

Georgia College
Knowledge Box

---

Colonnade

Special Collections

---

5-23-1933

Colonnade May 23, 1933

Colonnade

Follow this and additional works at: <https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade>

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Mass Communication Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Colonnade, "Colonnade May 23, 1933" (1933). Colonnade. 154.
<https://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade/154>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Special Collections at Knowledge Box. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colonnade by an authorized administrator of Knowledge Box.

The Colonnade

Volume VIII.

Georgia State College for Women, Milledgeville, Ga., Tuesday, May 23, 1933

NO.—31

Swimming Party Honors Seniors

Annual Junior-Senior Entertainment Takes Place at Echetah Country Club.

Originality, variety, and delicious food, wrapped up in a wonderful time, marked the event of the Junior party for the Senior class Monday evening.

The Juniors and Seniors met at six o'clock to go to the Echetah country club in buses and cars. When the guests arrived a delightful swim in the club pool was enjoyed. The pool could be compared to a school of porpoises when all the girls were in it. Games, contests, "duckings," and diving exhibitions marked the events at the pool.

After a swim, refreshments consisting of chicken salad, raisin and nut sandwiches, cheese straws, olives and pickles, and punch and Bettys were served. Each plate had a little banner with a "J" or "S" on it, the seniors taking the plates with the "Js," and the juniors, the "Ss."

The orchestra that played at the dance Mr. Fowler gave three weeks ago played from eight-thirty to eleven for the dance in the club house. The idea for the decorations of the club house centered around the theme of a yacht and the sea. A gangplank took the place of the steps to the terrace, which was decorated to represent the deck of a yacht, and the walls of the club house, scenes from a yacht trip in the tropics. Mural crepe paper designs of flying fish on foam-flecked waves, a harvest moon rising behind the palms on a desert island, sailors dancing the hornpipe, and ships abreast curling waves transformed the club house into a veritable cruise. The orchestra was in a life boat, and the stewards wore yachting uniforms.

The program followed the same idea, also. The four tap-dancers wore yachting suits, and their dance was based on the traditional hornpipe. The dancers were Amelia Burrus, Mary Posey, Margaret Hefferman, and Evelyn Turner. Laura Lambert sang several popular selections, and Ma belle Swann did a solo tap dance.

HISTORY CLUB HAS LAST MEETING

The History Club held its final meeting of the year when it entertained with a most unique and interesting party. The club members met at 5:30 on Thursday, May 11, and rode out to the end of the track on the dummy, that funny little train street car affair that runs out to the sanitarium.

After the amusing trip out there, the members stopped for a delicious picnic supper at a spring, returning to the campus at seven.

Popular Speakers For Commencement

DR. J. E. SAMMONS, MACON PASTOR, AND W. T. ANDERSON, EDITOR OF MACON TELEGRAPH, TO DELIVER ADDRESSES.

Rev. J. E. Sammons, D. D., pastor of the Vineville Baptist Church in Macon will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon at the services Sunday, June 4, and Mr. W. T. Anderson, editor and publisher of the Macon Telegraph, will give the address at the graduation exercises Monday, June 5.

Dr. Sammons is a native Georgian, a graduate of Mercer University, and has held pastorates in several cities of the state before coming to Macon. He is president of the Georgia Baptist Convention and is a popular and delightful preacher and speaker.

Mr. Anderson, also a native of Georgia, has been with the Macon Telegraph since 1888. His editorials are clear, concise, and forceful. He has served as president of the Board of the Sixth District A. and M. School of Barnesville and as a member of the Bibb County Board of Education since 1908.

CLASS OF 1913 PLANS REUNION

The class of 1913 is making preliminary plans for a class reunion to be held at an early date. A committee consisting of local members of the class, Katherine K. Scott, Marie Stemburidge Echols, Winnie Perry Conn, and Gusie H. Tabb sent cards to other members of the class asking if they wanted a reunion. The committee is pleased with the responses and everybody thinks it is a good idea.

