Students' Votes on Questions Show Decided Majorities

Some hundred students at G. S. C. W. tried bravely to disregard the popular opinion that other girls are such for the time being only, that they are killing time and until they get a chance to get married, or was indicated in the results of the questionnaires that was given out in chapel last week. The votes of the students, students definitely that they did not expect to get married, eighty hand and six said that they ever vote and twenty-five were of that effect. Two hundred votes were received in the women's union that conditions were more or less satisfactory, twelve were to doubt to the current answer.

A large majority of "yes" was noted in the results of the question which was that the question, "Should society work for a standard of morality for men and women?"

Other results of the questionnaires are that the students think that the world is growing behind the "yes" box. Thirty men with similar proposition should not be paid more than women for equal work (108, yeared for 7, blank). School and home and human jobs are justified in dissimilar woman (285, yeared for 416, no, 18 blank). Total abstinence rather than students doing is what people should work for (644, yes, 180; no, 41 blank).

Carola Goya To Dance Here Next Monday

Carola Goya, the famous Spanish dancer who is to give a recital to the campus auditorium on December 9, has made a study of the history of the dances of Spain as well as their technique. Her comments upon the Spanish dances are especially interesting as her illustrations colored the stage.

"Most of the traditional dances of Spain," she says "are equal dances. That is, there were originally spontaneous dances or the common people danced for pure joy or to express some occasion, or to fit some ceremonial occasion such as a wedding, a christening or even a general. In the wild state of Aragon, strange as it may seem, was, at its inception, turned at the front of an infant, although the present physical does not exist today.

"While Spanish dancing has related to other dances with the "psychology - psychological dance mood" or "expression," it illustrates various illustrations, which have become in modern America and European music, such a Spanish dance is definite in meaning and being, having sprung originally from the state of mind of the dancer: Enfus, perhaps the most popular of the Algarín, which are played in Mahagang, Puliter, Gullarins, etc., presented out of other help.

The entertainment will be followed by a movie screening, which is free for all attendees. The night will end with refreshments and a chance to socialize with friends.

Our Side of the Question

Quite a bit of criticism of the Chona's has been voiced, indicating that the student body, including alumni, should not be involved in the entertainment committee. The students feel that the committee is not responsive to their needs and are asking for their opinions to be considered. The students have expressed their concerns about the entertainment committee and are requesting that their voices be heard. The students are asking for a fair and transparent decision-making process to ensure that all students have a say in the future events. The students are also requesting that the entertainment committee be elected by the student body to ensure that it is representative of the student body's interests.
