CAMPANY FOR PARKS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL NOW WELL UNDER WAY

G. S. C. REPRESENTED ON S.V. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Grace Taylor, Junior Class President from G. S. C. was elected a member of the Georgia Student Volunteer Union at the annual conference held at Athens, Georgia, February 13-15.

COMMENTS COME FROM ALL PARTS OF S.V. U.S.

State Publications Aid in Project.

A Parks Memorial Hospital has been chosen by the Alumni Association of the Georgia State College. The hospital will be the last project of President Dr. Marvin C. Parks. By making this selection, the Alumni Association from all the service begun by Dr. Parks was post-retirement, he left a hospital that was long overdue. The motto was "serve" and was worthy of bearing in mind. It also typified the dominating principle of his life. Dr. Parks was a pioneer in the field of hospital administration and development of the system of disease in Georgia schools.

The conference this year was enlivened by the presence of the president and the alumni, all of whom commented on the progress this year and the ways to serve the state, the college, and his college. For twenty-two years he gave his Sunday to the cause of education, and his time to the point of sacrifice, that the Georgia State College of Women might grow and prove to be a college of which the state of Georgia might be justly proud. In so doing, he influenced the lives of thousands of Georgia girls, and his daughters are now eager to throw in part, their gratitude, their love, and their reverence for his lost leader, the bond, and the thousands of other Georgia girls who will attend summer school are rapidly offsetting the press of the campaign, the departments are continuing to work.

CUPID AT VASSAR TO BE GIVEN MARCH 7

Much interest is centering on the play, "Cupid at Vassar," which is to be given on Monday evening, March 7th, at night in the College Auditorium. It is presented by the Dramatic Committee of the T. W. C. A. and is under the direction of Miss Amanda Jenkins. Working with Dr. Johnson for the success of the play is Caroline Cheek, chairman of the committee, and Miss Onoue Goodwin, director of the "Cupid Vassar" project. Miss Jenkins is a natural role, because it is an interesting portrayal of college life in a general way. It seems that every time they put on the play of Judge on the campus, or break the chandelier when they were last there, they finally somehow had to get the real Vassar on the test too, but broke through Austin's silk and "Cupid at Vassar" one of the best plays given ever at G. S. C.

JUNIORS AND FRESHMEN SUPPORT THE PARKS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The spirit of the Junior class typifies qualities of friendship and a deep concern for all those who might be able to serve

These principles have been given at one and for sake of our first years here. Long ago we learned to turn to Dr. Parks for advice, encouragement and appreciation. Truly we have gained more than we have ever known, and if we still have to learn how to be like the one who taught us the best things in life, the bond, and the thousands of other Georgia girls who will attend summer school are rapidly offsetting the press of the campaign, the departments are continuing to work.

SPECIAL ISSUE.

INTER-CLASS DEBATE RESULTS IN VICTORY FOR SR. TEAM.

A team consisting of representatives from the Senior and Junior Classes won the inter-class debate February 25th, at 7:30 in the College Auditorium.

The subject for debate was: "Resolved: That China Can Settle Her Problems Without Outside Interference." Harrow Thompson, Junior representative and Mr. Sisson, Freshman representative, upheld the affirmative side. Mr. Sisson said that he had reason to believe that the Chinese people were in favor of peace.

The victorious team consisted of a Senior and Junior representative, Leonard Travis, and a Senior representative, Mary Jane Parker. The well organized methods of the affirmative and breakout speeches these debates presented enabled easily to convince the National Security Council. Travis and Parker had an advantage carried on of having divided together and won last year, thus rendering the Junior and Freshman classes.

Both teams showed an unusually serious spirit as well as the class, which showed them on to give their best. It is often said that it is harder to be a winner than a loser, if this is true the Senior class has had that difficult task during the last four years on the campus, that class's scholar has never gone down in defeat.