A next letter was sent out by a group in Augusta; Maggie Veditto White, Sadie Reese, Ruby Johnson Horton, May Holmes, and Margaret Colson Hurst.

One of the graduates who is very enthusiastic over the reunion, wrote this:

"We shall be pleased with anything that you decide to do. We shall interpret things in terms of ourselves, have a good time, and come home happier and even more satisfied with our own lives—the single ones glad they

(Continued on Back Page)

Reconnaissance Club Elects New Officers

The Reconnaissance Club of the geography department held a call meeting last Friday afternoon for the purpose of electing the officers for next year. After a short business meeting, the following officers were elected: Kathryn Johnson, president; Margaret Wenzel, vice-president; Sarah Skinner, secretary; and Oteria Jackson, treasurer.

Committee From University Gives Vesper Program

Abit Nix, of Athens, Is Principal Speaker.

A deputation committee from the University of Georgia Y. M. C. A. visited the campus Sunday night at the vesper hour. Mr. Edward Secret, Y. M. C. A. secretary at Georgia, was in charge of the deputation committee, and Mr. Abit Nix, a prominent lawyer of Athens was the principal speaker. Deupree Hunnicutt of Athens and Claude Green of Clayton were the other speakers. Morgan Goodhart, of Adairsville, and John Bond of Toccoa, were in charge of the program.

The program was opened by a chant, "The Lord is in His Holy Temple," sung by the G. S. C. W. choir. Margaret K. Smith president of the "Y" on the campus made an introductory speech welcoming the visitors. Morgan Goodhart introduced the speakers and acted as chairman.

The first talk, given by Deupree Hunnicutt, was on "Indifference, Our Attitude Towards God." His talk was made definite and impressive by the concrete examples he used. He pointed out that religion today was a matter of form, something that one did in his spare time. That is not as it should be, for God should have the whole of one's being.

"A Challenge to Duty" was the topic discussed by Claud Green.

He brought to mind that the challenge which sent the Arthurian knights in search of the Holy Grail is still a challenge to the youth of the world. In modern phrasing the challenge is to

(Continued on Back Page)

Tea Room Contest Results Given out

Committee Reports No Suitable Name Submitted.

The following statement was issued by the judges of the tea room naming contest last Friday after a meeting to decide the winner.

"Upon careful consideration of each name submitted, the committee decided that no name was suitable. The committee reserves the privilege of retaining the present name of the tea room which is 'The College Tea Room.' Inasmuch as Elizabeth Edwards of 51 Ennis submitted the name 'G. S. C. W. Tea Room,' which is practically the same as the present, Miss Tabb invites her to come down to the tea room and receive a 'set-up' in recognition.

Miss Tabb stated that the contest will be opened again in the fall, and asks each girl to be thinking of a clever and suggestive name for the tea room in the meantime.

Herty Medal To Be Awarded By Club

PERSON IN SOUTHEASTERN U. S. DOING MOST DISTINCTIVE CHEMICAL RESEARCH WILL BE HONORED BY CHEMISTRY CLUB.

On next Friday evening at eight o'clock, the Georgia division of the American Chemical Society will meet for the purpose of awarding the Herty medal, given by the Chemistry Club of G. S. C. W. for the most distinctive chemical research done in the Southeastern United States.

The medal is 18 karat gold and weighs one ounce troy. On the front is a bust of Dr. Herty, the date of the first medal, 1933 and in raised letters, "Pro Scientia et Patria."—For Science and Country. The back will have engraved on it the name of the winner.

The visiting members will be the guest of the Doctors Academy and the Chemistry Club at an afternoon tea from five to six, given in the Boxwood gardens of famous old "Westover Plantation," which is now being restored. At six-thirty those attending the meeting will be the guests of the college at a banquet given in the old Mansion, honoring Dr. Herty and the winner of the medal. Both honoraries are to address the meeting.

HEALTH MAJORS ENTERTAINED

The senior health majors were entertained by Mrs. Henry Stewart Wootten at her home, Monday afternoon, May 15.

