3-21-1933

Colonnade March 21, 1933

Follow this and additional works at: http://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the Mass Communication Commons

Recommended Citation
http://kb.gcsu.edu/colonnade/88

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by Knowledge Box. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colonnade by an authorized administrator of Knowledge Box.
State's Premier Poet Speaks Here

ERNST NEAL, GEORGIA'S POPULAR LAYIible STUDENTS WITH INTEREST IN LITERARY ARTS

Ernest Neal, Georgia's poet laureate, was a visitor in Middleville from Thursday, until Saturday. He addressed the student body and faculty at chapel Friday morning, after which he was honor guest at a dinner party at Atlantic dining hall.

"Poets are inspired and write when something has been given them," Neal said in his address to the students. "If they aren't inspired, then they'll never do their best work in their poetry." Neal's enthusiasm was clearly evident in his poem, "The Song of the Carolina Crayfish Greenwich," which he recited for the students. Neal's knowledge of the various groups poetry short stories and speech writing are remarkable.

The remainder of his stay was taken up by visiting classes, the library, and the various public and private institutions. Neal's enthusiasm was clearly evident in his poem, "The Song of the Carolina Crayfish Greenwich," which he recited for the students. Neal's knowledge of the various groups poetry short stories and speech writing are remarkable.

The new members elected to the new group are: Marcella West, Grace Finch, Betty Price, William Satterfield, Lillian Brown, Harriet Johnson, Donald Millard, and Margaret K. Smith.

DEMONSTRATION CLASS DOES PRACTICAL WORK

The class in H. A. C. C. 41, under the direction of Miss Margaret K. Smith, is having practical experience in window dressing and flower arranging. The students are learning to create attractive arrangements for the home and to display flowers in a pleasing manner.

The purpose of this class is to provide practical work in the field of interior decoration and to give the students an opportunity to gain experience in the field of interior decoration.
The Colonnade

Through the Week With the

Pianoforte Recital Monday, May 5th
A pianoforte recital was given in Veteran's Hall by Miss Helen Van Dusen, an upperclass student. The recital was attended by a number of students.

H. M. Wilson

Spring seems to have a more permanent air about it now, especially out west. Even the birds are singing and the flowers are beginning to bloom. It is wonderful to see the world come back to life after the long winter. The sun is shining and the weather is warm, which makes it pleasant to be outside and enjoy the beauty of nature.

Miss Maria Harvey, the assistant director of the music department, spoke about the recital on Monday. She said that the recital was a great success and that the students enjoyed it. The program included a variety of pieces, including some by Chopin and Beethoven.

The recital was well-received by the audience, who were enthusiastic about the performance. The students were very pleased with their performance and were looking forward to future recitals.

Miss Harvey also expressed her gratitude to the students for their hard work and dedication in preparing for the recital. She said that she was very proud of them and that she believed they had done an excellent job.

The recital was a great success and a wonderful way to celebrate the arrival of spring. The students were very happy with the performance and the audience was thrilled with the music. The recital was a great way to end the school year and a great way to start the summer.

Miss Harvey, the assistant director of the music department, spoke about the recital on Monday. She said that the recital was a great success and that the students enjoyed it. The program included a variety of pieces, including some by Chopin and Beethoven.

The recital was well-received by the audience, who were enthusiastic about the performance. The students were very pleased with their performance and were looking forward to future recitals.

Miss Harvey also expressed her gratitude to the students for their hard work and dedication in preparing for the recital. She said that she was very proud of them and that she believed they had done an excellent job.

The recital was a great success and a wonderful way to celebrate the arrival of spring. The students were very happy with the performance and the audience was thrilled with the music. The recital was a great way to end the school year and a great way to start the summer.