polly Moss went with them.

week-end with Betty Jane's mother, Mrs. Pieratt.

Mrs. Kennedy of Atlanta, visited on the campus Sunday. She will be remembered by the student body as Eleanor Ennis.

Miss Sara McElroy, of Eatonton, spent Friday with Dot Knight.

Among the girls fortunate enough to have their parents visit them during the week-end were Evelyn Howard, Frances Jackson, Inez Doyle, Marguerite McCommons, Eleanor Adams and Katherine Hodges.

HARRIS HALL'S

Mother's Day May 10th. Send Her A Box of Norris Candy

When You Want Your Old Shoes Made Like New—Bring 'em in or call—

HARPERS & HARPERS Shoe Shope Call 215

Don't Forget to Send Mother A Mother's Day Card. Next Sunday is Mother's Day—

R. H. WOOTEN

ROGERS

Appreciate Your Patronage

HAY'S PHARMACY

Special Whitman's Mother Day Box—Attractive Pink Boxes With The Pink Carnation——$1.50 up—

BELL'S

Special Sale of Ladies' Fine Silk Hose —Full-fashioned, Picot Top, Silk Top to Toe, All Shades Irregulars $1.95 values. Special —98c—

If You Want The Best Shop At E. E. BELL'S

G. S. C. W. For The Alumnae

THE ALUMNAE For G. S. C. W.

WE NEED YOUR ASSISTANCE

The Alumnae Association has been unable to get in touch with these people listed below. Letters sent to them at the following addresses were returned. If you can correct these addresses or give any information concerning them, please write to Miss Katharine Scott, President, Alumnae Association, Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Georgia.

List of names as follows:
Miss Matilda Eula Jackson, Newnan, Ga.; Mrs. R. A. Jackson, 1840 Mintwood Place, N. W., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Salina Jarrard, Clermont, Ga.; Mrs. Darrell Jervey, fourteenth Street, West Palm Beach, Florida; Miss Nelle Johnson, Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. Bemis Josey, 214 E. Ash- ley St., Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Heiette Pauline Keens, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. Ben F. Keller, Greenville, S. C.; Mrs. E. C. Kingsberry, 606 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Susie M. Lanquet, Barnesville, Ga.; Mrs. H. H. Lawley, Winterhaven, Fla.; Mrs. Mark Lawrence, Edenfeld, S. C.; Miss Mildred Lawrence, 2233 Nevada Ave., Colorado, Springs, Colo.; Miss Georgia Augusta Lazenby, Mar- co, Texas; Miss Marion Lee, 804 Forest Ave., Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. E. M. Lindsey, St., Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. D. F. Livingston, Macon, Ga.; Miss Isabelle Anne Long, Moultrie, Ga.; Miss Ada Loree Luke, Terl Cumming St., Augusta, Ga. Mrs. Barry Lundy, 36 Druid Place, At- lanta, Ga.; Mrs. D. J. Maddox, Mari- etta, Ga.; Miss Margaret Mann, 709 N. Cumberland Ave., Washington, D. C.; Mrs. S. H. Mann, 119 E. Ga. Ave., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Sarah Marchman, Barnesville, Ga.; Miss Evelyne Markham, 202 Clisby Place, Macon, Ga.; Mrs. C. D. Marshall, Cordle, Ga.; Mrs. D. M. Marshall, Macon, Ga.; Miss Clide Martin, Conyers, Ga.; Mrs. Henry Martin, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. T. W. Massey, 720 Hyde Park Ave., Tampa, Fla.; Mrs. M. I. Mathews, 1420 Phelan St., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Ruth Mauldin, West View Apt., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Myrleen Merk, 139 Gordon St., At- lanta, Ga.; Mrs. C. M. Merrill, Har- rington, Ky.; Miss Annie Sue Milner, 153 Briarcliff Rd., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. C. L. Mitchell, Crumps Park, Macon, Ga.; Miss Corbett Mitchell, Montezuma, Ga.; Mrs. S. H. Moore, Hagerstown, Md.; Mrs. Arver H. Moseley, 2018 Thomas Ave., Colum- bus, Ga.; Miss Frances Hortense Moses, 75 Williams St., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Ben Muckinfuss, LaGrange, Ga.; Mrs. H. E. McAuliffe, 657 West Ave., Augusta, Ga.; Mrs. J. D. 438 Eleventh E. 39th Terrace, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Ned McClure, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miss Maybelle McConnell, Mar- low, Ga.; Miss Esther McCrary, Bay- lor College, Bolton, Texas.; Mrs. J. L. McGhee, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. R. K. McLean, 923 S. W. 12th Ave., Miami, Fla.; Mrs. J. B. McLendon, Orlando, Fla.; Mrs. E. T. Nichols, Inglewood, Calif.; Miss Frances O'Barr, 37 Brantley St., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. M. E. Owens, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. Oscar Owens, 292 Whit- ford Ave., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. E. P. Padison, Burgaw, S. C.; Miss Ollie

