"TWELFTH NIGHT"

Bubblesome Comedy Given Here Recently

"Twelfth Night", Shakespeare's bubbling comedy," boiled over here last Friday night when Players Incorporated, national repertory company from Washington, D. C., romped through the frolicksome comedy with touches of perhaps the venerable Elizabethian bard's own lusty and downstage audience appeals.

The group, though young in years and experience, has made quite a record for itself. Touring the country this season also doing Moliere's "School for Husbands," the fifteen-member cast (and crew combined) are making only three appearances in Georgia: Atlanta, Savannah, and here.

Perchance it is their youthful energy and enthusiasm that captures the audience's applause, for sparingly with in the production, one caught infractions of WS's advice to the players .." and if you mouthe the speech . . . and do not saw the air with your hands thus Betty Stewart, Decatur; Martha playing, of acting, of reading the linda Abbott, Pembroke. poetical wisdoms quite overshadowed the extravivacity of the drunk scenes or the untra-solemn Malvolio.

Lucile Vogeler To Appear Here For First Time In This Region

almost single - handed campaign against the forces of oppression, is coming to GSCW for her first appearance in this entire region, Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 8 o'clock as winter quarter Lecture Series speaker. –

Hers is a story that began in Nov., 1949, when the Communistdominated Budapest radio blared out its exultant message that American business executive Robert Vogeler had been arrested on charges of espionage, sabotage, and conspiracy against the Hungarian Government." In Vienna, Mr. Vogeler's beautiful Belgianborn young wife heard the terrifying news of the trumped-up accusations.

That night, Lucile Vogeler, an American citizen by choice, with characterictic determination, launched a relentless campaign to win her husband's release. She enlisted the aid of diplomats and journalist, of secretagents andstatesmen. With sympathizers inside Hungary, she planned a daring but abortive atterm of Summer School will be tempt to kidnap her husband from Wednesday, June 11. Classes beunder the noses of his captors. Random Wonderings Or Has The Mind?

How the time does slip and slide! How many days, or is it hours, until Feb. 8-and mid-quarter? All thoughts cast aside, winter quarter was the time we planned to rest-"nobody ever scheduled anything for then"-famous last words!

A busier schedule for meetings, and concerts, and plays, and attractions could hardly be arranged—even though they did add an extra day to this month. (Most everybody under the sun has mentioned Leap Year, but us-that's because now it'll make a more definite impression-now that it's so nearly gone.)

There are still some calendars on sale in the SU for 50c . . . even if you don't really need one, you could get a couple or four just to paste in your scrapbook for this year.

You think your pocketbook looks thin this this time of the week . . . well, better start a refill from some little tree, 'cause WSSF has set a goal of a dollar per student . . . and there are a lot of Extend Your Vocal Chords students studying abroad whose soles of their shoes have worn beyond your pocketbook.

Recommended good reading for your pare time . . . isn't that just what we've been complaining about we didn't have, but anyway, for the heavy historians (and the lighter-weights also) Lydia Bailey by Kenneth Roberts-and for those who love to howl with laughter and cynicism, to refresh with philosophical overtones . . . strike for Don Juan in Hell, GBS's masterpiece, who maintains, through the lips of Don Juan that "hell is wherever women are"... and ... "the English are only being uncomfortable when they think they're moral!"

DOGS NEED RESTRAINING

No GSCW student could help but notice the number of stray dogs that seem to have made our campus their adopted home. Many of you have already complained to CGA and to the administration. So far nothing has been done about getting rid of the dogs, and as we don't have any particular affection for mangy, flea-bitten, howling mongrels either, we would like to add our voice in this campus-wide plea.

The townspeople are equally annoyed by these packs of stray dogs which roam about the city. There is a city law which requires the tagging and identification of all dogs and the innoculation and impounding of those not registered. GSCW would like to see this law enforced.

Symphony Of Death

"What is there to live for?" "What is there to believe in?"

The future inhabitants of the world auestion . . tudents in a world which is steadily diminishing n size as travel is measured in terms of seconds and minutes and hours-not by miles.

And through the midst, the clump, clump, clump of marching feet is heard. They are not the steady, happy beats of a military march . . . they are dead dull thuds of a march of the conquered.

. . just relax . . . settle down . . . don't try so hard . . . what's it getting you, after all? . . . Education-Bahl"

Some few recognize this as the voice of the oppressor-and they cry, "But we want to know!"

Stunned, perhaps, at any resistance by now the oppressor tries a more subtle approach: "I'll give you an answer . . . there is no answer but mine . . . I'll tell you all you need to know."

Stragglers listen . . . and believe. They are weary of the never-ending struggle, sick of the cold and the mud, tired of always searching, never finding . . . These throw down their books, forget their knowledge, and put on the chains. Comfortable chains? Yes-they require no thinking, only a mechanical response to the voice of th oppres-

Do you recognize the monstear of a machine? Look closely, it's beginning to require more and more people for its operation . . . see how each becomes only a bolt, a joint, an axle, just another part of-the death machine.