The house was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, and the "green and white" color scheme was carried out in the refreshments.

Miss Louise Smith received at the door and Mrs. Wootten, Misses Agnes DeVore, Emily Champion, Farise Parsons, Carrie Hitchcock, Louise Marsh, Lois Calihan and Blanch Welch composed the receiving line. Misses Agnes Scott, Frances Thaxton, Marie Parker, and Elizabeth Harris assisted in serving and Misses Louise Hatcher and Irene Farren presided at the punch bowl.

Many friends called during the afternoon.

Dean Scott To Deliver Commencement Address

Dean Edwin H. Scott, of Georgia State College for Women, has accepted an invitation to deliver the baccalaureate address at the graduating exercises of Americus Normal College, one of the few institutions retained in the University system.

Dean Scott is one of the state's leading educators and has given years of study to the problems of education. He is one of the best qualified men in the state and his address to the graduates will be of importance.

Council Presents Musical Revue

Harriet Trapnell, Selected by Student Body, Reigns as Queen of The Sea.

The opening curtain of Activity Council's "Cinderella of the Sea" folded back before a large audience last Saturday night, May 20, to reveal Miss Harriet Trapnell, who was selected by the student body to be queen of the sea, seated on her throne. Around her were gathered her court of mermaids and her gargoyle court-jester.

With this as the opening scene, the plot developed, dramatizing the story of a sad sea-queen whose anxious and devoted subjects tried in vain to make her happy again. Choruses of octopus, jellyfish, sword-fish, shells and sponges danced before their lovely ruler, but she only grew more melancholy, until finally a drowned sea-god was dragged in. All the inhabitants of the briny deep tried to revive him, but their efforts were fruitless until the queen kissed the unconscious young god. He then came to life, and all was well.

The entire revue was dramatized with unusual talent, the acting being among the best seen here this year. The stage, decorated to present a remarkable likeness of the bottom of the sea, made an attractive background for the symbolic costumes of the players. The original dances and music, composed by Emily Renfroe and Margaret K. Smith, were appropriate to the scene, and brought forth much interest and praise from the audience.

Added features to the program were a dance by Emily Renfroe's "little sister," and a duet by Betty Watt and Laura Lambert.

The managers of the revue seemed pleased with the large proceeds, part of which will be used to send one of the members of Activity Council to the Blue Ridge "Y" Conference this summer.

H. E. MAJORS GIVEN TREASURE HUNT

The Home Economics Club entertained the senior home economic majors at a treasure hunt Monday afternoon.

After following clues, the treasure, a chest of "gold," was found at Fishing Creek by Betty Gaisser. A bag of "money" was given each senior present. They were Kat Hodges, Betty Gaisser, Velma Cleveland, Chan Parker, Margaret Ferguson, Ruth Cheshire and Margaret Muse.

Late in the afternoon refreshments consisting of ham sandwiches, potato salad, tea, and cookies were served.

Twenty-five girls, chaperoned by Miss Hall and Miss Hasslock joined in the search for the treasure.

The Colonnade

Published Weekly By Students of The GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN
Corner Hancock and Clark Sts.
Milledgeville, Ga.

"Entered as second-class matter October
30, 1928, at the post office Milledgeville,
Ga., under the Act of March 3, 1879."
SUBSCRIPTION RATE
$1.00 Per Year

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-In-Chief Dorothy Maddox
Managing Editor Claudia Keith
News Editor Alice Brit
Associate Editor Jonibel Stevens
Reporters Helen Evans, Frances Holzenbeck, Pauline Reynolds, Virginia Tanner, Mary Louise Dunn, Althea Smith, Wilma Proctor
Y. W. C. A. Editor Eulalie McDowell
Alumnae Editor Lavernia Newman

