Four Classes Give Gifts, Parties, Baskets To Poor As Christmas Projects

A Christmas tree for underprivileged children, gifts of food and clothing for families and the traditional White Christmas are included in the plans of each of the classes for some project at Christmas time.

In Emma Hall, residence of the name of some boy or girl, under two years of age, the gifts filled a stocking. Loaded with fruit, candy, toys, and toys, the stockings were distributed at a party held Saturday in the hall. Cards and flags were fashioned on the program.

White Christmas

The sophomore class of the seniors, presented by prom, while wearing a program. White Chalices, program be held on Monday and Tuesday. Prophets of the sixth and last, the combinations were read against a background of scarlet. Sixteen candles—five for each prophecy—were lighted during the ceremony. Gifts, to be distributed in the needy by the church, were brought to the altar by members of the class.

Existing up by divisions, the Junior class decided to contribute food, toys and clothing to families in the county. As there were many children in each family, the number of gifts ranged widely. Representatives of the class were selected to distribute the food.

Terrall recreation hall was the scene of a party this afternoon when the freshman class distributed toys, candies, and clothing to some twenty children. This class had, as usual, a Christmas tree from which the gifts were given. Gifts for the children were played and all those present joined in the singing of carols.

Kerr Replaces Munz Concert

Due to delays in arranging the schedule of concerts to be presented on the GSW campus by the Miller-Greene Cooperative Concert association, Missavur Muna, Polish pianist, was not able to appear here Thursday night.

It seems that Mr. Munz had a schedule already too full to permit him appearing here in radial, but the concert association has already selected a substitute. Mortel Kerr, also a pianist, will give his concert in the auditorium on February 8th, and the association assures us that he will offer an excellent performance.

A Capella Makes Ist. Appearance

In spite of the fact that it needed a little dusting off and polishing up, the A Capella choir presented what turned out to be a commendable performance of a group of numbers including spirituals and carols in chapel Wednesday.

Their first public appearance of the year was, as usual, under the direction of Mrs. Waat, and the program consisted of: Three People, Adoramus Te this choir theme song, Mark New O Marly, a new number; Moravian O Holy Holy, some fruit, and Joshua Piti de Brito.

Granddaughters Sell Directories

Do you know your kindergarten teacher's address? Sometimes you can't find the address you need. Which is what the Granddaughter's club thought when the members had the GSW directory printed.

Some little directory, extending the name and address of every student and member of the community at GSW, are on sale in the Alumni Office, at the kiosk in front of Arts, and in the directories for ten cents.
Late News Briefs

Online ad revenue

Most people can’t believe that this old newspaper is still in circulation. A recent survey found that the vast majority of people, 75%, use the Internet to read the news. The survey also found that 60% of people prefer to get their news online because it is more convenient and timelier.

Dormitories and Clubs

Societies and Clubs Celebrate Yuletide

Marine Officer Cavalry

It was the night before Christmas and all the marines were asleep, except for that one officer who was waking up every hour to check the time. The officer, a seasoned veteran, knew that the Christmas spirit was in the air and he wanted to do something special for his comrades.

Shaggy Dog! Questions for Knowledge

By Irma Lenaught

"Shaggy Dog!" is an American television comedy series about a talking dog named Shaggy. The series ran from 1962 to 1964 and was one of the most popular shows of its time. The show was about a young boy, Fred Jones, who had a talking dog as his dog named Shaggy. The two got into many adventures together, and the show was a hit with the audience.

Students Hold Annual Dinner Tonight

Using the Christmas theme, which was a hit in the last year’s event, the students have planned an even taller one for this year. The theme is "The Spirit of the Season," and the students have worked hard to make sure it is a success. The event will feature live music, dance performances, and a variety of delicious food. The students are expecting a large deflation and are working hard to make sure that the event is a success.

GWTW at GSCW

Aegeos Pote 11111111

"GWTW at GSCW," a popular theater play, is being performed at the GSCW theater. The play is based on the novel by Margaret Mitchell and is starring some of the most talented actors of our times. The play is a hit with the audience and is expected to be a huge success.

"Thank You Doctor"

There are the people you want to help. GWTW is putting its people first and is committed to making a difference in the world. The play is a hit with the audience and is expected to be a huge success.
Campus Cameraman

For No-Saturday Classes
We're Still Struggling

As students continue to spell their names to perform for Father's Day, and as last homecoming period approaches, it is quite evident that the struggle to keep the students interested in school activities is one which thousands have been discussing in the columns of The Colophon in recent weeks.

1. Believing that the "general system" is the most efficient one, the students should be encouraged in the belief that all classes exist for the purpose of educating them.

