Letter From CGA President

Dear Student Body:

During the few weeks after my election as President of the College Government Association, I heard many pleading cries of the G.C. students--the loudest being "change, change. . . we want something changed around here." Well my friends, in trying to fulfill our duties as officers of CGA, the Executive Council has initiated several proposals for change. But to our bewilderment we find that no one has enough initiative to help effect these changes.

The one specific example that I have in mind is the recent decision of Fall Retreat to reconstruct Slipper into a unified production. We voted in a democratic manner to CHANGE Slipper. But since the decision, all I have heard is a jumbled confusion which, I suppose, is to be defined as opposition to change Slipper. What's the matter with you? What commandment says, "Thou shalt not change Slipper"? Was the GSCW or Georgia College or GSCW or Georgia College or GSCW or . . . ? What are we anyhow?

To be completely fair as possible about this, I have listened to the jumbled confusion of opposition from the students, I have thought, and I have decided that, in the best interest of Georgia College, to reconvene the members of Fall Retreat in order for them to reconsider their decision. They are the ones who will be given the chance to alter the original decision--so if you have a definite feeling about Slipper, let one of these representatives know about it.

We will be meeting on October 16th at 7:00 p.m. But I must make it perfectly clear that this will be the final decision and whatever is decided, then will stick.

I cannot end without stating a few personal comments. I think it is sad to see the G.C. students who "love" Slipper so much kill it. Yes, I feel that Slipper in all its past grandeur is dead. Change is inevitable for Georgia College. We're all being selfish and thinking of only what is best for Georgia College, now or for its future.

I also think it is the height of impassiveness when people complain of the Fall Retreat vote not being a majority vote. Well, my acutely aware friend, if you would take time to actually read the Student Handbook and the CGA Constitution you would find no mention whatsoever of a majority vote. When was the last time you read your handbook? Don't you think it's about time?

Only two or three people have taken the time to show their interest by personally talking with me about their displeasure. If you are going to take the energy to beef, why not do it to someone who can do something about it?

To you, the so-called new generation of Georgia College students, I offer this final cry--if change is what you've cried, stick by your guns and cry louder, or don't attempt to whimper. Change takes guts--it's a challenge that takes work and enthusiasm--when was the last time you thought of yourself as a coward?!

Sincerely,
Gail Stanford

What Students Think Of 'Catfish' Controversy

Larry Scott-Just because he's got a little power, they are trying to cut him.

Kathy Lusk-Who is he?

Kitty-I think it serves him right. People have a right to express their opinions and if he's going to act like he does, then he should expect some comment.

Marie Ferryman-I wish to hell people would quit talking about him.

Cheryl Croft-I think the paper is good because students can write in and express their opinions. As far as Catfish is concerned, no comment.

David Lamb-I think they have been a little hard on Catfish but I don't like some of the things he's done.

Diane Driggers-I feel that the articles and cartoons served their purpose however the paper could have been more enjoyable without them. Now that we have the latest rap on Catfish, I hope that we will no longer be plagued with all this crap.

Maxwell Cafeteria: Pro & Con

This fall quarter Georgia College proudly presented the student body with another decent building to add to our collection-Maxwell College Union. This is that super lovely building that houses the cafeteria, student union, post office, and activities offices-including that of our beloved Colonnade. However, this week we will focus our attention on the cafeteria.

Although this article will cover the cons, in detail, never let it be said that we aren't grateful for our new dining facilities. All of us who endured Atkinson last year are too grateful for words to express. So, we will look at the virtues before the vices.

We have a large eating space and the chance for a little privacy for the first time in several years. It's air-conditioned in the summer and well heated in the winter. There are no flies or other assorted pests. The wall are new and clean, and the students can have a pleasant atmosphere to eat in. It's a place to be proud of, and we are.

But, it still has its cons and in order to be fair, those must be listed, too. The food hasn't improved much if any, but we won't go into that this week. Many of the tables are designed for four people, but for some odd reason, four trays do not want to fit on the table in an orderly fashion at the same time.

At breakfast there is one poor lady behind a counter trying to fix fried eggs and over easy eggs, waffles, and toast, and other things all at the same time. Not only does she deserve pity, but so do the students trying to eat and get to class on time. Supposedly, serving time at lunch ends at 1:15 p.m., but by 1 the food is usually about gone. Tough luck for those with 11 and 12 o'clock classes.

The lines are unbearably long and it seems to take forever to get served. Students often just wish that there were three lines instead of only two. I remember of only one time when the lines moved swiftly at lunch-it was Convocation Day, and they wanted us out by 12:30. There should be more than one stand for silverware, catsup, etc.

Accept for cleanliness, space, and warmth and air-conditioning, things really haven't changed too much since Atkinson. "Tradition is nice, but really, G.C.!

Fortunately, many of these faults can be corrected, and hopefully they, in time will be. The criticism in the article is, after all, meant to be constructive, not snide. In the mean time, er're we're just glad to be in Maxwell, not Atkinson.

Open Letter To Student Body

Why do I have to pay to get into dances and concerts when I already paid sixteen dollars in student activity fees? I am sure this question is bothering many students. First of all, let me say that the $16 activity fees money not only supports pop concerts, dances, and movies, but also pays for the College Band, Choral Activities, Community Concert Association, the Athletic Program, Colonnade, Spectrum, College Government Association, College Theater, Lyceum, Golden Slipper, Class Budgets, Agape, and Summer Activities. The budget for pop concerts is $10,560, but this amount is allotted only with a ticket revenue of $2000. Dances are dealt with in the same way with a budget of $7500 and an expected revenue of $1400. The committee feels that to charge for some of these concerts and dances more money can be brought in for more, and better activities. So far this quarter you have been charged for two activities and we are charging for the upcoming big concert on Thursday, October 19, however, there will be two more dances this quarter that will be free.

