Talmadge Makes Talk Here Jan. 27

Governor Frankie Talmadge addressed the faculty and student body and members of the United States in the auditorium on Sunday, January 27, immediately after the dedication of the Old Capitol Bridge. His subject was "Chancellor in Government." The Governor reviewed the program of the state government during the past two years, and pledged his efforts to bring the state out of debt before he leaves the gubernatorial chair.

"The only way to have a good state government," stated the governor, "is to have a poor government. The only way it is good to stay out of debt." The Governor expressed the hope that a new capital and state government may work for a better state government.

Two Visitors Speak To Nursery School Class Recently

Dr. Thomas Alexander, of Columbus, university, spoke to the students of the nursery school in the Beautification of the campus. His speech was the topic of the school.

A later date Mr. George Engle, state superintendent of S. B. S. A. nursery schools in this district, spoke to the same class. Mr. Engle is a former student of G. S. C. W. v. w.
More Sleep?

A common symptom of sleeplessness is the case where one takes more time to fall asleep than usual, and then when one does fall asleep, one finds one's sleep broken and restless. One's dreams are vivid, but one is always aware that one is dreaming. This may be due to a number of causes, one of which is the exhaustion of the nervous system, which is often the result of overwork or insufficient sleep. The best treatment for this condition is to get plenty of rest and to avoid mental overwork.

Are Southern Students

No, there is no evidence that southern students are any less intelligent than students from other parts of the country. The fact that a student's intelligence is determined by a number of factors, including heredity, environment, and education, makes it impossible to determine the intelligence of a student from the region of the country in which she was born. The best way to determine a student's intelligence is to give her an intelligence test.

What Price Comedy?

Comedy is a form of entertainment that is designed to make people laugh. It is a form of expression that is used by all cultures, and it is used to express a wide range of emotions, including joy, humor, and satire. The best comedians are those who are able to make people laugh, and who are able to do so in a way that is both funny and meaningful.

Jana GOSSIP

I'm glad to hear that Jana has received her promotion. She is a very capable and hard-working employee, and I believe that she will be a great asset to the company. She has always been very professional and has never let her personal life interfere with her work. I think that she will do very well in her new position.

With Our Alumnae

Many of our alumnae are going to be attending the reunion next month. The alumnae association is planning a number of events, including a reception, a dinner, and a keynote address. The reunion will be a great opportunity for our alumnae to catch up with old friends and to share stories of their experiences at the university.
