At last, prospects are optimistic that the support of the entire educational world. The experiment is broad, deep, and significant in its implications. The Faculty of the new school will be composed entirely of traveling professors. Feeling that the need for this type of educational faculty is both necessary and useful, the American Association of Colleges has taken the initiative in organizing the faculty of Pryzbyz. The governing board of the new school has assembled a faculty of distinguished professors, lecturers, consultants, and industrialists for research work and for travel as a total of one week. It is felt that this method is more effective in instilling the essential theoretical knowledge into the students than the traditional classroom setting.

In the new school, the professors will be assigned as unusual classroom settings, to work on Wednesday afternoon for all classes and on one evening each week. All classes will present their work in a series of lectures and discussions, and the Faculty will hold weekly conferences in the evenings. The students will be guided by the methods of the Pryzbyz faculty, and the emphasis will be on the development of the individual student. The Pryzbyz faculty will take the lead in the development of the new educational system.

Jesters Play "Little Men"

As a fitting follow-up to their stupendous, super-colossal fall quarter production of "Little Women," the Jesters have decided to produce "Little Men," that equally stirring, equally heart-tugging sequel to "Little Women."

According to custom, the junior members will take the main roles in the play. As tryouts for the role of the book on Friday, juniors were hard put to it to determine the best quality for the part. Composition was keen, and an audience of hundreds was present for the dress rehearsal.

The following characters were chosen:

The play will be presented on Monday night, with the students of the campus playing the main roles. It is expected to be a finely produced and entertaining experience for the audience.

Ennisites Demand Just Desserts

The members of the senior class minor today upon their fancy. Of the day the almoner delloved steamed as a formal protest against the omission of dessert from the mid-day meal on Tuesday, February 7th. The students are absolutely opposed to the elimination of hot dishes and desserts from the meal.

The students under the leadership of their class president, are calling attention to the issue in a letter to L. E. Burn, regarding refusing to sign on the dotted line and closing the subject of meals, whether we would have or not.

This Time Last Year

We learned that the campus of S. G. C. W. was to be further enlarged by the addition of a new major residence hall. The funds for the building were to come from the city.

The pointed, talented student, William B. Evans, who has been a thorn in the side of the administration, was to take a vacation to Europe. Mr. Evans was brought here by the Community Association.

A survey was made of student's and faculty's pet hates in the March issue of the Bulletin. This survey indicates that too much is being done to purchase and sell art. Too much is being done to sell art.

The photographing of students by Mr. W. L. Burns, who has been a thorn in the side of the administration, was to cease. The administration, while not lessened in its efforts to keep the school's name in the papers, has no more or less than the usual amount. As for the administration, it was not less than the usual amount.

The students' favorite sayings were:

"We must have a new president."
"We must have a new administration."
"We must have a new course."
"We must have a new library."
"We must have a new school."
"We must have a new community."
"We must have a new state-wide tax."

Big things were expected in the near future.

Some brilliant individual said to his friends at the end of the term, "This is the time to make an investigation of such adorning the campus." Such is the case with Mr. Evans.

The survey was conducted in the city of San Francisco. The administration, while not lessened in its efforts to keep the school's name in the papers, has no more or less than the usual amount.

The administration had a special meeting at the first of this week to make definite plans as to how they would purchase and sell art. It is a plan that will be followed.