BUSINESS STAFF
Business Manager Marjorie Ennis
Typists Elizabeth Wakeford, Bennie Johnston, Patty Sonner
Exchange Editor Louise Mannheim
Advertising Manager Irene Farren
Advertising Assistant Katie Israel
Circulation Manager Sue Mansfield
Circulation Assistants Frances Dixon, Grace Paul, Mildred Parker, Leona Shepherd, Agnes McMillan, Martha Phillips, Vivian Yates, Mary Posey

L' Envio

BY A SENIOR

We stand now at the edge of a world. Soon we shall, graduating, pass from it into another universe—from which there is no return. We like to think of it like that. It signifies progress, the continual moving forward of things. But there are lessons we have learned that we should like to leave for those who must be taught, for the learning is sometimes cruel.

Most I shall say will be ignored with the beautiful, impractical self-confidence that we all bring with us into the collegiate world. Yet perhaps a word will be caught up into the panorama of the thoughts of some one person and the writing of this be justified.

From four long years, we, the seniors, say to you: first, be interested. There is no greater paying investment than interest. Be interested in your school work. If you are not, you are in the wrong place. Find out more about your course, like it or change it. You're here to learn, not make honor points. You can't carry with you always a slip of paper loaded down with A's. Make your head useful for purposes other than preventing the unrevealing of your spinal cord.

And be interested in something besides your work. Four years is a long time to spend inside these college walls. If you don't get an occasional look from the windows, the world will be a strange place when you emerge. But more important than these, be interested in the girls with whom you are daily thrown. Never again will the chance come to you to live so closely to so many people of your same age and interests. There may be rich and beautiful friendships that need but a word to unfold. How often the word is never spoken.

Then we would say to you, be persistent. Nothing is impossible if desire is great enough. And be temperate. It is, oh, so easy to find oneself surrounded by so many things to do, so many clubs to join, so many studies to follow. It is so easy, while chasing fireflies to miss the splendor of a rising moon.

And lastly, be tolerant. How often we have judged, and wrongly, because we did not know. No two persons are created exactly alike. How can we know the why and wherefore's that lie behind the peculiarities of any one personality? How can we interpret the actions of those to whom we are so close, and yet so far away?

And so with these we leave you: Then no sentiment. Perhaps I brush a tear away as I take this form from my typewriter. But it is only for a moment. Beyond lies a whole new unconquered world. We throw to you the key to the gate through which we pass—and go out with singing hearts.

Do You Know That

Sherwood Anderson once threw the manuscript of an entire novel out of a train window because he was disgusted with it?

Konrad Bercovici gets up at six every morning and writes until noon?

Gamaliel Bradford wrote novels for eight cars before discovering he was a biographer?

James Branch Cabell makes no carbon copy of his manuscript, and the one that goes to the printer is the only one?

Warwick Deeping has a degree from a medical school?

Mazo de la Roche studied to be an illustrator and uses her old drawing board to write on?

John Drinkwater sold insurance for twelve years to earn his living?

Let us remove the cause of many of our social and educational problems. The cause is ignorance of principal facts in education and child training in both the home and the school. The solution is light and yet more light on both subjects.—Ex.

should not be as happy a one as that of engineer-statesman, educator-statesman, or even politician-statesman.

It would be a splendid step forward, both culturally and governmentally speaking, if more political leaders could follow Secretary Woodin's example and show an active interest in some form of art.

PROPER EDUCATION

The Children's Bureau of the Labor Department has issued a new bulletin entitled "Facts About Juvenile Delinquency, Its Prevention and Treatment." The statistics are based on figures from nineteen courts of law serving populations of 100,000 or more.

The bulletin urges acceptance of the new point of view toward delinquency recommended by the delinquency committee of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection.

While stating that "there is no single cause of delinquency," it declares that the foundations of delinquent behavior are often laid in early childhood. A few of the contributing factors listed are: unhappy home conditions, failure of parents to understand the child, ignorance of methods of child training and character development on the part of parents, association with "gangs," dissatisfaction and maladjustment in school, generalized commercial amusements and other factors.