Parker, Washington, Ga.; Mrs. Henry O. Parr, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. George W. Pattison, 2915 Conn., Ave., N. W., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Katherine J. Patton, 506 S. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Malone Piper, Lakeland, Fla.

ALUMNAE TO GIVE BIRTHDAY PARTY TO SENIORS.

The Alumnae Association cordially invites all the Seniors to a birthday party to be given in the the College Tea Room at 8:00 o'clock, Monday night, April 27, 1931. Bring your sense of humor and gay spirits to your birthday party.

MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY HONORED

Dr. Juanita Helm Floyd was recently elected President of the Department of Modern Foreign Language, at the annual convention of all Educational Forces held April 13-18 in Macon.

During the meeting, Dr. Floyd spoke on "Some Objectives of the Teacher of French."

Miss Espie Campbell, state super-visor of Home Economics, spoke in the regular chapel exercises of the Georgia State College for Women, Friday April 24, on "The Importance of Name Making Training."

"We are looking to our homes for our future citizens and these citi-zens will determine what kind of nation we have," Miss Campbell said. In the course of the speech Miss Campbell said that the welfare of the home s depending on three consid-erations: Wealth, Training in Home Membership, and vocational effi-ency and touched on how the present Home Economic training is aiding in the meeting of these needs.

The pageant on the women of the Bible written by Miss Katherine Scott was presented at the vesper services of the Georgia State Col-lege for Women Sunday, April 26, by Miss Scott's Bible Study Class.

a lovely smile of a person who knows a wonderful secret came over her face. The note read:
Dear One:

In this little box you will find our first savings since we decided we really loved each other. Keep them and when we have enough if you still think you would like to cook my coffee, toast and eggs and also darn my socks we will see the preacher man who is waiting. Each penny here brings a message of love to you from

JACK

HAVE WE YOUR PERMANENT ADDRESS?

Please send the following information to:

MISS SUSIE DELL REAMY Alumnae Editor

79 Mansion, G. S. C. W.,
MILLEDGEVILLE, GEORGIA

Your Maiden Name
Year Graduated or Attended
Occupation
Permanent Address
Your Married Name

WHITFIELD COUNTY
GIRLS AT G. S. C. W.
MILLEDGEVILLE 1930-31

THE NEW SPECTRUMS

At G. S. C. W. the student body has been looking forward to the arrival of the new Spectrum just as they watched for the first robin. We had heard that the annual had been entirely paid for with approximately three cents left over. Was it possible for the Spectrum to be out of debt? Then other rumors kept coming—new views of the campus, a different cover, a beautiful spectrum in colors for the frontispiece, original drawings of the uniform from the beginning until now, and even a few new pictures of the faculty! When "Kay" told us they were coming we began to get anxious. How could one lone little editor and her staff make so many outstanding and original changes in just one year? We were in such suspense when they came last Monday that we crowded around in groups of fifty or more to get a glance at the few available staff copies, so that we could put our questioning minds at rest. Every word of the reports was true and much more. Everything—even down to the jokes—was creditable. "Kay," we know you spent hours of your leisure time to give us something to be proud of and we surely appreciate it. Your business managers did a fine job of the ads, your staff gave you all their support and co-operation and you stuck it all together—Won't you please autograph my annual?

