In keeping with the tradition that has been with us as a center of Divine, we have improved steadily in the last few years.

The attitude which this newspaper has always been proud of is that of being an independent organ of student opinion. The staff is composed of a wide variety of students and is a reflection of the student body as a whole. The newspaper is a forum for the expression of student views on all matters of concern to students.

This week's issue features articles on a variety of topics, including college life, campus activities, and current events. The staff aims to provide a platform for students to voice their opinions and engage in constructive dialogue.

As always, thank you for your support and we look forward to your continued involvement in our community.