The Committee also tries to choose bands that will appeal to everyone. The concert featuring Hydra was for the people that enjoy heavy music. Liberation, the band that played for the orientation dance, was a top 40 soul band. The concert featuring Brownsville Station and Vince Vance and the Valiants should appeal to everyone. A rock and roll show of the 50's and of today will rock you right out of your seat. If you don't come to any other event this year, make it to this concert. There will be a dance on Oct. 27 featuring Birnum Wood. They are a commercial rock band with tunes by Beatles, Led Zeppelin, Alice Cooper, Uriah Heep, Jethro Tull, The Who and others. They are also a great band to watch on stage. The Christmas dance on Dec. 1 will feature two bands, Choice and Brother Bait. Choice plays top 40 music and soul, while Brother Bait plays songs by Emerson, Lake, and Palmer, Jethro Tull, Yes, etc. Hopefully a person can find something he likes out of this variety of music. If anyone has a comment or suggestion contact me or someone on the committee.

Sincerely, Randy Whitfield

If you are looking for a place to go in the middle of the week and on the weekends that is cheap and a lot of fun, we would recommend the "Heavenly Daze". Come and bring a friend. Here is a good chance to get together and have a great time with your friends and get the chance to meet new people. The manager, Robert Riddle, and all of the "Heavenly" people or the "Dazed" people as the case may be, look forward to seeing you there! There is a folk sing scheduled for October 22 so if you like to sing along be there at 7:30 p.m.

If you have any contemporary novels or fiction around your dorm room and you want to get rid of them Central State Hospital volunteers are sponsoring a book drive to complete the Adolescent library. This library was started last spring and shelves were set up and there is an ample supply of academic books but some fiction and contemporary novels are needed.

If you have any of these types of books and want to donate them to this cause please contact Peggy Harris or Anetta McCloud at Box 1898.

One other thing, the coffee house will be open Saturday night instead of Sunday night because of the movie.

ACTION LINE

Dear Action Line,
What happened to the Student Bill of Rights?
V.D.

Dear V.D.,

The Student Bill of Rights was drawn up by 2 members of the student body and 2 members of the Faculty Advisement Committee and they took reports by A.A.U.P., N.A.S.P.A., and N.A.W.D.C. and the petition of rights presented by the student body and what you see in the Handbook is the result of that committee. However, part of this bill was omitted and this portion of the bill will be printed in the Colonnade next week. There will also be copies of the bill in every dorm.

Mike

Dear Action Line,

Most mornings, the Student Union is closed until 8:45 or 9:00 a.m. for cleaning purposes. Why is it that it can't be cleaned some other time instead of right after breakfast when you want some place to come in out of the cold? I'll help clean it up during the day if I could just get in there in the mornings. Surely they don't have to close the entire "Lounge" to clean five square feet of it.
K.M.

Dear K.M.,

There are study rooms that are open and ping-pong rooms that you may sit in any time after 8:00 a.m. The janitor is reporting at 7:00 a.m. instead of 8:00 a.m. and this may contribute to the Lounge being open earlier.

Mike

Dear Action Line:

Why can Bobby Barrintine be on High Council and be a Proctor too. Very Unfair!!!
V.D.

Dear V.D.,

Just because someone is on financial aid doesn't mean he has to forfeit his student rights. It is his prerogative to run for any office he chooses.

Mike

Dear Action Line,

When do we progress to the state that we can acquire bleachers for the soccerfield. Sitting in the mud is quite annoying.
V.D.

Dear V.D.,

The athletic division has been developed in stages as money was provided by the state. As soon as possible funds will be made available for bleachers. This is in the future however, so in answer to your question it will be a while before we progress to having bleachers.

Dean Simpson

New Dean of Students, Dr. Simpson, was interviewed by COLONNADE reporters Monday, Oct. 9.

Originally from Montgomery, Ala., Dean Simpson stated that he liked Georgia and was delighted with Georgia College. He was previously employed at Morehead State College in Morehead, Ky. as Dean of School of Science and Mathematics from 1965 till June of 1972.

Dean Simpson received his A.B. from Mercer, Master of Science in Kentucky, PHD in physics in Virginia, and taught physics at Georgia Tech for twelve years. He served as a Naval Communications Officer during WW II and the Korean War.

Dean Simpson's wife is from Shellman, Georgia. They met while attending Mercer. He has four daughters-two married and living in Atlanta, Ga., one attending Baldwin Co. High School, and one in the second grade.

As of yet he has not had very much personnel contact with the students and his heart lies in teaching and hopes to have a class in Physics in the near future.

He hopes the students here will

Dear Action Line,

Why do students have to pay to use pool sticks and balls when they have already paid for these things in their tuition? I don't think that this is fair. Do you think we should stop paying activity fees since we have to pay to use these things?
T.M.

Dear T.M.,

Money used in rental fees doesn't cover anything except upkeep and addition of equipment. Your student activity fee has nothing to do with the rental of equipment. Student Activity fees cover athletics, Colonnade, Spectrum, and different concerts and plays. Your rental money is used to replace paddles and ping-pong balls and cue sticks and add the necessary equipment.

Yes, I think we need students need an activity fee but I don't think we should have to pay for the use of this equipment but it seems to be one of those things we are going to have to learn to live with. However, you could get up a petition and try to change this and present it to the administration. Let me know if you do because I know quite a number of people who would like to sign it including me.
