Itinerary Is Set For Pilgrimage To Historic Spots

Plans for the Pilgrimage to Historic Milledgeville that will bring thousands of visitors to Georgia's ante-bellum capital moved forward this week when the steering committee completed its list of places to be included in the tour.

Visitors will register at the court house square where a reception committee will be on hand throughout the afternoon.

First on the itinerary is the spiral stairway at the Masonic Hall, and the chair in which General LaFayette sat when he visited Milledgeville in 1825.

From the Masonic Hall the tour will lead to Old Capitol Square, the seat of Georgia's government during the most crucial period of its history.

Leaving the Old Capitol the visitors will be carried to, in the order named: Lockerley, home of Mrs. Reginald W. Hatcher; the home of Mrs. J. D. Willis, the Ennis home, Thalian Hall and the Sidney Lanier Room, the home of Mrs. David Ferguson, the Crawford home, the home of Miss Elizabeth Jones, the Cline home, the Charles J. Conn home, "The Cedars," home of Miss Hallie Smith.

Of special interest will be the "Treasure Room" at the GSCW library, where the visitors will be shown many rare treasures of the past.

The Mansion, where eight of Georgia's chief executives lived, will be the scene of a beautiful tea. This historic spot will conclude the tour.

GSCW WELCOMES PARENTS WITH PLANS FOR BIG DAY WEDNESDAY

Parents Day To Feature Comedy

Miss Edna West of the Speech Department announces the cast for "Life With Father." This is the Spring Quarter production. It will be presented on Wednesday, April 20, which is Parents' Day, and Thursday, April 21.

LITERARY GUILD CORNER

Dr. Helene Greene, "Vouza in the Solomon Islands," by Macquarrie. Autobiography of a policeman in the Solomon Islands. Good picture of the British officials.

Jean Minter, "Dinner at Antionnes," Frances P. Keys. An exciting murder mystery in the romantic setting of New Orleans.

Billie Jean Hiers, "Cloister and the Hearth," George Reed.

Amelia Bartlett, "Captain From Castile," Samuel Shellabarger. Wonderful!

Carolyn Dunning, "The Good Earth," Pearl Buck. Life in China.

Patsy Montgomery, "The World, the Flesh, and Father Smith" Story of amusing, lovable Catholic Priest. Teaches story of tolerance and perseverance.

Jane Hearn, "Keeping a Sound Mind," J. B. Morgan. Basic principled in the preservation of one's own mental health.

LOST—ONE DAY

Would you like to skip a day—pass completely by and not even record it? Well, that's what we're going to do one day in May. It's really a dream come true at GSCW. May 23 will mark the first day in history that the Jessie completely omit one day on the calendar. GSCW has observed dead week before final examinations for the past year, but never before has it had a real non-existent day.

Oh, I just found out that it was only a mechanical mistake in the calendar and to avoid any confusion they gave us two May 23's.

COOPERATION ON ELECTIONS

Last quarter CGA sponsored a week of "enthusiasm" for the lag-in school spirit and cooperation on our campus.

Is this necessary again? True—the pep up was a good one and made people wake up and seem more interested but—in the election for chairman of judiciary on Tuesday only one-fifth of the student body turned out to vote.

It seems that the students got a slight head expansion after being patted on the back by the faculty and student leaders for having such a large percentage of voters in the election for officers for the major and minor organizations. After this violent sport of interest Jessie failed to see the need for any more enthusiasms until elections next spring.

The petitions for class officers were to be accepted from Monday until Wednesday. Wednesday at noon there were only six petitions posted for the possible thirty class officers.

Tonight after returns are posted for the class officers, before you start to gripe, think, did you have a part in making it come out right?

EVERY GIRL SHOULD BE A WAITRESS

Every Jessie should have the experience of serving at least one meal in the dining hall. It's really wonderful! Why—they paid me twenty cents for just that short time.

I only had to please sixteen individuals (and they were individual) at one time.

One jolly child wondered if I would help her squeeze enough little lemon sections for a lemonade the tea was a vile color. Just as I finished squeezing lemons someone requested a new plate of salad, she didn't like mayonnaise on hers. My heaven, the second plate of rolls weren't hot, I ran back to the oven for more. Oh, I put too much ice in her fourth glass of tea, wait, I'll fetch a spoon and scoop it out. Dear, dear, I took those beans right back, never let it be said anyone found a string.

