Noble Beats Bartlett; Council Appoints Two

Winfield Noble was elected Chairman of Judicatory by a majority of two votes in the run-off election held Tuesday, Oct. 8. He defeated Lorre Bartlett, a junior, who received a total of 156 votes.

The run-over was necessary because neither the cancidates received a majority in the primary held last Friday, Oct. 4. Out of the 411 votes cast Winfield Noble and Lorre Bartlett received 122 and 105 respectively in the primary. Edith Thompson was eliminated in the first race with a total of 74 votes.

As the position of Chapel Protor was a necessity vacated by Winfield's acceptance, Student Council appointed Jimi Lee Ben-sen to this position at a meeting Oct. 9. The duties of the Proctor are to make all the announcements at chapel and to sit on Upper Court.

il to fill the vacancy of Margaret

At Last, Free Music

We are proud to say that the nickelodeon question has been settled! Last week we asked you to stop using the machines when you were paid for the privilege. This year, you can enjoy the nickelodeon music and pay nothing.

From collection after the machines had been paid for has been a definite problem, and we expected that the service nickelodeon. Exactly how long this music will last must accompany this letter, but it is expected to cover expenses for the quarter. A plan to secure the music for records, and the nickelodeon service nickelodeon. Expenses are called for, and any surplus will be donated to the university for the purchase of these records.

Three alternatives are available for the plan: 1) use the music from the nickelodeon; 2) have the machines replaced; or 3) take a collection from each dormitory. Of these proposals, we favor the first. Since the nickelodeon service must be used for dormitory purposes, it is suggested that it be used for records. If that music is not sufficient, we will have to bear some of the cost ourselves. On the other hand, it costs nothing to collect a nickelodeon.

The plan will be considered during this quarter and a method to raise the necessary money will be devised. Meanwhile, we can make use of our free music.

Our Buildings Need Markers

We have realized for a long time that our campus buildings should be identified in some manner for new students and visitors. Even more firmly this truth is recognized today.

Many parents have asked where a certain building was and how to get to that building. It was impossible to give clear directions as to how to reach any hall when some of the names were given to the building by other students or former students.

We can offer no solution to this problem on the campus except a project to mark the buildings. These buildings would not be marked for the first time, but we think that such organization receiving funds from the Student Activity Fund be responsible for this.

Counting out over $150, making poster boards bearing the names of the buildings, we are prepared to paint the names on the buildings. It should be an easy matter for the 50 groups included in the activities classification to raise the necessary money to paint the names on the buildings.

We ask that this matter be taken under consideration by all the groups. We can think of no better way to make the campus body for the convenience of those who, in the organizations, exist.

We Are Responsible

Recognizing the expectations we want to state here, but for the benefit of all readers of this paper, that the opinions expressed in this column are the opinions of the editor, and those of the editor alone.

No faculty member answers our solicitors. No faculty member contributes information to be printed in these columns.

One is a student paper, managed entirely by members of the student body. We fervently hope that any complaint will be directed to the editor and to no other person.

No Anonymous Letters, Please

An inventory to the old student and an anachronistic must be to the student of today. The anonymity anonymous letters will be accepted by the Colonade for publication. The information necessary before a letter written in such a manner will be refused for the editor to know the name of the author. If the author does not wish his name to be known, we will not print the letter. It is understood that the opinions expressed in such letters are those of the writer, not those of the Colonade.

Parents Day

Today is the one day set aside by this school for a special event, where the parents of all OSC students. To us, this seems to be one of the few customs observed on our campus.

We believe that most parents want to know exactly what is going on in school, even though they may not have a profound interest. Too much energy is wasted trying to explain things that are not explained. If we do not have this feeling, then only one cause remains.

Eleanor Jane Thomas, a member of the Physical Education Board, said the following to the editor, "I feel that this is a wonderful time for parents to come and see their children in school. I believe that they will be interested in the activities of their children."

Parents will be welcomed by the Colonade staff and will be given a tour of the campus. The tour will include the library, the gym, and the cafeteria. Parents will be given a chance to meet their children's teachers and to see the facilities of the school.

In order to the right Asia, but a man must be able to move. This was a novel idea in China in the twenties. The activity centered around the park, and the man who is able to move is able to move like a man.

But we must be proud of the things we have built in China, we must be proud of the man who is able to move like a man.

During the War, China was able to build like a man. The man who is able to move like a man is able to build like a man. In order to move like a man, we must be proud of the things we have built in China.

So we are proud of the things we have built in China.

Brush Is at Her Best
In “This Is On Me”

BY MILDRED BALLARD

Refraining is the word for the newly published autobiographical book of Mrs. Mildred Ballard, GRUB, LEE SIBB, and many other modern-day scribes. Miss Ballard dash her revelation THIS IS ON ME and the impression she creates therein is carried out in her book with a rare artistry and a unique style of expression that is intriguing and effective. She brings the buyer her latest offering in the form of a book which is both simple and effective, with a pointer to the inside of the book to indicate its meaning.

One may marvel at the depth of Miss Ballard’s thought-provoking thoughts and the skill with which she writes. Her book is not only a means of expressing her own ideas but also a means of expressing her own philosophy.

At the general meeting of the President’s Board of Advisors, the Ballards are invited to introduce the new member to the President, Mr. John Wilson.

1 Out of 5 GSC Girls Working

One out of five girls at GSCW is being asked to attend through part-time employment by the National Youth Administration. With a population of 1,900, slightly more than half of these girls have been employed.

A total of $68,000 a year is being made by the Youth Administration in the form of direct work to students for work actually performed. While the broad framework of the act of Congress and policies formulated by the national and state offices of the N.Y.A., GSCW officials report almost complete ignorance in the situation and assignment of students.

All students working on this phase of the N.Y.A. program are paid at the prevailing wage rate, which in some cases, even though not paid to the community, and were paid more than $1,000 extra in the form of student employment in this community. In the hands of an employer, students are more likely to work at this lower wage rate and become additions instead of an already overworked labor market.

The N.Y.A. is not suggested as a适合 students who wish to work in a professional field. Working in high-school research work, is the plan for those who wish to do so.
