Emily Kimbrough, Famous Lecturer, Speaks High School Guest Weekend

Emily Kimbrough was born in Muncie, Indiana, where she spent most of her childhood. Later, the Kimbrough family moved to Chicago, scene of one of Miss Kimbrough's fast paced books, Through Charley's Door.

With equal distinction she has been a radio commentator for CBS, fashion editor of the "Ladies' Home Journal," author, screen writer and lecturer, having made many transcontinental tours lecturing to all sorts of groups.

She was the obvious CBS choice to bring to the American radio public the color and crowning of

EMILY KIMBROUGH

Queen Elizabeth.

That she speaks with authority and cleverness is vouched for by her friend and colleague, Cornelia Otis Skinner, who spoke to the Guest Assembly two years ago.

Marc Connelly, playwright, has said, "Whenever Miss Kimbrough moves, something unusual happens."

Hear Emily Kimbrough confess her "scrapgoat experiences" — she classifies herself as a "scrapgoat" of one to whom things are always happening.

"Y" Discussion Group Attends Lake Retreat

Mary Lott Walker

"A Call To Faith" by Rachel Henderlite is the book which the "Y" study group will discuss at the late retreat Saturday, January 14 at Lake Laurel. The group will leave from the "Y" Apartment at 8:45 a.m. on Saturday.

This book is a study of what we believe about God and the response that He demands of individuals.

On Saturday, the group will read the early chapters of the book together and discuss it. The book will continue to be used in the afternoon study groups at the "Y" Apartment for the remainder of the school year.

Those people who are interested in going on the retreat, place your name on the bulletin board at the "Y" Apartment.

The group plans to return to the college by 8:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Guri Lee Lectures At Student Chapel

Miss Guri Lie, the charming daughter of Trygve Lie, former Secretary General of the United Nations, will speak to the college assembly on Tuesday, January 31.

GURI LIE, LECTURER

She is the only person of her young years ever to have been received at the White House, Buckingham Palace, the Palais d' Elyse and the Kremlin, — the four most important residences in the world.

Miss Lie, as her father's hostess and personal secretary, has had an unusual opportunity to become the hostess to royalty and the world's top diplomats. After her father's resignation from the United Nations, she decided to remain in the United States and become an American citizen.

Pretty and petite, Miss Lie, has led an exciting life since the day in 1940, when the Nazi invaded her native Norway and she fled with her family to England. There she completed her education at the fashionable school of Rodeau. She then entered the Norwegian Women's Army where she attained the rank of Staff Sergeant.

Miss Lie has a ready wit and a wonderful sense of humor as well as enthusiasm for her work. Her great store of anecdotes and "inside stories" of the making of recent history are fascinating. They cast a new and personal light on the great events of the last few years.

In addition to her lecturing, Miss Lie is at present writing a book based on her exciting contacts and experiences with the world's leading figures.

FACULTY NEWS

Dr. Frances Hicks Elected State Head Of Planning Group

The South Atlantic region has recently elected Dr. Frances Ross Hicks as state president to serve on the planning committee of the American Association of University Women. She will also be on the central planning committee of this national organization.

In this month's issue of Home Missions, (publication of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention) appears an article by Dr. Clyde Keeler entitled, "Manual's Sacrifice". This article is the second of a series of articles on the Indians of San Blas, Panama.

Graduation Plans Announce Change

For the first time in the history of the college, the senior class will hold its Baccalaureate Sermon and Graduation Exercises on the same day. The Baccalaureate Sermon will be held in the morning of June 3, with the family and close friends of the graduates attending. Following the Baccalaureate Sermon, those attending will be guests of the college for dinner on the grounds.

The commencement exercises will be held in the late afternoon or early evening. Dr. Fuller, college marshall, will lead the procession which will consist of faculty and graduates.

Gestetner Is Acquired

The Business Administration department is the proud owner of a new Gestetner 280. The Gestetner is a machine capable of reproducing typed, written, ruled, sketched, or photographed copy.

Among the accomplishments of this talented machine is the ability to print within 1/16 inch of the edge of paper. The speed can be regulated, as can the number of pages printed.

The Gestetner was manufactured in England and some of the parts were made in Scotland.

Our Cultural Opportunities

Through the years, the GSCW student body has been most fortunate to have had the opportunity of hearing such outstanding artists who are masters in their field.

Within the last three years, John Mason Brown, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Frances Yeend, Rubinoff, and lately Theodore Uppman have been among the distinguished personages performing in Russell Auditorium.

However, the students on campus have taken too little interest in the various appreciation hours and concerts offered as in comparison to the amount of funds spent in obtaining the performers.

Many of these artists' performances have been attended by too few students, while other students go elsewhere, or excuse themselves by studying.