GLORIOUS OR DISGRACEFUL

Through education alone can sentiment be aroused against corrupt officials. Through education alone can law and justice be fully upheld. Through education alone can Georgia establish a good school system. Through education alone can state institutions such as the jails and asylums be made presentable.

The Georgia education association and the Parent-Teachers association have a tremendous task facing them, but this task must be viewed optimistically. The boys and girls of the coming generation will not have lived under the same condition as their parents, they will not be bound by the same superstitions; they will not be hindered by the same prejudices; they need have no fear of political entanglements; they can begin life with clear minds and unbiased opinions.

So in the hands of our educators we must lay the future of Georgia, whether it be more disgraceful or whether it be as glorious and fine as it once was.

—Extrated from Mercer Cluster.

RECENT DISCOVERY ON CAMPUS

Last week, a student of the Georgia State College for Women, discovered by accident in an old library book which she had checked out from the college library, a letter, yellow from age, postmarked, "Alpharetta, Ga., Sept. 25, 1918." It was addressed to a former student of G. N. L. Atkinson Hall, Milledgeville, Ga.

The contents of the letter were similar to those the average college girl receives from her chum back home. Homesickness, society, boys, and love were the chief topics discussed. However, the entertainments at that time were evidently different from the dances, parties and "flings" that the modern girl now writes about; for a school sing, a goober picking, and Ringling Bros. Circus had held the attention of the writer during the week in which she wrote the letter.

During the thirteen intervening years many, many, changes have been made on the campus. The faculty has been more than doubled, the enrollment so enlarged that four new dormitories have been filled, and from a normal school of Junior rank has grown a grade A College of arts and sciences and a teachers college equal to the best in the nation.

At the usual feast time hour on Sunday night, 401 and 402 Bell Annex entertained delightfully with potato salad and crackers, tear and sandwiches. Those who enjoyed the occasion were: Sue Mansfield, Reba Paul, Virginia Luke, Dot Cleaper, Geneva Hussey, Bill Marshall, Sadie Garrett, and Annie Wortham.

KNICK—KNACKS

When Miss Tucker called the roll of her Monday sight-singing class "Blit" Davis was missing.

"Miss Davis, Mary Lyle," Miss Tucker repeated for the third time.

Marion Napier bravely speaking up for her friend said, "she's coming Miss Tucker."

"So's Christmas," was the comeback.

At last we have found a way to obtain perfect silence in a classroom—a way that has been tried and proved—just let the teacher ask a question.

The Literary Guild surely made money on that visit to Mr. Edwards—all of the members paid their dues, it might be a good idea for some of the other clubs to try the same scheme. Macon surely seems a popular place among the G. S. C. students—like honey to a fly.

The student body is beginning to clamor for more original announcements in chapel—not of the "yoo hoo" kind however.

Marguerite Arthur has the well-deserved reputation of being the most truthful girl on the campus—ask any member of the French 22 class.

Lots of the girls were very thankful when Dr. Beeson made his short talk on communication with members of the opposite sex—they were hoping that the lecture would scare away their rivals. The worst part of the whole affair was the lack of respect shown Mr. Lundy—the girls are so thoughtless sometimes.

Campus coincidences—when the boy friend sends a "special" saying he happens to be going home the very same week-end you've planned to go.

When you happen to be a little "rusty" on a certain English class and the teacher is called over to a very important meeting in Dr. Beeson's office.

When two girls happen to get letters from the same boy in both of which he declares that girl to be "the one."

We wonder if any of the pictures in the new Spectrum can be seen now—through the autographs.

Reuben, Reuben I've been thinking.

This world would be G. S. C. If the men were all transported. Far beyond the Northern Sea.

