Emory Professor To Receive Herty Award Saturday

On May 7, Westover, the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Lindsey, will be the scene of a tea that will mark the beginning of a chain of events honoring Herty Day. It has been estimated that five hundred guests will be present at the tea, which is to last from 3 o'clock until 4:30 o'clock p.m. in the program.

Second will be a supper on the front campus of GSCW of which the student body, faculty, and Herty Day guests will attend.

Following the lectures which will begin at Russell Auditorium at 7:30, there will be a presentation of the Herty Award. The award will be presented this year to Dr. Osborne R. Quayle, who is the professor of chemistry at Emory University.

Immediately following the lectures and presentations of awards there will be a dance on the tennis courts for the entire student body which will last until 12 o'clock. Refreshments will be served by members of the chemistry club. The dance will bring the 1949 Herty Day to its close.

Officers of the Chemistry Club are Evelyn Simpson, president; Mary Ham, vice president; Eleanor Groves, secretary; Sara Sue Wansley, corresponding secretary, and Ann Peterson, treasurer.

Wesley Group Enjoys Varied Program Here

Dr. Roy L. Smith, Chicago publishing house executive for the Methodist Church, was the speaker at the annual Wesley Foundation program here on April 30 and May 1. Dr. Smith spoke at the banquet Saturday night in the recreation center of the Methodist Church, and also spoke at the services there on Sunday.

Dr. Smith was formerly the editor of the Christian Advocate, but has been since September one of the two publishers in charge of the publishing interests of the Methodist Church. He is a native of Nickerson, Kansas, and is nationally known as a minister and lecturer. He was named in 1937 as "one of the seven most representative preachers in America."

The annual program opened on Friday night, April 29, with an Oriental Concert at which Miss Mary Bel-li Loh of Shanghai, China; Miss Chinsook Kwon and Miss Chongil Choo of Seoul, Korea, gave a musical program of songs and dances.

On Saturday night the annual banquet was held, its theme being "Maytime Gaytime." The speaker was introduced by Rev. W. W. Byington, executive director of Wesley Foundation.

The Sunday church service was in charge of the students, with Miss Martha Lou Stewart of Sumner, as chairman.

Next Year's Class Attendance Rules Announced

Dean Donald MacMahon has announced the plans of the committee on class attendance. The new ruling will go into effect at the beginning of the fall quarter.

Students should attend regularly and on time all scheduled classes and chapel programs. Attendance is counted from the first day of class meeting in the quarter. Absences caused by illness are excused on certification from the college physician. Certain absences which are due to mitigating circumstances may be excused by executive order from the Dean of Instruction or Dean of Women. Requests for excuses must be filed within one week after student returns to classes.

To enable students to budget their time more effectively and take advantage of off-campus interests of an educational nature, some freedom is permitted in the matter of class attendance. The absences which may be taken without penalty vary with the maturity of the student. The following is proposed as the scale of absences permitted without penalty:

a. A freshman may be permitted two unexcused absences in each course of which she is registered during any quarter.

b. A sophomore may be permitted three unexcused absences in each course for which she is registered during any quarter.

c. A junior may be permitted four unexcused absences in each course for which she is registered during any quarter.

d. Seniors are granted permission to formulate a Senior Code. Under this plan class attendance is a student responsibility. Seniors not under Code will be granted

The GSCW Modern Dance Clubs have completed their choreographic work for the year and are now doing the final polishing of their original dances in preparation for their dance recital on May 5.

The music used this year is of several contemporary modern composers such as Leonard Bernstein, Marius Milhaud and Dimitri Shostakovich.

The costumes and accessories have been planned and designed by the girls in the dances as the compositions were choreographed. The color harmonies have been worked out to fit the idea or emotion expressed in each dance. Several sets of costumes have been worked out to fit the idea or emotion expressed in each dance. Several sets of costumes have been worked out to fit the idea or emotion expressed in each dance. Several sets of costumes have been dyed with the same type of aniline dyes used by the Auburn Players in their stage sets in the Molere play presented here last fall. These dyes are just becoming available again after the war which is quite an experience for the girls of the club to work with.

Mr. John Gore is in charge of the lighting effects. It is expected that the new spot lights ordered by the Drama Department will arrive in time for this program. Plans are underway to achieve unusual lighting effects.

Members of the senior club are: Bettie Bonnell, Sandersville; Delma Carr, Milledgeville; Bettie

We Should Be Proud

Congratulations! to everyone who participated in making Parents Day and the Pilgrimage two of the most successful days Milledgeville ever witnessed.

The dieticians announced that 1700 people were served lunch on front campus on Parents Day. Ticket sellers at the court house sold approximately 2,000 tickets for the tour of homes on Sunday.

