We sincerely hope that you choose to attend OCW this year. We believe that you will see enough to come back for more in your future.

There is a lot to take in. School. Most important of all, is that you make sure you get to know your classmates and form meaningful relationships with them. The Colonnade

Letter To The Frosh

CAMPUS CAMERA

Parade of Opinion

Please excuse the military占用 of the Federal District for the national defeat is fast. Weeds cover the ground and the sky is dark. The people will need to work in the service of the nation's interests.

As it is, expected, our campuses are in complete control. The support for the) during the time of our help is evident.

But, in any case, we have no reason to believe we are going to have to bear the brunt of things we say and do. The people we are in things we say and do. The people we are in things we say and do.

If you think about it, the military has a very substantial role. But we don't have enough to do. The military has a very substantial role. But we don't have enough to do.

And what about the people who are doing things for us? We don't have enough to do. The military has a very substantial role. But we don't have enough to do.

On SCHOLASTIC STANDARDS

We have high hopes for the scholastic standards this year. We believe that you will have the opportunity to see the university in action and to experience its rich history and culture.

On BRITAIN'S WAR

All the Curiesopsis in the field of politics and war were simmered out on a link during the World War. We can't say what will be the outcome of the war in Europe, but we do hope that we will come to a lasting peace. We can't say what will be the outcome of the war in Europe, but we do hope that we will come to a lasting peace.

No. Lincoln Roosevelt is the logical person to be elected President of the United States. We need a leader who will guide us through the difficult times ahead.

No. We are not going to vote now and we would like to call a meeting in favor of Mr. Roosevelt. Our credentials are in order and he is the only one who has the experience and the vision to guide the country forward.

On THIS EDITION OF THE COLONNADE

This is our way of welcoming all the new students to OCW. We decided during the summer that if the other organizations were doing special deals during special weeks, the Colonnade should certainly have a part in it.

So, in essence, we realized that there was an opportunity for us to make a good impression on the new students.

And so, you know, we've decided to use this week to present a special edition of the Colonnade. We hope you like it.

As for the rest of the edition, we've included some of the best writing we've had on campus, as well as some of the most popular features.

Since this is the first time we've done this, we welcome any feedback you may have. We want to make sure that you have a good experience with the Colonnade.

Anyway, you are welcome as far as we are concerned.

COLLEGIATE WORLD

By Associated Collegiates Press

A fairly comprehensive picture of the average society girl at the Washington University campus at St. Louis is contained in a survey in Student Life, campus publication.

Some of the conclusions follow:

"She comes in assorted heights, dressed and shaped according to latest fashions. Her waxed leg is becoming, and she will seldom cover it with a hat; but just be a request of rain appear and she wraps it up under a handkerchief and looks like someone who should be slaying in Princeton when it rains."

In spite of her 12-hour study average weekly she keeps her grades well above the campus level, makes more E's than C's, and inspires all kinds of tales of apple-polishing by the less experienced main.

She thinks of men almost as much as they like to think she does, but her thought is not always to their credit. Rather often she has more dates than she wants, because that's the only way she can be sure to have the ones she really does want.

"Two or three nights a week she has a more or less formal asked-to-dinner-dance, definite-destination date. In between times she may lunch or go for rides or have boys drop in. Certainly she spends hours on "grooming," which she may or may not consider a great waste of time. (Jalopy--A campus term meaning an inexpensive date, usually several hours sitting in a restaurant over a soda or dish of ice cream.)

"She has an allowance and usually pays her own bills at the school cafeteria or an off-campus restaurant.

"She may look fanciful, but there's a fifty-fifty chance she has held down a paying job at some time or other. She may even be the one girl in a hundred who's working her way through college with a full-time job. She's more apt to be the ex-society girl in 10 who earns her spending money by vending about area bars a week."

"In general she's a happy girl, fairly well satisfied with her share of life,"

And there's the one about the girl who was so cynical she didn't believe that stocks brought baby stocks.

It used to be that the first man out of a dormitory was the best dressed--now he's the only one dressed.

SAME STORY

He knocked at the door of my room.

"May I come in? It's the room I had when I went to college in 1940," he said.

"Yes, sir," he said, last in reverse.

"Grand old room,"

He opened the door. There stood a girl, terrified.

"This is my sister," I said.

"Yes, sir. Same old story!"

Prof.: How would you punctuate this sentence: "The word blew a twenty-dollar bill around the corner?"

"Student: I would make a slash after the bill."

Judge: "Well, how are you, anybody?"

"Judge: "A little petter, thanks."
