The long line of G. S. C. W. students leaving the campus on Thursday afternoon to begin the semester with a hike picked up a different aspect from the line that gave the same answer in years past. However, the line was swelling as a result of the snow-covered grounds and school spirit. The students walking through the main street at 4:30 were happy and horsing around, just like last year.

G.S.C.W. Editors Attend Nat'l College Press Meet

College editors of yearbooks and newspapers throughout the country met in Chicago at the annual convention of the Associated Collegiate Press in Chicago. Over three hundred editors of yearbooks and newspapers responded to the call to attend the convention in Chicago and discussed collegiate journalism from all angles.

Several new members were elected to the Colonnade staff at a meeting held Friday in the new room. The new members were chosen to fill major and minor positions in the paper. The new membership on the staff. All members who are interested are strongly urged to help maintain the newspaper's standards and to support the new members later.

The new staff members include Mary Hewlett, managing editor; Beverly Holland, circulation manager; Gary Libin, assistant business manager; Elizabeth Gerhart, business manager; and Margaret Brown, advertising assistant.

Several students interested in joining the staff include: Pamela Diamond, Orlando; Frances McCrady, Markham; Louise Selemac,フリー; Elizabeth Lucas, Reynolds; Betty Floyd, Harmony; Sylvia Harwood, Savannah; Betty Wash, Columbus; and Sarah Morgan, Gainesville.

Interior reports include: Caro Alice Tomlin, Atlanta; Marion Arthur, Lucy Caldwell, Beaumont; Betty Holland, Atlanta; Shirley Martin, Atlanta; Norma Mitchell, Athens; Armwood, Atlanta; Mildred Wessinger, Florence; Margaret, Harvey, Mays.

From students who failed to earn the benefits, and from printing some editorial that hurt some sensitive souls' feelings. Last week they did some complaining of the best at the national convention.

Recreation Group Presents Skits

Recreation Group Presents Skits

Tuesday morning the Recreation Group presented a two-sided skit program. The skit was titled "Recreation Group Presents Skits," and was presented in verse by Miss Angela Kittenger, and was read by Mary Pitts Allen. The skit was entitled "Deportive Recreation." The second, "Productive Recreation," was presented by Miss Lovett and Jane Cates of the W. C. C., who performed their parts in the program. The cooperation of the Y. W. C. A. is a big step toward the further cooperation of the three major groups in the世界上. The skit was entitled the division of Miss Sarah Sturgis and Miss Mary Burrell, who were the two parts of the skit. The skit was presented in verse by Miss Angela Kittenger, and was read by their party.
