Garrison Talks to Students

Physical Education Lasts From Birth to Death, Says Speaker

Miss Florence Garrison, president of the Southern Health and Physical Education Association of teachers' colleges, in an address bef ore the G. S. H. P. E. student body and faculty on Wednesday morning, declared that it is her responsibility as an educator to help poverful individuals of all lines and degrees to have a talent for part in wholesome activities during their lifetime.

"Every teacher," said Miss Garsion, "regardless of the subject she is teaching, has a responsibility to become a leader and instinctively to develop the student.

"If we are to live with people and teach them," the speaker continued, "we must know the facts, face the facts, and do something about the situation.

There are four general areas, according to Miss Garrison, which we as teachers should help boys and girls to attain for themselves: to become more expressively, characteristically, technically, and physically active.
