Wolfe, 3rd Lyceum Speaker To Appear During Institute

Lecture On European Crisis Fits IHR Theme

For the third lyceum number, in conjunction with the Institute of Human Relations, Henry C. Wolfe, expert on European affairs and author of the book about Hitler's bid for world power, "The German Coupus," will address the student body in the Richard Russell auditorium on Thursday night, January 25.

Much Foreign Experience

Twenty-five years of association with European affairs, that have included service on the French and British fronts, a year in Russia with the Hoover Commission, and newspaper work in Central Europe, have given Dr. Wolfe unusual opportunities to study politics, economics, ideology, and the policies that influence war and peace.

Recipient of Medals

In recognition of his work in the field of international relations, he has been decorated by 4 foreign governments. On June 1919, 1939, Mr. Wolfe received the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Kent College. The degree was awarded for his work in the field of international affairs.

Magazine Author

Mr. Wolfe writes articles on the American Scene, Saturday Review of Literature, New York Times Magazine, The Commentator, Current History, American Mercury, American Scholar, Harper's, and other magazines. His articles in the February and June issues of Harper's were accepted by a Council of Literature among the most noteworthy magazine articles of each month. In view of the August crisis, it is interesting to look back at those articles in which he predicted that there would be no Austro-English alliance, but a Russian-German agreement instead, proved (broadened on page five).

Placement Bureau Announcement

The Placement Bureau has received that all seniors and under classmen who desire positions at the end of the present school year and who desire the assistance of the Bureau in securing those positions complete their papers at the earliest possible date.

The Placement Bureau expects to publish a bulletin during January giving the names of those assisting positions.

4th. IHR Program Boasts Famous Authorities, Theme Is International Scene

Students of Foreign Affairs Arrive Thurs.

"Because we need to think clearly on the European situation and have opinions based on facts rather than hearsay, the Y has chosen the theme "International Affairs" for its Institute of Human Relations," stated Miss Cynthia Malloy, YWCA secretary in a recent interview.

This year the Institute features speakers who are noted authorities on foreign affairs. Following the initial speakers, Mr. Moore L. Harvey of Emory University, four other competent lecturers will appear on the program. Those include: Henry Wolfe, lecturer and author; Rabbi Charles Zimmerman of St. Louis; Clifton Ullyot, head of the Foreign Affairs Council; and Dr. W. A. Smart of Emory University.

Opening the Institute Thursday, January 25, Dr. Harvey lectures on "The European War" during the chapel hour. "Hitler's Role in the Present Crisis" is the topic to be used in a group meeting at 4:30 Thursday afternoon.

Henry Wolfe, sponsored by the college lyceum program, speaks on "The European Situation." Possibilities for the Next Peace is the subject to be discussed by Rabbi Zimmerman Friday, January 26 at 10:00 Friday afternoon at four he speaks on "The Jew in the Present Crisis" with another lecture on the foreign situation at 7:00 Friday evening.

Mr. Clifton Ullyot has chosen "The Next Peace" for a talk Saturday morning at 10:00. Two other speeches will be given at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Dr. W. A. Smart of Emory University will close the Institute Sunday, January 28 speaking at 10:00 a.m. and again at 2:00 p.m. on "Ethical Influences in the Present Situation.

The aims of this Institute to be held on the GSCW campus January 25-28 are to give the students a clearer conception of what social issues involve and to present different elements on the various angles of foreign affairs in order that the students may interpret them with a broader view and a more accurate understanding," according to Miss Malloy.

The speakers will be available for private interviews during their stay on the campus, although several groups are planning to interview them at various times. The International Relations Club, whose theme for this year has been the European situation, will probably have some form of mock council for one of the speakers. The YWCA plans to give several breakfasts, luncheons, etc. It is also understood that Clifton Ullyot will speak in Dr. Johnson's European history class on the morning before his appearance on the campus.

Mr. Ullyot finds that he must make a flying trip, literally and will fly back after his lecture.

Atlanta Concert Attracts Sixty GSCW Flagstad Fans

Sheppard, Adams

The concert was attended by sixty GSCW (Georgia State College for Women) students, who enjoyed the music of Flagstad, a renowned Swedish soprano. The concert was held in the University's auditorium, and featured Flagstad performing her signature piece, "The Flower Duet" from "I Pagliacci." The audience was captivated by Flagstad's powerful voice and emotional interpretation of the music, and many of the students expressed their appreciation for the opportunity to hear such a world-renowned performer in person.

Honor System Gets Airing

In Chapel

The University of Georgia has implemented an honor system to promote integrity and academic excellence among its students. The system is based on a set of core values, which include honesty, integrity, and respect for others. Students are required to sign a code of conduct, which outlines the expectations for academic integrity and social behavior. Violations of the code are taken seriously, and students who violate the code are subject to disciplinary action. The University has also established an honor council to oversee the implementation of the honor system and ensure that it is administered fairly and consistently.

Sophomore Glamor Gals Wear Best Bids to Dance

The University of Georgia has a long tradition of hosting dance competitions, known as "bids," for its sophomore students. The competition is open to all sophomore women who wish to participate, and the winner is determined by a panel of judges who evaluate the contestants' dancing skills, poise, and overall performance. The competition is held in the University's auditorium, and is a popular event among the sophomore students. The winner is crowned "Miss Sophomore" and is given a title and a variety of privileges, such as being allowed to give a speech at the next year's bid competition.