The shame of the whole matter lies in the fact that the absent students are not only losing a cultural opportunity and their money, but that they will probably never have the opportunity to attend such outstanding concerts after college.

This quarter marks the appearances of Guri Lee, Emily Kimbrough, and the Irish Festival Singers.

It is hoped that all students will attend these performances so that further concerts and lectures will be assured.

High School Weekend

Do you remember your first visit to GSCW? Was it during High School? This week-end is planned each year as a means of acquainting high school juniors and seniors with the life at GSCW and with the programs and opportunities available at our institution.

This year High School Guest Assembly will be the week-end of February 10-12. During this time many girls from high schools over the state will be our guests and live as "Jessies" just as we do. And some of them will enjoy our way of life so much that they will decide to become one of us.

Yes, your first visit to GSCW was a memorable one. Thus, you will be eager to help the girls who come this year for ever remember their visit and to be proud to bear the name of "Jessie".

The Right To Vote

The right to vote - one of the greatest of our freedoms is one which we too often take for granted. It is our duty and responsibility to vote in order that only the most capable people for a position are elected to that office.

It took many years of struggle, of conflict, and strong feeling to attain for men and women the equal right to vote in elections. Finally when this right was established we had to struggle for the Negro right to vote. Now that we have won this freedom of vote, many of us too often fail to use it when we could be the one vote which might help to decide an election.

We should never take the attitude that one vote will not make any difference, because our vote does make a difference. It only takes about five minutes of our time to vote in one of our elections here on campus, but why is it that all of us do not vote in the elections? When they tell us how many voted in an election, we are sometimes proud of the number and sometimes we are made unhappy by knowing the small number who have shown enough interest to go out and vote. We should never be proud of the number until we all have participated in the election.

On January 31, we will have the election for the Presidents of the three major organizations on campus - CGA, Y.W.C.A., and the Recreation Association. This is an important election in which you will want to elect the very best person for the office.

It should be our aim to vote in this election. Five minutes is not long at all. Let's set ourselves the goal of making it 100% of voters in this coming election.

REMEMBER SAYING YOU WANTED SOMETHING SHINY FOR YOUR LEFT HAND?

Fund Raising College Drive Begins For World Students of Universities

February 6 will begin the drive to raise money for World University Service. This is the agency, sponsored by the "Y", through which GSCW supported Anatolia College for a day last year.

The traditional auction is one of an idea of how students in Greece feel about W.U.S. The drive. This is usually held in the Student Union at 10:30 on the Tuesday and Wednesday during W.U.S. Week. Those of you who have been to an auction need no sales talk to make you want to be there for this one; those of you who haven't been before will find it highly entertaining as well as profitable. This year another feature is being added - a faculty talent show. The date for this has not been definitely set, but you will hear more about it later.

World University Service is really a means for college students in this land of plenty to lend a helping hand to needy students over the previous year. Set your mind on foreign countries. Perhaps these individual goals as high as possible, so that through W.U.S. the to GSCW last year will give you spirit of Jessie can be seen.

"Y" To Sponsor Varied Projects

Here we are again - another quarter - more hard work - more fun. Y is glad to see this quarter begin for two reasons, first, Tini is back and are we glad! The upperclassmen are all eager to renew old acquaintances and hear all about her stay in New York. The Freshmen have heard so much about Tini that they are just as glad to have her back as we older birds are. So I think I am justified in saying, from the Y to Tini, a cheery "Welcome home - we missed you."

The other reason Y is glad its winter quarter is World University Service week, which will be observed in February. This is always a week of excitement on campus, with auctions everyday and our own President Stanford serving as auctioneer. Everything from cakes to week end trips to Charleston is sold and the prices really get up pretty high sometimes. We are always glad to see the bids go up and up since the point is to make money. The money we make goes to help support schools and colleges in Europe. Better start saving your money now, so you can have a part in W.U.S.

Meanwhile, back at the Y, we

Theodor Uppman Baritone Charms Jessie Audience

Theodor Uppman, young American baritone star of the Metropolitan Opera, performed to a large audience in Russell Auditorium, January 9.

Mr. Uppman's deep, rich voice was equally charming and effective in such lovely old tunes as "By a Limpid Stream" from Handel's "Mater Music" and "O'ne Prison," despairing song of a prisoner by Reynaldo Hahn, and in the light aria, "Ladies, That's the Way You Flirt," and the humorous drinking song from "Don A Quilcinic," "Chanson a Boire."

How does Mr. Uppman like singing to an audience of (predominantly) college girls? "Very nice," said Mr. Uppman. "Yes, you are a good audience." Particularly popular feature of his program were George Gershwin's "It Ain't Necessarily So," from Porgy and Bess and his final encore, the lovely ballad, "If I Love You."