Parents Day was filled with fun and entertainment for everyone. Perfect planning and timing kept parents busy every minute of the day, from 8:30 until the curtain closed on the last act of "Life With Father."

Bell Annex girls won the Parents Day Award with 41.3 percentage of the parents present. Terrell Hall ranked second, having 34.6 percent present. The town girls pulled themselves up from bottom last year, to the third highest percentage of parents. By noon, approximately 500 parents had registered in the dormitories, and many arrived later.

There was a wonderful spirit of cooperation between the college and the city for the two occasions. Parents Day tied in well with the preparation for the tour of the state's Ante-Bellum Capitol. Some of the beautiful homes were graciously opened so the parents could get a preview of Sunday's spectacular events.

Most of the visitors were so busy and enthralled by the sights and beauty of the town that they forgot the weather, but even the weather cooperated beautifully.

Let's not wait until this season next year to be proud of the charm, beauty and culture around us but take advantage of the knowledge that is ours for the looking.

Situation Pretty Drastic

For the past two quarters there has been a great deal of confusion as to the meaning of a "P.D." sign. This has been talked over by Student Council, House Presidents, and other campus groups. It was decided that something should be done about the situation via the floor leaders in each dormitory.

Research found many good reasons why the signs are not as effective as they had been previously. There are many cute girls who are lucky enough to have the initials P.D.—so they conveniently strike out other letters and write Pauline Deitrich or Patty Doodlebug in their place. Then, there are those limited few who write under the "Please Do Not Disturb" a footnote reading, "except friends, maids, parents, housemothers, phone calls, visitors or anything important." You will find one on every floor who insists on writing notes to her friends or roommate. You may rear sound of falling buildings or the like from a room with P. D. on the door. This usually mean "P (arty) D(ay)".

Now, to talk about Jessies who insist on going right through the signs comes 9 o'clock recess or high water. It's always nice if you can slip through the suite, disturb one poor child trying to study or another in the midst of a bath, and go in the bathroom door, they are always glad to see you. If this isn't effective try poking a pencil through the keyhole, they'll soon notice you. The intelligent one always finds a way to get around them.

There are some girls who really mean business when they hang that sign outside, but I think that we have spoiled the meaning of the signs ourselves. They are used for so many other things than the real purpose, that they have simply become a laughing matter.

One Jessie used hers for People Dozing, another Playing Dead or maybe Party Day. Some girls who simply don't like people use them for People Dreaded. Untidy girls who are ashamed of their humble abodes used P.D.'s for Place Disorderly, Plenty Dusty, or Pardon the Dump. On the other hand, after a room cleaning the sign on the door might read Palace of Delight or Paradise Den.

If the occupants are short on spending money you might see, Pay Dollar Please Donate, or Pocket book Desolate. Some class spirited souls think up oddities like Purple Dragon, etc.

Every now and then you see some Pathetic Dump with signs pleading for quiet, reading: Professional Duty or Paper's Due. These are usually respected.

I'm getting pretty disgusted reading signs all over the campus. Some of them are just Plain Doffy. The situation is Plenty Drastic; some girls are Powerful Dumb if you ask me. Oops, the last door said Press Dodgers—well, that's the last straw.

Dig Deep

Twenty or thirty cents sounds like a very small amount of money to give to a cause that helps to prevent the fourth greatest cause of death in our state.

Hundreds of people are financially unable to fight cancer. Seven hundred people die in Georgia annually who might be saved.

The American Cancer Control Society is waging a crusade against cancer by voluntary contributions. They need your help in educating the public as to the symptoms and necessity of early treatment, establishing free clinics and research on the cause and remedy of cancer.

Dr. Amanda Johnson is head of the campus drive. The floor leaders in each dormitory are cooperating with her in this worthy undertaking. The Baldwin county quota is $1100. GSCW should contribute generously in making this a successful campaign.

Think the matter over before someone approaches you. Have your donations ready, and make it as liberal as possible. This menace toward human life deserves your support.

Jessies On The Prowl Again

By Patsy Montgomery

(This week a freshman is voicing her opinions in this column. The next issue will carry opinions from a sophomore, junior and senior on the same subject.)

Sororities are not for us! Yep, we've all heard that time and time again. Jessie is the friendly college. . . . Jessie is the college where everybody knows everybody else, and its just all one big happy family. Oh, there may be some who don't understand that it just comes natural to say, "Hey!" to everyone you meet; but they just don't understand.

Then why don't more girls come out for Student Council meeting . . . and why can't Y have more girls at Vespers . . . and why is it that just the same few go to Play Night every Saturday? Lately everybody has been wondering . . .

Well there's one little thing on campus that may be the cause of part of the trouble. It might not explain everything, but it could help.

