S. S. Smith, ASCAP Counselor Speaks Apr. 22

Lecturing and visiting classes for the entire day of April 22, Monday, will be Prof. S. Stephenson Smith, educational counselor for the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, author, educator, lecturer, and theatre critic. Being a man of varied interests and accomplishments he will speak to several classes of different subjects.

He will lecture to the 9:10 and 9:45 Humanities classes; the 12 o'clock Art class, and will lead discussions on criticism of Cinema and Radio for English 215 at 11.

An enthusiastic student of the drama, as is indicated by his numerous books and magazine articles on the theatre and the fine arts, Prof. Smith has assembled a mass of evidence of Shakespeare's overwhelming use of popular songs and bits of his time in re-creating his comedies.

Many of his investigations were done when he was Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, 1938-39.

He believes that much of Shakespeare's shrewdness has been overlooked in the mass of critical commentary on his works and that he directs a considerable portion of his lecture to re-creating Shakespeare's character as

Yes, Spring is Here

And now a note on campus advertising. We're all aware that while the season is changing, the student body is also changing. Many students are now returning to school, and with the warm weather comes the desire to socialize and have fun. Here are a few tips to make the most of your spring experience:

1. Join a club or organization: There are so many options to choose from, whether it's a sports team, a music group, or a cultural club. Joining a group is a great way to meet new people and have fun together.

2. Take advantage of the weather: Spend time outside, whether it's going for a walk, picnicking, or just relaxing on the lawn. The warmer weather is perfect for outdoor activities.

3. Try something new: Spring is a time for new beginnings. Why not try a new hobby or sport? It could be a fun way to challenge yourself and meet new people.

4. Plan a trip: Spring break is just around the corner, so why not plan a trip to explore a new place or visit a nearby city? It's a great way to get out of the routine and have some adventure.

We hope these tips help you make the most of your spring experience at college. Happy spring, everyone!