Mr. Uppman did have a word of advice for young artists. He said, "You should not try to plunge right into a career; because if you do, you'll fall right back out."

Education Department Accredited By Council

Mae Roberson

The National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education has approved the teacher education program at GSCW. The approval was based upon the following factors according to word received from the Council:

"Enthusiastic acceptance of the need for preparing teachers, strong academic preparation of the faculty, unusual productivity of faculty in research and publication, wide participation by the faculty in state, regional, and national association; adequate library facilities, strong individual counseling program, and a good campus school."

Home Economics Club Meets In Chappel Hall

Beth Edenfield

The Home Economics Club met January 5, 1956 at 6:45 in Chappel Hall for the regular meeting. Nell Stanton, President, called the meeting to order.

Grace Williams, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the December meeting.

Alice Bachelor gave the treasurer's report, and Luanne Hardin told us of Hobby Night.

Alice Bachelor was in charge of the program in which she reviewed the college club standing rules. There was no further business and the meeting was adjourned.

Junior Modern Dancers Rehearse

Rehearsals Begin for Junior Modern Dance

The Junior Modern Dance Club has been busy preparing their annual dance recital.

Each member has a definite responsibility in preparation for her particular dance. A great deal of work goes into these compositions which the audience never sees. Careful selection of music, and costumes are made, also the choreography of each number is done by the girls, with the help of Dr. Beiswanger.

The program will be presented before the guests of High School Week-end, February 10.

MICKY YOUNG

Inside The Jessies Sport World

Mickey Young

"If there were witchcraft, I'd make two wishes. . . a blazing campfire. . . There is no witchcraft but the wish for the campfire came true for the Jessies who went to the Campfire Party, Saturday the 7.

It was cold at 7 p.m. when the crowd assembled under the lights, but this little bit of nippy weather didn't seem to cool off the spirits even a little. As the long procession headed for Bonner Park, the crisp night air rang with shouts and loud singing.

The light from the fire at the park could not be seen until one reached the top of the hill which is the park entrance. The flood of people swarmed the fire and the party really got under way about 7:30.

The group played charades and sang songs until someone said something about coathangers and marshmallows. The fire just was not big enough to let everyone around it at the same time but no one got left out in the marshmallow roasting department.

Good 'OLE songs about Jessie and the fine times that are had around here were hurled through the air until about 9 p. m. when the fire cooled and the toes began to do the same. The 70 some odd people that had braved the night began to start the walk home, and they may have been tired but the singing that was done along the way showed no sign of such.

An Invitation To You:

Winter Quarter. What? Basketball.

When: The times posted in the dorms, and the S. U.
Where: In the Bib Gym.

Why: So you can go out and have a good time, play a hard game, and go home tired but victorious.

Musical Movie Set For Saturday Night

Mae Roberson

Whom do you prefer, Marilyn Monroe or Jane Russell? Whoever your favorite, you may see both in the delightful movie, "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds," which will be shown in Russell Auditorium, Saturday night, January 14. Marilyn is Lorelei Lee, a gal who wholeheartedly believes diamonds are a girl's best friend, while Jane is Lorelei's chaperon. The girls are headed for a trip to Europe, but soon find themselves amid great confusion. After a mix-up with the French police, the girls untangle themselves, and all comes to a happy ending.

In a review in the July '53 issue of TIME, the movie, "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds," is described as adding "flashy songs, dances, Technicolor, a present day setting, and happy ending to Anita Loo's famed 1925 best seller about the fine art of gold digging during the jazz age."

Fashion's Fads

Sports Mold Fashions

Girls are full of Sports talk at this time of the year and so we bring to you some of the highlights in sports clothes that are first in Fashion for the winter months.

D C paragraph

The Bermuda shorts craze has carried through to the new year and we emphasize their versatility in a well-dressed college girl's wardrobe. For informal get-togethers, hikes, long trips by automobile or just lounging, Bermuda shorts are perfectly suited for informal wear as well as for dress up occasions. A silk scarf tied casually around the neck adds a flair and a striking note to an ensemble of Bermuda shorts and Cashmere sweater. A couple of heavy gold bracelets do wonders for a combination like this. Or, if you're just with some of the gang, a little boy short with French cuffs and stiff collar will look like a million dollars when it's coupled with Bermuda shorts. Of course, knee socks to match the shirt or sweater are a must and they add the finishing touch to this costume.

Tapered slacks look exceptionally well on the tall girls, so if you are a person who feels that Bermuda shorts are not for you, then here's the answer to your problem. These slacks, worn with a turtle-necked sweater, are great for travel or short trips to town.
