Stuart Chase To Lecture Monday

WELL-KNOWN ECONOMIST, AUTHOR SPOAKS ON "THE END OF AN EPOCH"

Stuart Chase, one of America's most influential economists, will speak at Georgia College for a second time in four years on Friday, February 11, as a feature of the College's Lecture Program. Mr. Chase has been described as the "greatest economic prophet in America," and for years has been a leading authority on economic problems. His views have formed the basis of economic policies in many countries.

In connection with the work of "Imperialists and Revolutionists, Mr. Chase and J. P. Kelley have collaborated in writing "The Economic Revolution," a volume recently published. The book traces the history of economic revolution from the American Revolution to the present, and Mr. Chase has been a leading proponent of economic revolution for many years.

In addition to his work with Mr. Kelley, Mr. Chase is also known for his writing on economic history and political economy. His works include "The Economic Revolution," "The Triumphs of Capital," and "The Economic Revolution of the Future." His latest book, "The Economic Revolution," is being published this year.

The lecture will be held in the College Union Auditorium at 8 p.m. on Friday, February 11.

Special thanks to Mr. Chase for his willingness to speak at the College and for his contribution to the field of economics.

Spring Plans Of A Cappella Announced

A performance in New Orleans will be the highlight of the Spring plans of the All-American College Glee Club. The performance will be held at a location in New Orleans on March 1, and will be followed by a reception and a concert at the college on March 2.

The Glee Club will perform a variety of songs, including "The Star-Spangled Banner," "The Star-Spangled Banner of the South," and "The Star-Spangled Banner of the North." The Glee Club will also conduct a series of concerts, including a concert in New Orleans, a concert in Atlanta, and a concert in Washington, D.C.

The Glee Club will be directed by Mr. J. W. W. Plunkett, the president of the college, and will be accompanied by the college orchestra. The concert will be held at the college on March 2 in the auditorium.

Dr. Alfred Scott, head of the Chemistry Department at Georgia College, will speak on the "Constitutional Crisis" at the College Union Auditorium on February 8. The lecture will be held at 8 p.m. on February 8.

The lecture will focus on the political and social issues surrounding the Constitutional Crisis, and will include a discussion of the Constitutional Crisis and its impact on the political landscape of the time.

The lecture will be held in the College Union Auditorium at 8 p.m. on February 8.

Stuart Chase would like to thank Mr. J. W. W. Plunkett for his contribution to the field of economics.
FEATRY CHASE (Continued from page one)

During the coming weekend, hundreds of students and members of the community will be attending the Convocation ceremonies as part of the annual fall convocation of the University of Illinois. The ceremonies, held on Saturday and Sunday, will feature speeches and musical performances by students and faculty members. The Convocation is a tradition that dates back to the early days of the university and is a time of reflection and celebration of the university's achievements and values.

JAMES HARRISON (Continued from page one)

The University of Illinois is known for its strong engineering program, which is consistently ranked among the top in the nation. The engineering faculty is comprised of experienced professionals who are dedicated to providing students with a rigorous and relevant education. The university's engineering curriculum is designed to prepare students for successful careers in a variety of fields, including industry, government, and academia. The University of Illinois is committed to providing its students with a high-quality education that will prepare them for success in the global workforce.

MORRISON COLLEGE, (Continued from page one)

Morrison College is a private, liberal arts college located in the heart of Bloomington, Indiana. The college offers a wide range of undergraduate programs in the arts, sciences, and humanities, as well as graduate programs in education and business. The college has a strong reputation for academic excellence and is committed to providing its students with a personalized education that will prepare them for success in their chosen careers. The college is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (C3), which is a network of nearly 150 Christian colleges and universities across the United States.

TOM DRIVER (Continued from page one)

The University of Illinois is a leader in research and innovation, with faculty members conducting groundbreaking work in a wide range of fields, including science, engineering, and the arts. The university's research facilities are state-of-the-art, providing students and faculty with the tools they need to excel in their work. The University of Illinois is committed to fostering a culture of innovation and creativity, and to providing its students with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in a rapidly changing world.

HALL ELECTRIC CO.