It's a good job for testing your memory, too—four chocolate, two vanilla, six tutti-frutti, two cherry ice creams. And—16 more glasses of tea to linger over since its Sunday and there are no two o'clock classes.

JITTERY EDITOR

The deadline is met, news typed, pictures developed, cartoon drawn, dummy sketched and—I have a terrible case of jitters.

Every space in the paper was filled except this one so I sighed with relief and began to wonder—will Miss Meadows commit suicide after reading this? Will the man at the Union-Recorder ask some questions I can't answer and begin to tear his hair while I am still these? Will the typist ever speak to me again? Will the retiring Editor laugh when she compares this with her last issue? Will my family renounce me? Will my boy friend stop writing me? Will the staff resign because they want no part of it?

I suppose I could go into seclusion for the remainder of the week. Maybe by then everyone will have forgotten. I keep saying to myself, "Oh Polly, don't worry about it," but then I feel the shakes coming on again.

With the friendliness and cooperation I have received from everyone on campus this week I think my jitters will be gone by the time the next issue goes to press. As for this issue, all I can say has already been said, "Give me this day my daily idea and forgive me the one I had yesterday."

P. E. may mean Physical Education for Some People but it means Physical Emulation for Me.

YOUR VERY BEST FRIEND

Remember, dear friend, this might be the gal down the hall or the next door neighbor. . . . It could be your roommate or it just might be YOU.

But, Couldn't you just murder the character who . . . comes into your room to check her homework with yours and just by some strange coincidence didn't have hers to begin with? . . . gets up at six o'clock in the morning and runs up and down the hall doing her early morning chores? . . . borrows your new red coat, and if that's not bad enough conveniently forgets to return it? . . . breaks a P.D. sign just when you have to study to read you her amour mail from some jerk you've never heard of, nor care to make the acquaintance of? . . . is always out of ciggy butts and borrows your last very night just when you're dying for a drag? . . . receives a telephone call and gives a Lone Ranger yell galloping down the hall, knocking everyone in her path by the wayside? . . . can smell a package from home three floors away—the food fiends and sow hounds who eat you pie to the last crumb? . . . complains loud and long that she flunked the test she studied 6½ hours for; but when the grades are returned makes 98 . . . runs water in the tub at 7:00 and reserves her bath for her own convenience even if its not until 11:30? . . . writes these articles in the first place?

Beta Alpha Elects New Officers

Beta Alpha met Thursday night to elect officers and make plans for going to Lake Laurel for the week-end.

Edna Fulmer, former president, turned over the duties of president to Mary Alice Howard, Lafayette. Other officers are: Mary Jordan, Washington, vice-president; Kathleen Benefield, Arabi, secretary; and Peggy (Hoon) Walton, Eatonton, treasurer.

The club will go to Lake Laurel the week-end of May 7 and 8.

DE DEPT. GIVES FASHION REVIEW FOR PARENTS

The Distributive Education Department will conduct a fashion show for the Parents from two until three o'clock and from three until four o'clock in Ennis Rec Hall.

The review will be the modeling of clothes for a house party. The Distributive Education majors have planned to model and put on the fashion show with the help of Miss Charlotte Mankey, advisor.

Miss Adams Dean For 15 Years

Fall quarter of 1949 GSCW will have the second dean of women in her history, Dr. Frances Ross Hicks.

Miss Ethel A. Adams came to GSCW in 1934 as the first and only dean of women.

Miss Adams received her BA degree from Peabody College and MA degree from Columbia University. She taught in Fitzgerald, Tifton, Fort Valley, Hawkinsville, and Griffin. She was principal of Hawkinsville High school, head of the English department and dean of girls in Geffin High school.

In her first year here Miss Adams got a glimpse of the last vestiges of the uniform period when the dress was brown skirts and white blouses. By 1935, the uniforms were gone.

Student government was initiated in the spring of 1934, and was begun during the first quarter of Miss Adams work here. Student government was inaugurated under the charter of President J. L. Beeson, and Elizabeth Pellard, was elected first president of the organization. Dr. Wells, president, and Dr. Hoy Taylor, dean, came to GSCW the same year.

A few years later Student Government was changed to College Government with full cooperation between faculty and students. Miss Adams has always been willing to give time, consideration and helpful advice to CGA. She has been one of the strongest props supporting the organization in the past 15 years.

One of the most satisfying things from her view has been

Sophs And Seniors "Take To The Hills"

The sophomore class entertained their sister class, the seniors, at a "barn dance" on Thursday night, from 8 until 8 o'clock.