2. The amount of time needed to prepare for classes must be reduced to a minimum.

3. The number of classes need not be increased, and the time allotted to each must be decreased.

4. A lyceum period of one hour or two should be established in the morning.

5. The class schedule should be posted on bulletin boards throughout the school.

6. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

7. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

8. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

9. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

10. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

11. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

12. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

13. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

14. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

15. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

16. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

17. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

18. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

19. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

20. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

21. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

22. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

23. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

24. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

25. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

26. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

27. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

28. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

29. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

30. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

31. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

32. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

33. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

34. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

35. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

36. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

37. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

38. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

39. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

40. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

41. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

42. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

43. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

44. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

45. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

46. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

47. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

48. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

49. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.

50. The class activity program should be encouraged by teachers and students.
Ann Sheridan doesn't do Christmas shopping early.

A Welcome Gift

One of the most attractive Christmas packages—see it in the stores and order your Christmas Chesterfields now. Chesterfields, with their real mildness, better taste and delicious aroma, give real pleasure to anyone who smokes. You can't buy a better cigarette.

Christmas Chesterfields in attractive Gift cartons

Copyright 1933, American Tobacco Co.

National College News

Collegiate Digest

Volume VIII Issue 4

Courses Are Passed Like Stocks on the Exchange

Out of My Way!

Fallback Real of the University of San Francisco and both vocal and musical power during the golden hour will not lose for the less, but he left it, 18 to 6.

New Kind of 'Pasting'

Co-eds Take Air Training, Too

Chesterfields are advertised in 3,000 women's publications.
They’re Blowing About a Gridiron Victory

Fans and handkerchief girls gather around the actions whenever Whittier College’s football Pioneers turn in a victory over one of their west coast opponents.

All Freshmen Get Lectures on Traditions

And at Vanderbilt University new co-eds sit in front of the drums of Commodores Commodore Vanderbilt while listening to talks about the great ideals in store for their new alma mater.

Worcester Tech Uses Live Training Devices

... in developing drive for the license, for the coaches have found this system an effective use of expensive devices.

Skinned Noses

... were the result of this Skull and Bones Society initiation stunt at New York University.

Nazi Press Chief’s Son at Harvard

Egon, son of Ernst Hanfstaengl, one-time press chief of Adolf Hitler, is now a freshman at Harvard. In his brief stay he has turned down a $10,000 scholarship head offered by his father.

Gott War Post

Joseph Vizen, University of Chicago, is one of the three economists appointed by the treasury department to assist in the administration of U. S. monetary policies during wartime.

Um! Um! Um!

Bob Pecking (left) dove into the chocolate pie in true championship fashion to defeat Bob Parr in a trust in an epic contest at Iowa State Teachers College.

GREAT BANDS

PRESENTED BY CAMEL CIGARETTES

BENNY GOODMAN

The one and only Benny Goodman—"King of Swing"—with his greatest mobility of swing music ever gathered in a single engagement. Swing-shuffling half-hour program. Check your local newspapers.

SATURDAY NIGHTS

7:30 p.m. E.S.T., 8:30 p.m. M.S.T., 9:30 p.m. C.S.T., 10:30 p.m. P.S.T.

BOB CROSBY

Bob breaks up "the best Distributed band in the land"—open-lighting song writer John Murray, the Dibbs, and swingmaster Benny Goodman—on Sundays and its "natural" every Thursday night.

CBS Network

5:30 p.m. E.S.T., 6:30 p.m. M.S.T., 7:30 p.m. C.S.T.

LONG-BURNING COSTLIER TOBACCOS

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF...

PENNY FOR PENNY

YOUR BEST

CIGARETTE BUY

ARD "BLONDIE" MONDAY NIGHTS

FREQUENTLY Columbia Pictures’ stars—Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake—as Blondie and Dagwood Bumstead. A thirty-minute program of laugh-getting, tear-jerking home-town comedy. Tune in and chuckle at the latest antics of the trouble-happy Bumstead family.

CBS Network

7:30 p.m. E.S.T., 8:30 p.m. M.S.T., 9:30 p.m. C.S.T., 10:30 p.m. P.S.T.
U. S. College Students Join in Battle to Fight Syphilis

An unusual campaign aimed at curbing a disease that is歼灭性地 harmful to young people, has recently been launched at several leading universities in the United States, including Yale, Columbia, Harvard, and MIT. The campaign is based on the premise that syphilis is a preventable disease, and that by taking preventive measures, the spread of the disease can be greatly reduced.

East and west, north and south, college students in every type of institution have taken up the cry: "Stamp Out Syphilis - Enemy of Youth!" Young persons have been for years the victims of a "misplaced moral censorship," which forbids discussion of this leading threat to youth health. But during the past two years college editors and students have helped materially to blast this censorship from its shaky foundations. Every day more students ask for facts and honesty.

