THESE PEOPLE MAKE NEWS

"How can we say we love this school? The interviewers just grumbled upon finding Grace Clark boasting about a Latin book. "You mess with Latin?" Grace smiled, "I'm preparing to teach it. I've taken all through high school and I did my presenta- tion in Latin!" The poor interviewer smiled wanly, and remembering her tragedy with Latin when she was younger, went silent.

Leila Griffith said, "I'd like to continue that theme that Hilda Franke was inter- viewed on last week. Of all the things this school needs, it is a dramatic de- partment. We've shown them we can do things—our students can be some re- markable." Incidentally, we hope every student and their appreciated the play Miss West and the Jesters produced last weekend, "The Night of January 14th." If the dramatically inclined students can do that well, with no departmental or- ganization and under the pres- ent handlings, imagine what they could do with all the advan- tages on their side.

Betty Last was using her monogram, but we prevailed on her to let us print this: "I'm so glad it's going. It's too time to listen all night. Now that I'm getting along in years, I have to eat occasionally.

Mary Burns to Talk Of GSC History To Freshmen

The Freshman Group sponsors have asked Mary Burns to repeat the talk she made recently to some of the freshmen on the history-interest angle of GSC history.

The talk, sponsored by the Alumni Association, is described as such an interesting one that the sponsors are asking for more of the freshman to hear it.

Miss Burns will speak to the joint meeting Tuesday night, May 3, at 11:45 in a. m. in the Colonnade.

Five Members Inducted Into Pi Kappa Delta

The Georgia Alpha chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national freemasons fraternity, held initiation ceremonies Tuesday night in Recessor par- tors for four new members.

The officers were: Willis De- Villa, Arminda Lewis, Lavetta Trotter, Frances Brumit, Reba Williams, and Evelyn G. Tate. These girls have all done outstanding teaching in the school and is a number of intercollegiate debating competitions.

Officers for 1959-1960 were elected and installed immediately after the initiation. Margaret Chester, nightengale and former vice-president was elected to the place of Gladys J. Pumph, outgoing president, who also elected (Continued on back page)

Turner, Murphy To Do Graduate Work at Emory

Frances Turner and Catherine Murphy, seniors here this year, have been accepted by Emory University for a year's training in education work. Both expect to receive their Master's Degree at January next year.

G. C. W, is this year furnishing 10% of the students accepted by Emory for graduate work, due to an increase in the number of intercollegiate debating competitions.

Mrs. Turner and Murphy are majors in chemistry and have been active for four years in the work of the chemistry department.

Catherine Cavanaugh was named today by the Publications Commis- sion to edit the 1959-60 spectrum, the Spectrum, Margaret Kennon was the competing candidate. Both candidates held over a week ago gave Margaret Kennon a slight popularity in votes, but the faculty committee favored Catherine Cavanaugh because Emory announced that she would possibly not be in college all of next year.