The members of the two classes came in Atkinson Rec Hall with smiling faces, Hillbilly clothes, bare feet, corn cob pipes and jugs marked XXX.

The first thing on the program was a number by the Hill-Billy band. A dashing rendition of "Birmingham Jail," was the first selection. The 350 girls moved back the furniture for a good ole' fashioned square dance with Julia Hardin calling the sets.

In one corner of the Rec Hall was the country store which was filled with free cokes, candy, cookies, and parched peanuts. In front of the store two good country cousins sat playing checkers.

The program continued with a dance by Barbara Webber and also a song by Willie Henderson. The band was greatly in demand for several more songs, the most popular being a touching version of "I'll See You in My Dreams." Nan LeMaster and June Kea sang "Tennessee Border." Jean and Joan Roberson and Ann Lane sang "You Are My Sunshine," and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon."

Barbara Webber, Atlanta, was general chairman for the party; Mary Jester, Albany, favors; Fran Holst, Macon, decorations; Dot Ward, Arlington, orchestra leader; Katherine Willis, Marietta, refreshments; Peggy Rudder, Druid Hills, music; and Dot Pinkston, Atlanta, emcee.

The favors were shamrocks with the name and date and place for autographs inside.

BELL ELECTS NEW SECRETARY

Haywood Deane of Griffin, has been elected secretary of Bell Hall.

Haywood is in the upper-classmen home economics club, has been on the Westminster Fellowship Council, and is a member of the Folk club.

the change in attitude toward the campus. Her tendency has been for classes to live in certain dormitories so it would no longer be possible for a student to live in the same dormitory for four years. This would eliminate the building of the exclusiveness of a sorority whereby certain dormitories enjoyed greater prestige than others.

Miss Adams is responsible for many things that we enjoy here on the campus today. Every Jessie is certainly indebted to this busy, but happy worker. You will never find Miss Adams too busy to stop and talk over any problem or just chat with a student. She attends our special events, like Golden Slipper, Annual Hikes, College Theatre, and anything that might determine how a Jessie lives.

One of Miss Adams' contributions that will never be forgotten is the cherished Golden Slipper. She bought the slipper at an antique shop on Allen Street in New York. The program was started as a sort of playnight, and not expected to last long. The contest has grown to be one of the most thrilling events of our college year and has proved itself to be one of the best plans of cooperation on the campus.

THE COLONNADE April 19, 1949

Presbyterians Elect Westminster Heads;

The Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church elected officers recently. Ann Fleming of Thomasville, was elected president; Pat Wall, Savannah, vice-president; Bobbie McKinney, Jacksonville, Fla., secretary; Dorothy Hansard, Hapeville, treasurer; Martha Adkins, Elmore, social service; Pat Deane, Hapeville, Sunday School; Elizabeth Sheltton, Newnan, chairman of publicity; Haywood Deane, Griffin, personnel; Louise Moore, Decatur, social recreation; and Jean Bridges, Macon, social dietitian.

Two boys from GMC will be chosen on the council at an early date.

The group will entertain at a banquet on April 30. Louise Moore will be general chairman for the dinner. The theme will be "Maytime." The alumnae for the past four years will be present. ## Freshmen Dance To Theme Of "Moonlight, Roses"

The members of the Freshman class and their dates danced to the tune of "Moonlight and Roses" through the beautifully gilded gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock Saturday night, April 9.

The music for the occasion was provided by the Nomads, a five-piece orchestra from Atlanta. General chairman for the dance was Linda Buck, Decatur, Her co-chairman was Phoebe Trulock, Climax. Other chairmen were: Decorations, Dorothy Turner, Tifton; invitation, Judy Taylor, Decatur; refreshments, Joyce Deane, Decatur; clean-up, Marian Killingsworth, Fort Gaines and Evelyn Knight, Atlanta; program, Barbara Teate, Thomasville.

At nine o'clock, Mr. Mangifaco, freshman class sponsor, introduced the class officers: Patsy Evans, Wadley, president; Linda Buck, Decatur, vice-president; and Ann Garrett, Swainsboro, Locial Horne, Moultrie, secretary; treasurer.

The program included a ballet by Joanna Funk, Augusta, "Embraceable You" was sung by Thelma Payne of Elberton. "Night and Day" and "It Had to Be You," by Charlie Davis, GMC, and two novelty numbers, "Be-cause," and "In the Mood," by Dot Ward.