Now that boiled corn is again in season psychology majors have a new subject to dwell amongst. Just look around the table and see if you can tell what thoughts, if any, occupy the fertile minds of corn-chewers. Eyebrows go up in an effort to increase oral capacity, but with little success. Ask L. Carter.

Another girl has matrimonial prospects—Dorothy Hinton asserts that she didn't get educated for nothing and she has no intentions of becoming a teacher—not at present, anyway.

On Voyage to another fair damsel setting to sea and to see. Wonder what Lelia plans to do?

James Branch Cabell makes no carbon copy of his manuscript, and the one that goes to the printer is the only one?

You can't keep a good junior an senior class down even if the detriment is adolescents of unusual perversity. An—"just" to prove that a good time can be had by all when such a detriment is thwarted, the Junior Senior party went off with a grand an glorious splash unrivaled by previous ones. Even the darling daughter was unhindered. All of which reminds us that poplar trees are more popular this season for hanging ones raiment upon so hickories are destined to desolation.

Speaking of orange kangaroos, how do you like the quarter system? It won't be many a long year before the Egyptians recognize the wisdom of the nation and adopt and adapt it also.

However, where are some of those courses we've been planning to take for the past millennium.

Passed or extinct as well as obsolete, no doubt.

It has been said that college students think only of good times and social functions during their sojourn at college. Is this true of you or are working to realize material good from your studies? Are you "aiming" to set yourself above the common herd of life, or are you planning to draft with them?

No one can instill ideals in you if you yourself are not willing to accept those ideals.

If you assume the attitude that those who seem concerned in your future are intruding in your affairs, remember, that no one can create a goal for you. You must do that yourself.

You must work with an aim in view though that aim be so high that at times it seems useless to seek it.

Probably no person has reached adulthood without hearing these words:

"A man's reach should exceed his grasp. Or what's a heaven for?"

Set your goal, work toward it, and be happy in your work.

Campus Crusts

G. S. C. W. FOR THE ALUMNAE

Through the Week With the

By A FRESHMAN

Our freshman year at college has passed. We now turn our thoughts to gay, happy summer when we shall be free from thoughts of classes, term papers, and exams.

As we pause to look back over the year, have we gained anything? Speaking of the freshman class through freshman council we can say we have gained much in our two main projects.

The desire for play has been met through the recreational groups. The faculty members have gladly and willingly given their time for our hikes and parties. In this way the girls have been able to know the interesting historical places around Milledgeville. We have become better acquainted with our classmates and have learned to love and appreciate them more.

With the help of the entire class we have attempted to make honesty a greater reality. Through continued effort we feel that this project will ultimately affect the whole college. Council and the class feel deeply grateful to Christine Goodson and Miss Polly Moss for their service to us, and we feel that our success has been partly due to their assistance.

FRESHMEN COLUMN

Faculty Members On Music Club Program

The annual open meeting of the Milledgeville Music Club was held in the Mansion Tuesday evening. Many music lovers were invited to this meeting as guests of the club. The following delightful program was given.

Members of the college faculty taking part:

Don Juan Minuet—Mozart, Sundown—Borsigheim.

Peabody Violin Club

The Wind's in the South—Scott.

Mrs. Edgar Long

Sonata Opus No. 2—Beethoven.

Fen Follet—Jungmann.

Miss Mary Louise Cox

One Fine Day—Puccini.

Mrs. L. P. Longino

Viennese Melody—Heuberger.

Kreisler.

Gavotte—Beethoven, Arr. by Kramer.

Miss Horsbrough

The Old Refrain—Kreisler.

Trees—Rasbach.

Mrs. W. Y. Mason

Venetian Barcarolle—Godard.

Miss Jenkins

Dream Garden—Nell Womack

Hines.

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy for our beloved goldfish, "Shorty."

Gent and Monk

Mrs. Hines Honored On Mothers' Day

Dorothy Ellis And Frances Dunwoody Give Recital

Mrs. Nelle Womack Hines was honored three times during the week centering around Mother's Day by the Milledgeville Garden Club, the Milledgeville Music Club, and Mrs. Bernice Brown McCullar's Bible Study class at G. S. C. W.