There is the little problem of—shall we say—Cliqués. Don't look so surprised and indignant, and read on. You may not have realized that through the years such things have been growing.

They consist of 12 or 14 girls, or it may be just 3 or 4; but there is the greatest tendency on campus for certain groups to stay too much together. There is a tendency for these girls to be as friendly as any Jessie should be, and then on the other hand ignore talking or associating with any but your own little group. Then when our problems arise, all of us sit for hours and hours trying to solve them . . . in our own little groups.

We go to Y and after the first few minutes, everybody begins to wander off into their own little groups and unless you're such a dynamic personality that we can immediately adjust to any new situation, we are not in too big a hurry to come again—and the last time we were really urged to come by a Y member was first quarter freshman year . . .

Then on Saturday night we want to go to Play Night. When we get there, we see some people having the best time—but we don't know how to get in. We would like to join them, but it's not too easy to walk up and say, "We want play," particularly if we don't know the players too well. We've gotten the idea that a few of these groups had rather dance with old palsy walsy who knows her every step by heart than little ole newcomers . . . and ping pong with just our four is such a good fast game, newcomer might not be so good. . . .

OK, we don't have sororities and all their snooty this and that; but we do have our cliques where me and my buddies are just inseparable and ole new gal is just "dear dear little old new gal," or we just don't run around too much with the girls in that crowd. . . .

But why not disband for a little while and make some new friends—they're probably just as sweet and as cute as good ole Sally Jane.

A LETTER FROM JESSIE BELLE

Dear Cousin:

I thought since I didn't have much to do this week I would write you a long letter.

I have a test over the last 18 chapters of Social Science the Professor has covered for tomorrow. It only covers two centuries and I can remember just that much. I usually make better on those tests if I don't study anyway. I have the nicest time figuring the patterns out. Usually they have about 4'ds, 3 c's, 2 b's, and 1 a, and so on down the line until the test is finished. She certainly does grade them funny too. I told her I didn't deserve "F" on the last one, but she says it's the lowest grade they give in that department.

We have a term paper to write in English this quarter, but a real smart senior said you should always wait until the end of the quarter while dead week was in full swing and the library was quiet, so you could do it in one week.

Love, JESSIE BELLE

RULES ANNOUNCED

e. Class attendance for students of any class making the Dean's List will be a student responsibility.

f. Students who are on probation or are sub-standard will be subjected to sub-standard regulations.

g. Members of the various classes are permitted the same number of absences from assembly as for any regular course for which they are registered.

Field Trips:

For professional activity under faculty guidance any student may plan out-of-city visits to the total extent of three class days absence per quarter. Class absence for such out-of-city visits in excess of three days must be drawn from the student's unexcused absences.

Minimum Attendance Requirements:

To receive credit in a course the student must attend three-fourths of all classes held in the course during the quarter.

Quality Point Reductions:

Excess absences for the year will be subject to quality point reductions at the rate of one-half point for each unexcused absence.

Faculty Forecast

President Guy H. Wells will speak at Andrews College in Cuthbert and to the Cuthbert Rotary Club on May 10.

Mrs. C. B. McCuller, public relations director, will speak at the Mercer University Alumnae Banquet on May 13 in Macon, and to the students at West Georgia College on May 3.

Dr. Euri Belle Bolton attended the Georgia Academy of Science meeting at Emory University and the meetings of the Georgia Psychological Association this week.

Dr. D. C. Fuller, head of the Business Administration Department, has been elected president of the GSCW unit of the Georgia Education Association. Mr. Ted Booker of the Education Staff, is the vice-president.

D. E. Club Elects

The Distributive Education Club has elected officers for the coming year. They are: Jackie Moorehead, Fitzgerald, president; Bettye Foster, Bluffton, vice-president; Nancy Hicks, Conyers, secretary; and Claire Ais, McDonough, treasurer.

Their sponsor is Miss Charlotte Mankey, head of the Distributive Education Department.

Ennis Entertains

With Barn Dance

Ennis Hall's Recreation Hall was the scene of an informal dance Saturday night, April 23. The Ennis girls entertained their dates from eight until twelve.

Miriam Ivey was chairman of the dance committee. The refreshments were hot dogs and cokes served al fresco by the barbecue pit behind the dormitory.

During a portion of the dance a square dance or barn dance affair was presided over by Julia Hardin, who called the dances. She was assisted at the piano by Jackie Beeton.

Plans Underway For Junior-Senior Dance

The Juniors are planning a big event for the Seniors. Yes, you guessed it, the Junior-Senior Dance, with the "Generals," from North Georgia College, providing the music.