The debate was presented by the World-Fellowship Department of the E. W. C. A. and is the last event of the department's program. It was the warmest, and the curtains were pulled. The debate may interesting to the Junior College programs, consisting of speeches, papers on foreign and domestic affairs, have given us the World-Fellowship Department of the Pan-American.

SENIOR CLASSES PLEDGE SUPPORT TO THE PARKS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

When the beloved leader of our college—family we might say—is departed from us, a wave of deep regret washes over everyone who knew her in contact with her vital personality. The reaction to that departure was the desire for some way to show our appreciation of all that he had done for us, to create a visible memento to him who led us, but what was to be done to make that really mighty sentiment? Nothing can completely do that, but nothing could be better than to gather the memory of Dr. Parks, whose watchword was service, and who was always good for his girls was health. Then the material details were considered and it was decided that such class should contribute as its memorial, to make a record of the Senior Normal and Junior classes are the most fortunate.

In the Alumni's office at the University of Georgia, I have a hand engraved with the letters "U.G.A." on it. A few years ago, I had four hands engraved on a stele, but those were too small to fit the stone so I had to make do with four hands engraved on my hands. It is a small token, but it is a symbol of my dedication to the university and the college. It is a constant reminder of my commitment to service and excellence.

I am proud to be a part of the Alumni's group and I look forward to continuing my involvement in the future. Thank you for allowing me to share my story with you. It is truly an honor.

Sincerely,

ALUMNAL COMMENT ON PARKS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Alumnae Association of the University of Georgia is pleased to announce the opening of Parks Memorial Hospital. This hospital is a remarkable achievement, not only for the University of Georgia, but for all of Athens.

Parks Memorial Hospital is a state-of-the-art facility, equipped with the latest medical technology and staffed by highly trained professionals. It is a testament to the commitment of the University of Georgia and the community to provide high-quality healthcare for all.

I am grateful to be a part of this wonderful institution and I look forward to seeing how it will continue to grow and evolve over time. Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Jane Smith

SCIENTIFIC SOCIAL IN GYMNASIUM

The members of the Science Club enjoyed a Valentine Social in the small gymnasium/Tuesday afternoon, February 17, at 4:30.

Games and contests were the interesting events of the occasion. Between Wilson, assisting in all love affairs, and dating to pick her own heart, won the prize in nothing broken heart. Being interested in all scientific trigs, the members enjoyed a paper man and round room. After all games and contests a delicious mini sandwiches was served by the social committee.

An informal business meeting was held just before the departure of the members. Some officers, being elected by the resignation of Anne Collier as secretary and treasurer, and Wilma Pownal as chairman of the publicity department, had to be filled. The following girls were elected: Mary Bill as secretary and treasurer, and Katherine Rice as chairman of the publicity department. All the duties for the new century are: Katherine Pownal, president; Elizabeth Green, vice president; Fannie Davis, chairman, program committee, and Stella Turner chairman social committee.

MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN WELL UNDER WAY.

helping to wage the campaign by painting appeals to former students, and by offering their support in any way possible. Counties are being organized with an alumna as chairman of a present student as sub-chairman. Already, reports from these counties are coming in hourly by the committee. The campaign is on! The erection of a Park's Memorial Hospital is assured.

Are you interested in G. S. C. W.? Then you are interested in the thing normal and natural to the heart of every student, and her controlling influence while living in the shadow of a monument to her honored memory.

In planning the hospital, the Alumnae Association granted to the faculty, the present students and former students of the college, the privileges of contributing to it. With the ever present spirit of loyalty, and cooperation, all of them have responded. Pledges of financial support, and of loyalty, have been freely made. Members of the Park's Memorial Hospital Committee are receiving every day from former students and friends, expressions of willingness, even eagerness to help in the campaign. Present students who have or Alumnae of the college, the erection of the Parks Memorial Hospital. Let your love and reverence for expression of your support in the campaign now being waged. It is the plan of the committee to collect all pledges before June. These months are left in which you may make your contribution, but make your pledge now. Whether it be large or small, make it immediately. Do your bit.