The junior piano-forte recital of Miss Dorothy Ellis and Miss Frances Dunwoody was given Tuesday evening at seven o'clock in the auditorium.

Each student presented five numbers, including selections from Bach and Mozart. Besides these Ellis rendered "May Night" by Miss Palmgren and Rebekoff's "Marche." Her last number "Benedict Barcarolle," from Godard, was exemplary of master of technique and delicate touch.

In a very capable manner Miss Dunwoody played Studnitz's "Serenade" which was followed by "Sous Bois" from Staub. A fitting climax came with the rendition of "Polonaise" by Macdowell. Closing the splendid program was an arrangement for two pieces, "Minuet and Gavotte," by St. Saens.

Mrs. A. L. Glass and her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Durrett of Atlanta were the guests of Miss Nan Glass last Sunday.

Miss Marie Parker spent last week end with her parents in Atlanta.

Mrs. Gene Mason and Mrs. A. B. Mason, of Atlanta, visited Miss Frances Holzenbeck last Wednesday.

Miss Louise Hatcher was the guest of Miss Doodle Conine at her home in Forest Park, Georgia, last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Ingram of LaGrange, Georgia, visited their daughter, Mary Alice, last Sunday.

Miss Viola James spent last week end with her parents in Atlanta.

Mrs. Alva Moore, of Griffin, was the guest of Miss Martha Ann Moore Saturday.

Miss Sue Mansfield spent the week end at her home in Macon.

Dear Miss Mix-up,

I am going with a college boy that I love dearly and also with a rich old millionaire whom I despise in spite of his money. Please advise me.

All-in-a-trance

Come out of the truce. It's all very simple. Marry the college boy and send the millionaire's address to me. I need heart balm!

Dear Miss Mix-up,

I have a date every night in the week and all the boys spend all their money on me. I can't help it if I'm so popular can I? Would you call me a flirt?

Dated Angel

Why Angel,

No, you're not a flirt! The word's GENIUS.

Lotta

Dear Miss Mix-up,

I am a Mercer freshman, and my girl friends simply "adore" orchids, cause they are so rare. I can't afford them, so what must I do?

Collegiate

Orchids are scarce than girl friends!

Lotta

Dear Miss Mix-up,

I want to thank you, and so does lovey-dovey, for your wonderful advice. We are happily married all because of your advice. Always remember that you have our undying love and appreciation.

Newlyweds

Thanks a great deal for them kind words, but I'd wait a while to thank me! You never know what'll happen in these troubled times!

Cheerfully,

Lotta

Philip Space, ole pal,

So you tried my advice and now want a lawyer! The graduating classes are full of the budding crop this year, so attend the exercises and pick out your type. And—halfance on the all-money!

Thine,

Lotta

Nelle Edwards Named

Editor "The Wesleyan"

Nelle Edwards, who was a student at G. S. C. W. last year, has been named editor of "The Wesleyan," the literary magazine of Wesleyan College.

No plan to restore prosperity will work if the people can't—

Norfolk Virginia-Pilot.

THE ALUMNAE FOR G. S. C. W.

We wish to express our appreciation to our friends for their many kind expressions of sympathy for our beloved goldfish, "Shorty."

Gent and Monk

(Continued on Back Page)

University Committee
Presents Vesper Program

(Continued From Front Page)
go search and find the answer to the problems of peace, world fellowship, and acceptance of Christ.

Abit Nix spoke of the reason for education. He asked several potent questions, "why is it necessary to be educated? Why not grow up like savages? Why do our fathers and mothers spend thousands of dollars for our education and why do we spend twenty years becoming educated?" As an answer to these rhetorical questions he made the statement that an education made one more efficient. "Education," he said, is a public trust to fit us to advance the human race and make the world a better place to live. The purpose of man is to live that he may serve the country in which he lives and the God whose banner he should carry."