This "once in a lifetime" event which the Juniors hope will be the biggest and most successful that GSCW has had in a long time, is to take place May 14 in the gym.

The Juniors have appointed Mary Alice Howard as general chairman of the dance. The heads of the other committees are Jane McGee, refreshments; Ann Moore, decorations; Carolyn Croftwell, music; Polly Miller, clean-up; Carolyn McDaniel, invitations; and Livv Suter, program.

The Junior slogan is, "You get your date! We will provide the rest!"

Sorry! We can't tell you anything else about it! It has to be a surprise.

Skill Clubs Name New Leaders

Two of the skill clubs have announced newly elected officers for the coming year.

The Junior Modern Dance Club has chosen Joan Constantineau, Elberton, treasurer, and Dorothy Vernon Turner, Tifton, president. The Penguin Club has elected Betty Harris, Decatur, president; Mary Quinn Harvey, Millen, secretary; and Dodie Hammond, Atlanta, publicity chairman.

P. E. club officers are: President, Julia Hardin, Juliette; vice-president, Polly Miller, Macon; secretary, Marion Killingsworth, Fort Gaines; and treasurer, Katherine Phillips, Summerville.

Rec Board Retreats To Lake Laurel

The Rec Board went to Lake Laurel on Saturday, April 30, for its spring retreat. This year the new General Board for next year also went on the retreat to help with the planning of activities.

Five GSCW physical education majors were invited to participate in Wesleyan Play Day in Macon last Saturday. Those girls taking part in the Play Day activities were Louise Stephens, Jean Hayslip, Katherine Willis, Barbara Webber and Adel Rogers.

The girls from Bessie Tift, GSCW and Wesleyan were divided into color teams to compete in softball, tennis, volleyball, badminton. Later the girls had a picnic supper and returned.

There will be recreational swimming in the gymnasium pool on Saturday nights from 7:30 until 9:30.

The tennis courts will be lighted on Saturday and Sunday nights until 10:30 for student use for students with their registered dates.

Dr. Wells Entertains German Instructors

Dr. Wells entertained two German instructors at a luncheon in the College cafeteria on April 29.

When Dr. Wells was in Germany last year Miss Margaret von Pettikamer served a luncheon in his honor. Dr. Wells returned the compliment to her on Friday. Food was very scarce in Germany at that time, but Miss Puckamer served the luncheon despite difficulties.

Miss Puttkamer is a teacher trainer in Germany. She worked in several areas of the country with Dr. Wells during his stay in Germany. Mrs. Blau, director of home economics in the western sector of Berlin, is also in the United States on a tour to become acquainted with the home economics program in public schools and colleges.

Terrell Girls Honor Adams And Hicks At Tea

The social function for Terrell Hall this quarter was held Sunday afternoon, May 1, in the form of a faculty tea in honor of retiring Dean Ethel Adams and Dr. Frances Hicks.

Members of the faculty were entertained by the girls in the dormitory from four o'clock til five-thirty.

Birdie Johnson was chairman of the affair and in charge of the committee work. Every girl took part in the helping to entertain the faculty.

Wilmarose Nicholson was chairman of the refreshment committee. According to her the committee was fortunate in having the "able assistance of Mrs. Georgia Wallace," the house mother, in making the punch and delicacies which we served.

Judy Taylor was in charge of the receiving line.

Spring formals were worn by all the girls assisting in serving and entertaining.

League Of Women Voters Unites With Picnic Outings Town Chapter

The League of Women Voters held their meeting on Wednesday evening, with Mary Eleanor Chambliss, president, in charge.

Mrs. Donald MacMahon attended the meeting as a representative of the Milledgeville chapter of League of Women Voters. The college and local group have decided to unite to make a more successful chapter.

The members will go on a retreat at Lake Laurel on May 20 and 21.

The newly elected officers of the organization are, Dorothy Boyd, president, Rome; Betty Jean Lamb, vice-president, Macon; Polly Brannan, secretary, Lawrenceville; Emily Trapnell, treasurer, Milledgeville; Jean and Joan Robertson, Norcross, and Serena Wepf, Summerville, board members.

Two Dorms Plan Picnic Outings

The girls of Bell Annex are eagerly looking forward to a spring outing set for Saturday, May 14. On this day the girls of the dormitory along with their house mother, Mrs. H. M. O'Callaghan, will climb into trucks and head for Lake Jonesco. A wonderful day will be enjoyed out at the lake, with games, swimming, food, and cokes furnished.

TERRELL PLANS

The girls in Terrell B and C are counting the days till May 21. This has been the date selected for the spring social. Instead of the usual dance, they are planning a trip to Lake Laurel.

Carolyn Dunning, president of B and C, has announced that plans have been made for a truck to furnish transportation