Students have instigated educational campaigns and have arranged free blood tests for students. At Texas, George Washington, Kentucky, V. P. I., Bucknell, Pittsburgh, Syracuse — and a host of other universities and colleges — student campaigns have met with startling success. President and deans are beginning to see their way clear to place the blood test in its rightful place in routine examinations, and are recognizing the need for courses in sex education and marriage guidance.

Ten million persons in the United States have or have had syphilis, a million potential mothers have syphilis, 100,000 deaths a year, 60,000 congenital syphilis born annually, half of every year's 500,000 new cases are under 25 years of age.

Students and faculty alike looked at the above statistical picture of syphilis. Many saw their responsibilities as leaders of the future and as trainers of those leaders of the future. Others asked, "But is it a problem for us — for college students and faculty?" Just this past January the U. S. Public Health Service and the American Social Hygiene Association answered that question. On the basis of more than 75,000 blood tests, they reported, the rate for college students is approximately the same as for the corresponding age group in the general population. In March, the students spoke. Out of nearly a million and a half students, in colleges all over the United States, 93.1 per cent answered "yes" to the question: "Do you believe a blood test before marriage should be required by law?"

"The control of syphilis is a task for the whole people," Surgeon General Parran says. Rich or poor, in college or out, young people of today are vitally and directly concerned with the control of syphilis. These pictures indicate what some students are doing about their "public health problem No. 1."

Syphilis Strikes in 10 Adults... More Than Half Are Infected Before 30
Grunts, Groans and Lots of Dirt

featured the annual Card School of Applied Science bag with this year's new annotation: "-contended modified mudcrab: on the brush to win, even though mostly outnumbered."

It's Testime in Collegeland

And score like this at Western Reserve University's blarney College and being displaced throughout the nation. Mr. Judith Wright is doing the punting.

No Sweatshirts Allowed!

That's the strict order given by today's chairman's dress, Rev. O. M. MacEchern, S. J., to current administrator. St. Blaziers are all apparently neatly dressed like Don Fleming, worthy halfback.

They're in the Know!

William College's "Ask Mr." girls provided rare courtroom information for all of the college's newcomers. (L. to R.) Dorothy Poole, Patricia Hummert, Anne Donnast, and Betty Noon.

Judy Oversees the Testime

Judy Hassett, daughter of the wardens of St. Steg and the only person born inside the gates' walls, is a housegirl at Peabody College. Her breed书记 is helping her unpack.

Grants, Groans and Lots of Dirt

Joan Lane, daughter of the wardens of St. Steg and the only person born inside the gates' walls, is a housegirl at Peabody College. Her breed书记 is helping her unpack.

It's Testime in Collegeland

Anne Bulfin, daughter of the U.S. ambassador to France, has taken the path of oriental culture to attend Bryn Mawr College. She was photographed at the recent Bryn Mawr home show.

No Sweatshirts Allowed!

Owen Boord, Jr., one of the president of Harvard, is continuing his engineering studies at the University of Michigan at Baltimore.

They're in the Know!

Martin Dean, Jr., son of the originator of the widely-publicized "an American" policy in Egypt, is now a University of Virginia student.

Grants, Groans and Lots of Dirt

Lucy McMillan, daughter of the late Rev. Alphonse McMillan, is now a University of Virginia student.

It's Testime in Collegeland

Tom Winters, descendant of a long line of Indians medicine men, has broken the traditional search list of his tribe to study scientific medicine at Tulane University. He's pictured with his wife.
From Raw Cotton to Finished Dresses

They Make Their Clothes

To train an army of technicians for the vast textile industry of North Carolina, the textile of North Carolina State College has established what has become the largest textile school in the U.S. Every step in the making of cotton fabric is done by the students, and the finished cloth to which is completed to college women to make into dresses. The girls annually compete in a statewide contest to determine which one has made the most attractive ensemble from the student-made cloth.

RIGHT: Working on their entries in this year's contest, these Meredith College students are telling the models that the dress will have to be shorter if it's to be in style this season. Eight other women's colleges participate in the contest.

LEFT ABOVE: N. C. State student Charlie Grantham's entry is through the combiner. The cotton on top are raw cotton. After combing, the yarn goes to the spinners which make it into thread.

LEFT: Bak Wood prepares an array of yarn to dying. This division of the industry is the one most important for the textile school students.

RIGHT: This loom in the college's model factory is weaving the interlaced threads and weaving them into a beautiful pattern.

West Pointers Parade in New Formation

Just as happy as ever, U.S. Military Academy cadets held their first formal regimental dress review under the huge flag and regulations.