The program closed with the congregation singing "Day is Dying in the West" and Mr. Seeger dismissed the group with a prayer.

Before vespers the old sophomore commission served the delegation committee supper in the college tea room.

FRESHMEN COLUMN

(Continued From Third Page)
everything that we did.

It's the funniest thing yet to see Dot sitting in the sun with her sleeves rolled up to her shoulders trying so hard to tan the top fourth of her arm. The other three fourths are of the coveted brown, but against the remaining delicate pink she looks as if she has the jaundice.

Every one is sympathizing with Miss O'Kelly and Miss Steele. Miss O'Kelly has lost her voice entirely, while Miss Steele has only one piece of chalk to last her two weeks. I don't know who is worrying the most.

Well, fair lady, I'd better hustle over and make a date with my big sister for Saturday night. By the time you get this all of that fun will be over, but I don't care. It will be just that much nearer June second!

Every smidge of my love.
Your Holly Terror

BIOLOGY CLUB SELECTS OFFICERS

The Biology Club hiked to Rocky Creek for its final meeting Saturday.

The members waded, tramped through the woods, then elected the officers. Those elected were as follows: president, Buena Kinney; vice-president, Irene Farren; secretary, Bertha Hopkins; treasurer, Dorothy Harper; social chairman, Katie Israel; and program chairman, Beatrice McCarthy.

Miss Epsie Campbell
Visits College

Miss Epsie Campbell, supervisor of home economics in Georgia was a visitor at G. S. C. W. on Friday. She spoke to the student body in chapel, and during the day she was interviewed by senior home economics majors who plan to teach this subject in the fall.

The Chicago World's Fair, it is said, will cover hundreds of acres, which seems fair enough. Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

CLASS OF 1913
PLANS REUNION

(Continued From Front Page)
are not married and tied down by families; the married ones pitying the single ones because they do not know what it is to wash little dirty faces, bind little fingers while you kiss away the tears; those who have six or more children will feel sorry for those who did not round out the dozen, and those who have only two will never understand why those same ones didn't put a person after the second one, and talk of quality and not quantity—I admit the Roman matron, Cornelia, couldn't hold a candle to me if I had a chance to display my two jewels. Oh, there will be lots of fun for everybody if we aren't too busy telling about our own to listen to the other person."

NEW COMMISSION
ENTERTAINS OLD

New sophomore commission entertained old sophomore commission with a hike to Calloway woods Monday afternoon, May 15. Each member of new commission had an old member as her date.

An exciting baseball game between the two commissions furnished entertainment. Jo Redwine and Katie Roberts were the captains; Miss Polly Moss, score keeper; Margaret K. Smith, umpire; and Virginia Tanner, referee. The new commission won with a score of 7 to 0. The winning team received for their victory a large piece of red stick candy.

After the game cold drinks and sandwiches were served.

Dr. Webber to Address
Toomsboro Graduates

Dr. George Harris Webber will deliver the baccalaureate address at the graduating exercises of Toomsboro High School on May 23. Dr. Webber is head of the extension department of Georgia State College for Women and has a close interest in rural education.

HOPE ANEW
I like for each enclosing night to come,
Bringing its thoughts of peace and home,
Tho' unfinished tasks are brought to an end,
Still another lovely morning God doth send.
A morn rich with promise of hope and love,
Gentle and pure as a soft, white dove,
A new sun which shuts out all blasted dreams,
A glorious candle lit by God's own beams.
—Janelle Jones

Miraline
Beauty Shoppe
Every girl wants to be pretty!
Why not let us help you?

COMPLIMENTS
OF ROGER'S

Agnes Smith Wins
Menu Contest

A contest in the freshmen foods laboratory classes to plan, prepare, and serve an attractive luncheon was won by Agnes Smith of Miss Morris' section. The winning class was to have its menu served in the practice home and also published.

