LYCEUM GIVEN TUESDAY EVENING

Smith-Spring-Holmes Company Will Welcome Students Returning in Audition at G. S. C.

To welcome students back from home is one of the purposes the Smith-Spring-Holmes Company is to fulfill. There will be music! That is sufficient attraction for G. S. C. girls.

The company is headed by M. L. Shackleford, well-known American actor, and Miss Martha G. G. Holmes, whose musical experiences have been widely publicized. She has appeared as a featured singer in many of the leading American vaudeville and picture companies which were popular throughout the country some ten or fifteen years ago. Miss G. G. Holmes is now touring by invitation, the Columbia Band of all city bands, and in addition, a local band.

Miss Cora May Spring is a graduate of the Conservatory of Dramatic Art, and has done special work at the Columbia School of Expression.

Miss Lutie F. Smith has filled positions as a soloist with some of the leading orchestras and musical companies in the East.

Miss Katherine Donald is a young vocalist. She is a graduate of violin and piano of the Colburn Conservatory of Music in New York. At the age of ten she was signed by a famous artist of both instruments.

It was with enthusiasm and early anticipation that the students and faculty of this college were looking forward to the appearance of the Smith-Spring-Holmes Company.

Y. W. C. A. BUDGET IS SURE TO GO OVER

All The Classes, The College At Work Woman Cannot Miss To Organization

A genuine spirit of optimism is felt by the four classes in the college regarding the raising of the $1,200-1200 budget for the Y. W. C. A. Which is the only class activity on the campus.

Each class has shown that spirit and while the total has not yet been reached, the class officers feel that the $7,000 will soon be raised. The faculty were most generous and in every case raised over three thousand dollars. The students are very appreciative of the faculty support.

The senior class has set an equal example in its drive. They may stake their share of the quota on the day that the budget was presents. The fact has been an inspiration to the other classes. Clem Jenkins, president of the senior faculty states that he feels greatest joy in the fact that not only the senior goal was achieved but that the spirit was as fine as would result in understanding of the spirit of giving and a greater desire to save the future of the college.

The following poem expresses what the Y. W. C. A. Chapel Mission Committee feels:

"Someone said that this couldn't be done."

But class officers with a chorus replied,

"That maybe it couldn't, but they'd try.

Who wouldn't try if they'd try too.

So they went right in with a bang and a song.

And if they doubted or worried, they forgot.

They promised their pledges and wept.

And the first thing we know they're gone.

Will the readers of the Colonnade be prompted when the next issue appears in: "The last thing we know, they done it!"

ON OUR WORLD'S WOE

By W. C. O. L. C.

In the early days of our school, we were all interested in the idea of world peace. We thought that if we could only find a way to prevent the world from fighting, then we would have a better world. But as the years went on, we realized that the idea of world peace was not as simple as we thought.

In the past, we have tried to solve the problem of world peace by making treaties, by sending troops to fight wars, and by trying to negotiate with each other. But all of these methods have failed. The world is still at war.

Now we must face the fact that the world is a place where there is no such thing as perfect peace. There will always be people who want to cause trouble, to start wars, and to destroy the lives of others.

But we must not give up hope. We must continue to work for peace, to try to find ways to make the world a better place.

TO THE COLUMBUS DAY CLUB

By J. J. O. C.

The Columbus Day Club is a very important organization. It is a place where students can come together to celebrate the spirit of Columbus.

The club has been very active in the past, and it has done a lot to promote the spirit of Columbus. But I think that we could do even more.

We should try to make the Columbus Day Club more of a place for students to come together and have fun. We could have more parties, more social events, and more opportunities to get to know each other.

I believe that the Columbus Day Club could be a great place to meet new people and to make friends. So let's all work together to make the Columbus Day Club even better.
PLANS ARE BENED MADE FOR HOME-COMING WEEK

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS MEET AT AGNES SCOTT

University,Sarah Allen G. B. C. W.: Mrs. Turner from Newnan, Ga., one of the editors for the Georgia Union, also met with the council.

The meeting was very fruitful and helpful. The council discussed plans for the coming semester conference to be held the middle of February at Brunswick, Ga. There was a number of discussions held concerning the plans for the spring, fall, and spring, and recruitment of new members. The membership of the union was extended not only to regular volunteers, but also to those who were considering becoming a member.

David Kendall, traveling secretary for the movement, helped a great deal in leading the discussions. Dr. W. Alexander, who works in the Interracial Department of the Catholic church, gave a most interesting report on the Jewish Conference which he attended.
