It Looks From Here

Editor's note: Sometimes the conditions of a college campus cause college students to become so immersed in the affairs of the college that it is difficult to think what is going on in the outside world. In order that you may take your weekly news in small, diversified doses, the Colonade is inaugurating this weekly survey of news and comment on news outside.

School Openings

No news to the freshman who has registered for the semester of registration, and no news to the sophomore who is making the most mistakes in selecting classes, but customs of persons seeking the openings of the colleges and universities throughout the country. In general the schools reported larger enrollment than ever before, even though the average enrollment was the same, serious thought was being given to this effect. The purpose and objectives of higher education were being re-defined. Interest to education and students alike was the article by President H. B. Peabody of Chicago University in the Saturday Review. Education must first please itself.

President Gallop emphasized years ago the importance of the liberal education for students who are preparing to do as Georgia agriculturists, big men with athletic champion "Pee Wee" Towns in the lineup. Tech reports that they are looking forward to finding Georgia again they hope.

Politics

President Roosevelt's announcement a series of peace conferences, and general meetings which he classifies as a campaign, his own political campaign with a record of Chicago University State Convention meeting which he classifies as a political campaign. They have been a long time in their days during the recent anti-political campaigns. By the thousands of the state and by the thousands of the city.

New Dormitory To Be Named

By Board of Regents

Interest in new plans for the dormitory under construction is increasing as the date set for occupancy approaches.

On the first of January a number of teachers and students who are now crowning the dormitory will move across campus in a large moving van. The rooms will be used by the faculty members.

Faculty accommodation will include six large apartments in five rooms and several small apartments of two and three rooms each.

The name of the dormitory will be selected by the board of regents of the University System.

Forbes Elected Soph Leader;
Other Vacancies Are Filled

BETH MORRISON IS NEW JUNIOR CLASS OFFICER

Virginia Forbes was elected to lead the sophomore class of the students held on Thursday night. She was nominated for the office of junior class president, who was re-elected president of her class in the general campus elections held last night, who also did not return to enroll this fall. Virginia has taken a leading part in sophomore class activities and should make a very capable president.

Also elected to fill vacancies in this year's junior class executive, other members of the class officers were Cathleen Redick to the position of Representative to the Student Council, Frances Ress to the position of Secretary to the Citizens Committee. Cathleen was elected to the junior class executive, the only vacancy in the junior class left open by the failure of the previously elected officer to return to school.

Roof Garden Is Main Feature Of
New Dining Room

An important feature of the new dining hall which is now being added to the main building is the open court or roof garden on top.

Three flights of stairs will lead from the ground to the lighted court where there will be a floor large enough for five hundred to dance and seats for another thousand. A point of beauty will be the fountain in the dining room itself on the terrace.

The present kitchen is being extended to include another kitchen. In the second floor an additional two thousand square feet of space for the kitchen will be built, two thousand square feet of space for the kitchen will be built. The new kitchen will be well lit, even at night. The new kitchen will be well lit, even at night. A new dormitory and two hundred from Acre dining room, will make a total of three hundred and fifty.

are different from all others that have appeared before.

People interested in hearing the campaign speeches can get them over the National and Columbia broadcasts at dates to be scheduled later.

World Affairs

Belgium again broke into the world's news this week in the country above the paintings of Living American Art, an exhibition of the works of foremost American artists as they are selected by a permanent juror whose name is Louis Bouche, Abraham Brook, Adam Delin, themselves well-known artists and Professor Hughes Metcalf of Mount Holyoke University.

This exhibit which will be held at
G. C. W. on October 19, is made up of forty-eight paintings to be chosen by the above mentioned board each year for permanent for the exhibition is opened.

The national distribution of works of art on such a scale has never been attempted before, and this monument to Democracy is one of the most conspicuous in the world's history.

In Germany Hitler announces that the army is ready for the battle line of the Deuce.

In Greece, the Fascists are planning the capture of Constantinople and the other parts of Asia Minor.

In Egypt, the British forces are preparing for the attack on the desert line of defence.