Miss Smith's menu, judged the best by Mrs. Effie Pieratte, Mrs. J. M. Hall, and Miss Lila Lee Riddell, was as follows: potato salad, potted ham and olive sandwiches, sliced tomatoes, ice cream pudding, and tea.

Edna Bilderback Heads Commerce Club

The last meeting for this year was held by the Commerce Club on Thursday afternoon at 5:30 for the purpose of electing next year's officers. The results of the election were as follows: president, Edna Bilderback; vice-president, Lillian Jordan; secretary, Mabel Carpenter; treasurer, Elizabeth Pollard; and chairman of the social committee, Frances Stanford.

Cure for Dumbness

Jack—"This liniment makes my arm smart."

Joan—"Why not rub some on your head?"

Landlady—"A professor formerly occupied this room, sir. He invented an explosive."

New Roomer—"Ah! I suppose those spots on the ceiling are the explosive."

Landlady—"No, they're the professor."—Annapolis Log.

COLONIAL

"TODAY WE LIVE"
With Joan Crawford
and Clark Gable—

May 29 & 30

When your soles and heels need repairing—
Bring them to us.

HARPER & HARPER

GRADUATION
Cards and Gifts at WOOTEN'S

ODORLESS DRY
CLEANERS

Chandler's

SPECIAL ON STATIONARY!
25c, 50c, & $1.00 boxes
All for 25c
NOTE PAPER—5¢

BIRD STUDY CLASS ON BREAKFAST HIKE

The Friday morning section of bird study enjoyed a breakfast hike last Friday morning. The class left the campus at 6:30 hiked to the river, and had breakfast there. Many interesting birds were noted during the hike.

Members of the class are Mary Jane Lane, Margaret Edwards, Edith Perry, Ruth Davis, Louise Lipford, Leola Keese, Mary Jones, Mary Mildred Wynn, Althea Smith, Marie Parker, Mildred Connel, Blanche Cook, Pauline Derrick, and Alice Brim. Miss Mabel Rogers, teacher of the class, accompanied the group.

UNCLE JOSH'S RESOLUTIONS

I'se nebber gwine drink no mo, no mo,
I'se gwine lay off dat man_killin' booze,
Why lan' sakes alive, it'll kill yer sho,
What den? Why you'll fer ebber snooze.

I'se nebber gwine cuss my Sally no mo,
Cause no good comes frum it, an' dat's fer sho,
Why ef ver want a kickin' an' a high-faultin' blow,
Cuss away, but I'll nebber no mo.

I'se nebber gwine steal a chicken no mo
Why atter yer git 'em, dey's don' eat so good,

Cause dar's a rettilootion day a-comin' sho
When Massa's gwine git yo' block ob wood.

I'se nebber gwine fish on Sunday no mo,

Cayse anyhow, yer nebber git a bite,

An' de Lord's gwine git me, 'm jes sho

And dar'll be ghosts providin' roun' at night,

I'se made enuff ob dese brokable rezolves,

For dey sho is brokable to be sho

If I didn't broke 'em, I'd be shootin' above de stars,

Nebber to cum back, Nebber no mo!

SNOW'S
CLEAN WITH SNOW
And be Pleased

THE LAWRENCE
SHOPPE

FOR CLASS DAY—

See Our New Arrival of
HOSE, HATS, UNDERWEAR, etc.—

The Big Cone

Stop by for Some
GOOD CREAM

Electrik Maid
Bake Shop

Our Cakes, Cookies,
Bread & Rolls are baked
Fresh everyday just for YOU—

Tennilles Bus

Station

Going home?
GO BY BUS!

Fraley's

A good place for the sick, hungry and thirsty!

You are invited to the opening of our new
Beauty Parlor—Everything brand new—The Latest Equipment, Strictly Sanitary—
The best Operations—Prices are Moderate—

If you want the best, shop at

E. E. BELL'S

WE THANK YOU FOR THE COURTESIES EXTENDED US.

Steinbach's now going out of business, and an opportunity is afforded you to buy everything in our line at sacrifice prices—

STEINBACH'S