MRS. BRANNEN DONATES VALUABLE BOOKS TO HISTORY MUSEUM

Mrs. D. W. Brannen of this city has donated four very interesting books to the History Museum collection at the Georgia State College for Women. One of these the third volume of the PUBLICATIONS OF THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY has on the front page the signature of L. K. Talmadge who was at one time president of Old Oglethorpe University; two have the Thalian Society book plate, namely, Louis De Montaltee's PROVINCIAL LETTERS containing an exposure of the reasoning and morals of the Jesuits, translated from the French language and published in 1831; and also a most valuable book to any one interested in church history, RECORDS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES, containing minutes from the Presbytery from 1706 to 1788. James H. Thornwell's DISCOURSES ON TRUTH delivered in the chapel of the South Carolina College is also among this interesting group of books.

FRANCES, FRESHMAN

When Frances had recovered sufficiently from her dismay to be able to see around her, she gazed around the room that was to be her own for the next months. The girl with the apple had at last become aware that she wasn't the only occupant of the room. She threw her apple in the general direction of the trash basket and jumped down from her perch.

"Hell-o!" she greeted, "I'm Sally Ware. I suppose you're one of my roommates. You may take your choice of any of the beds except the one in the corner by the two windows. That's mine."

"O yeah," drawled a new voice behind the two, and another girl came in followed by a larger girl. "That bed is ours, isn't it, Miriam?" and the two girls advanced toward Frances and Sally.

"I'm Virginia McKay and this is Miriam Crewel. I know you Sally. You came to summer school. Who is the other girl? Is she the new roommate?"

Sally completed the introductions and the four girls set to making plans. The extent of Frances' plans was to pick out a bed and suggest that they go to bed. After half an hour of polite haggling the four decided to follow Frances' suggestion.

No sooner had Frances gone to bed and stopped thinking about the deadly experiences of the day than her usual vigor and pep began to take possession of her. She suddenly sat up.

"Say, y'all, can you sing? Let's sing a little song," she yelled and struck up the first bars of "My Blue Heaven."

The other girls joined in lustily obvious of the fact that the lights had been out no less than fifteen minutes. Then there followed a series of popular songs, "Sleepy Valley," "Am I Blue," and any number of others.

After the girls had exhausted their repertoires, Virginia announced the interesting fact that there were to be two more roommates. She further stated that the two were rooming in the infirmary since one of them had an injured foot and was unable to climb steps as yet.

The night passed as night has a way of doing and morning dawned as it has since the beginning of time. Suddenly the door of the room opened and a tall black-headed girl strode masterfully into the room, and across to a trunk. She slammed the trunk open and with a great clatter, as of comb and brush against mirror, pulled out a shirt. Then she banged the trunk shut.

Frances looked at her watch. Five-thirty. She looked around to see three other heads thrust abruptly up from slumber.

"Good-morning!" announced the black-headed girl and strolled out of the room slamming the door behind her.

"Well!" explained Frances "I've heard of folks getting up at seven to get to breakfast at 7:20, but this is the first time I've ever heard of anybody getting up at five-thirty! Just let her do it again! Blundering in here at five-thirty! If she does it one more time I'm going to throw her out the window. I guess she thinks she's a chicken, getting up so early. Buddy, she'll think she's a chicken, sho'nuff, when she finds herself roosting in that little cedar tree!"

Three yells echoed an amen to Frances' outburst. Finally the girls with numbeless groans and sighs, turned over and attempted to go to sleep.

Suddenly the rising bell changed

BLUE RIDGE!

Blue Ride! The Land of the Sky Blue Water! A vertiable fairyland perched on the side of the Blue Ridge mountains of North Carolina. This is the perfect setting for the ten day Y. W. C. A. conference to be held there June 6-15. And any girl from our campus (whether specifically interested in "Y" work or not) who has the opportunity of such a wonderful two weeks vacation is surely to be envied! The other five girls from our campus who went last year join me in making such a statement.

'Twould be an utter impossibility to describe Blue Ridge on paper as it really is, but I can give you my impression, and perhaps with your imaginative ability—Nyou can visualize "this connecting link between heaven and earth, God and man," as one student has aptly described it. Better still, you must go this summer with our delegation and see for yourself.

