Gatty Sellars Organist Plays Here Mar. 10

Organist Called World's Greatest

Gatty Sellars, who plays at G. E. C. W. on Sunday, March 10, at 4:45 p.m. has been universally acclaimed the world's greatest descriptive organist. He is the only world-wide organist-composer to be billed as a descriptive organist. One of such, his famous “Organ Tunes,” set to the most realistic music of all the elements which he can handle, has been experienced in various travel. This performance has been broadcast many times by leading English organists, and of course by himself, the composer, who has also recorded it. In this instance we have the composer render the music on our local organ.

How to Apply for a Position was the theme of the Economics Club's monthly meeting, held Wednesday night in Russell Auditorium. The principal speakers on the program were Mr. Thaxton, Mr. Knopf and Dr. Little. Dr. Thaxton stated that the best job for a woman is one of a professional nature, such as those in the field of education. He emphasized the importance of education and the need for teachers to have a strong background in their subject. He also discussed the current labor market and the demand for qualified teachers.

Mr. Knopf's talk was on the subject of the job market for women in business. He discussed the various types of jobs available to women and the qualifications needed for each. He also talked about the importance of networking and building professional connections.

Dr. Little's talk was on the importance of writing a strong resume and covering letter. He emphasized the need for women to present themselves in a professional manner and to tailor their resumes and letters to the specific job they were applying for.

The speakers agreed that women today have many more opportunities than ever before, but that they must be prepared and have the necessary skills to succeed in the workplace. They stressed the importance of education, networking, and building a strong professional identity.

"Always appearing in front of me are the same people who would never be found in front of me."

Mr. Sanford has been described as "the man who can make a fortune out of nothing". His success is due, in part, to his ability to relate to people in a way that makes them feel comfortable.

Sweet Music Claims Favor of Students

AUSTIN, Texas, March 8—Current reports that swing music has lost first place among dancers are substantially correct, at least among college students. They have voted a preference for "sweet" tunes by a two-to-one majority in a nationwide poll of American campuses.

"When do you like best, swing music or the so-called sweet music?" was the question presented to a representative sampling of college by the Student Opinion Bureau of America.

From the answers they gave, it is evident that甜 music, which took the country over last winter, is definitely out, for the time being any way. Only 14 percent declared they preferred swing, while 86 percent and "sweet" music like that of the Lombards and the Kings was their favorite. A small group of

HOW TO WIN BOY-FRIENDS

AND INFLUENCE STAG-LINES

By Duane Dorothy Cline

Dear Miss Cline, Please help me decide! Two men from E...

Chesterfield (most men in school) have fallen in love with me. Both are Seniors, brilliant, all intellect. One, an entomologist, wants me, he says, to be his life partner in his chosen life work—keeping the bee woods. The other is a paleontologist, who dreams of spending his whole life in the Gold Desert. Dick, Miss Cline, I love life, laughter, gaiety, dancing, sophisticated people! What shall I do?

Dear Quo Quo: I may be wrong, but I see very little dancing and gaiety lumping up for you in the Gold Desert or the place where you catch bee woods. Since two people—entomologists and paleontologists—are people—have fallen for you, you must have something, and I don't mean all intellect. So why not try sophisticatized haircuts, a good perfume, and beautifully polished fineature?

AND NOW, DEAR, READ THE NEXT COLUMN CAREFULLY!