Yet even within the sound of its throbbing grind, there are some who refuse to be a part. It may mean a fight to stay out of its way-but they're a game bunch! Of course you recognize themstudents—and you recognize their weapon—their power . . . knowledgel

But how long can they hold out?

They can hold out so long as those who have, share only a small particle of an immense wealth! You can share!

Give your dimes and dollars and more dollars . . . to the World Student Service Fund to buy books, and food, and clothes, and equip- eq prinous ensited not upin builtemos to moust ment to fight the machine . . .

If you fight with your money now . . . you may not have to fight it with your own hands.

To The Utmost

A student at the University of Illinois feels college cheers are not in keeping with the dignity of the student. He proposes the following changes: 1. Inseatd of "Get the ball"-Obtain the oblate spehoid.

2. Rather than "Hold the line"-Impede the foe's forward thrust along the two dimensial entity. 3. For "Go team go"--Proceed, oh valiant proceed, hey!

4. Instead of "We want a touchdown"-We demand a thrust forward, maintaining as our obrjective the passage of our adversary's goal.

5. And for "Hit 'em again harder'-Henceforth, smite them more fiercely than you smote them hertofore.

Time To Plan For Your Guests

You were undecided once yourself. You were just graduating from high school and found yourself confused, hesitant, undecided as to what road you might follow the rest of your life.

Maybe you were financially hesitant or, perhaps, ignorant of the possibilities of college . . . it was all a matter of not being able to make up your mind. Two generations of this particular college group here had a chance to visit GSCW for one week-end. Three days to look over the A sharp, chilling voice barks: "Stop worrying set-up and decide for yourself if your future would mean college plus-AND if your college would be GSCW. Many of you decided that very week end that HERE was the place for you.

> On March 7, we will be holding the Third Annual Girls Guest Assembly. We're not trying to sell anybody anything they don't want, disguise any faulty facets, or force GSCW on any girl who wouldn't like this as her Alma Mater.

This week-end is designed to give high school girls an opportunity to look over college-and particularly GSCW . . . to see if our school will fit into her scheme of living. We're not showing off ourselves or our facilities—but we do want them to see us as we are.

It's time for us to start planning now-this connierence will need every single person's help . . to help carry over this program. You are the hostesses just as much as Dean Hicks or members of the faculty are.

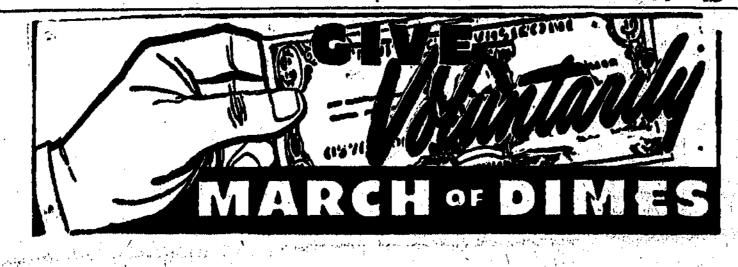

And if you are, then act the role of a hostess while you are helping the delegates to feel at home and to feel wanted and to feel a part also of this program.

Just Checking

By OLGA FALLEN and GAY PETTIT

Just to prove how versatile Physical Education majors can be, Sophomore members of the major club presented a fashion show on the well-dressed major of 1952.

The show consisted of all the various costumes worn daily by college students to Physical Ed classes. The old-fashioned "middies" of the 20's were contrasted to our own well-known uniforms, including our own useful and well-fitting leotards and tank suits. Other costumes on display were individual sport's clothes, such as riding habits, skating and golfing costumes.

The Snooper

Found Betty Bray pinned to an Emory Sigma Chi Norma Marshall sporting Ren Thorne's ATO button . . . and although the announcement is a year late, Tommie Ann Bryan carries a hunk of rock from Don Hancock that means "for keeps" . . . and almost as late, Martha Lancaster a ring from Walter Byrd, Tech KA.

Betty Fleming has been seeing quite much of Bobby Moore . . . Effie Slaton and Ellen King pick a different fellow for each night in the week . . . Sister Summerlin has waved goodbye to a Connetticut gentleman who left his ring and bracelet behind.

Maggie Neil and friend Joan Gilbert, from Miami, have been visiting Deryl, Nadine, Kathryn, and others.

ying with Bebby May . . . Betty Tucker received a pix from the future husband.

Lavinia, Dot R., and Peggy W have waved goodbye to men history from the University of friends in service - tearful, but brave through the ordeal.

TRUE PURDUE

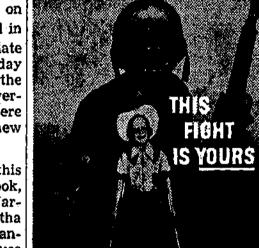

Purdue University recently held an all-university pep rally which began at 11:45 p.m. Reason for this odd hour was explained by a part of the entertainment - an attempt of a well-known campus personality to become a "true Boilermaker."