To begin with let me correct an erroneous idea you may have about Blue Ridge—and about "Y" conferences in general. Of course the primary purpose of such a conference is to train students to conduct "Y" work on the various campuses represented; therefore the entire group is divided into discussion groups on various topics of interest on modern life—such as the racial and industrial problems, the unemployment situation, men and women relations, finance, and others. These groups are led by some of the most outstanding thinkers in the religious, educational and social life of the nation;—think what such contacts will mean to you! But aside from this aspect of the conference, there are a number of delightful things you'll enjoy doing! One spends whole afternoons following narrow mountain trails, entering into the swimming and tennis matches. At night, there are enthusiastic songs and yells around the big log fire in the lobby or on the broad steps of Lee Hall and at all times there is the delight of forming new acquaintances and discovering old friends, (for students

Freshmen at Ohio U. to Be Given New Deal

Athens, Ohio.—The freshman—traditionally the "underdog" at Ohio university—has been elevated to the social position held by upper classmen. A new ruling passed by the junior-senior governing board gives the freshman privileges equal to those of his big brothers, the sophomore, the junior, and the senior.

No longer will first year students be forced to wear little green caps and be subjected to the maltreatment of sophomore vigilance committee. These were outlawed by the new rules.

"The junior-senior board, in order to promote on the Ohio university campus a co-operative spirit among students, and to accord with the progressive institutions throughout the country, withdraws the freshman rules made and authorized by them and recommends that the sophomore vigilance committee disband," the new resolution stated.

For many years freshmen have been forced to wear green, short billed caps and obey certain rules of conduct on the campus. Violations of these rules resulted in punishment to varying degrees by the vigilance committee.

the dormitory awake and the four girls awake still angry at the roommate who had so violently interrupted their slumber. But the all important question now was: What will the other roommate be like?

What will the other roommate be like? Read the next instalment of this intyryng story of life in a dormitory and find out.

from practically every college in ten states are represented each year at Blue Ridge!)

Then in the early morning, since there is no organized program—you may wish to take a plunge in the icy-filled swimming pool or in the large blue lake at the foot of the hill. There are times, too, when you'll want to be alone—seeking through quiet meditation in one of nature's beauty spots—the strength and guidance which Jesus found in conversation with his Father. And last but certainly not least—the thrill that comes once in a lifetime awaits you when you arise before dawn and climb seven miles to the top of "High Top" in time to see "Old Sol" wink at you! There is also each year a group that makes special trips up to Mt. Mitchell, Chimney Rock, and other places of interest.

"Blue Ridge"—A place, where, by getting in touch with the thoughts and ideals of others of our own age we can adjust our own ideas, can learn to form our own opinions, and can attach to each phase of life its proper value"—Thus is the value of the conference estimated by a University of Ga., student who went last year.

In short, Blue Ridge is one of the most enriching experiences one can have!

If you are the least bit interested in gong with our delegation this June don't hesitate to come by and talk it over with us;—we're anxious to tell you even more about it!

Let's make the G. S. C. delegation to Blue Ridge this summer the biggest and best yet!

Patronize Our Advertisers

SPECIAL VALUES IN SOLE MATE HOSIERY

Sheer-Dull
Twists for all occasions
White, Black and New
Spring and Early Summer
S-H Shades—

—$1.00, $1.39 and $1.50—
COLLEGE DEPT. STORE

GREEN FROG

Foods Satisfying for Your Appetite

Second Oldest Newspaper in the South

UNION-RECORDER

"Over 100 Years' Devotion to Public Interest"

R. B. MOORE, Editor

For Mother's Day—The One Gift That Means More to Mother Than All Else—Your Photograph.

EBERHART'S STUDIO

CARR'S EMPORIUM

New Shipment of Spring Clothes
—Speciality for Sprots and Evening.

ODORLESS CLEANERS

2 Dresses for$1.00

MOTHER'S DAY SUNDAY, MAY 10TH

Remember Mother With "Gifts That Last" from—

WILLIAMS & RITCHIE,
Jewelers,
Milledgeville, Ga.

SNOW'S LAUNDRY

Cash and Carry Prices

Dresses45c up
Shirts15c
Sweaters25c

CULVER & KIDD

Special Orders

on CANDY
and
FLOWERS
For Mother's Day