Henry Kemp to Visit
Campus November 5-6

Dr. Henry W. Kemp, professor of Greek and Latin and head of the division of the humanities at Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., will visit the GSCW campus for two and one-half days beginning Nov. 4 on a tour of South Carolina and Georgia colleges, sponsored by the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges.

The tour will be the fifth which Dr. Kemp has made for the association. Last year he visited colleges in North and South Carolina, Florida and Georgia. He is returning to the South this season to visit those colleges which he could not include in his tour last year.

At each college Dr. Kemp will deliver a lecture on "Attitudes Toward the Arts, Then and Now." In addition to this, he will give supplementary talks on such subjects as "Aesthetic and the Democratic Way of Life" and "The Place of the Arts in a College Education." Dr. Kemp will also be available for individual conferences with students who may wish to confide in him an issue growing out of his talk.

Dr. Kemp received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Illinois. He has studied at the University of Chicago and has served as visiting professor of Latin at summer sessions of the University of Illinois and the University of Oklahoma. He has served in his present position at Hendrix since 1939.

AAUW Hears Program on Brazil

Miss Madeleine Smith of LaGrange College will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Milford American Association of University Women, which will be held Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at the home of Mrs. Charles Taylor.

Miss Smith will discuss the part women play in the social and educational institutions of Brazil. Following the address, a group of Cuban students at Georgia Military College will sing familiar songs in Spanish.

Miss Smith, who now teaches in LaGrange College, is an authority on her subject, having taught in the schools of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Class Starts Practice
On One-Act Plays

Forester to Lead Forums On Religion

The annual Religious Emphasis Institute will be held on Oct. 11 through Nov. 2, it was announced this week by Jo Knox, president of the local chapter of the YWCA. The institute will bring as guest speaker this year Rev. Charles Forester of Oxford.

G. R. FORESTER
Mandarin

Rev. Forester received his B.D. and D.D. degrees from Emory University and did his graduate work at Yale. He is, at present, teacher of Biblical Literature at Emory Junior College at Oxford and the minister at the church on the college campus. Rev. Forester is a member of the North Georgia Methodist Conference and is class leader of the Methodist Young People's Assembly.

All the meetings which Forester will attend are free of charge.

Dorm Prefects Hear Adams

The first meeting of the dorm- dor by Nancy Bagley, Wednesday, Oct. 23. The purpose and functions of this organization were given by Mrs. Rexford, and the court cases were chosen by the group in open forum.

Miss Ethel Adams gave the rules for writing and filing minutes. She suggested that the dorms make the plans for their social affairs during the year in the fall and to concentrate more on work with preparations early. She urged that the presidents forward the shooting in order to raise scholarship.

These meetings will be held bimonthly and the heads of residences will attend at regular intervals.

Ruth Bryan Rohde Speaks Here
On First Lyceum Monday Night

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, former minister to Denmark and one-time congresswoman from Florida, will address the students of GSCW at 8:30 p.m. Monday in Russell auditorium under the auspices of the Lyceum Course Committee.

First woman to ever represent that far southern section below Jacksonville, the longest congressional district in the United States, Mrs. Rohde is widely known as a lecturer and writer.

She was born in Jacksonville, Ill., the daughter of William Jenkins Bryan, Daniel Democratic leader, and Mary Baird Bryan. Her childhood environment was public questions, and she knows the Democratic platform at 11 years of age.

As the wife of Major James M. Rohde, son of Theodore Rose, she lived in London, Egypt, and the West Indies. She served as a war nurse in London and in India during the World War.

For four years, 1919-23, she was a member of Congress. As a member of the foreign affairs committee, she was the first woman sent to the Inter-Parliamentary Committee, meeting at London, in 1920.

In 1923 she was appointed minister to Denmark by President Roosevelt to succeed Major Owen who held the post when he died.
Hungry Students Satisfied
With Food at Annual Hike
By LUCIA BOOZER

With tired feet and full stomachs, all the girls returned to dormitories from their 10-mile trek Sunday, CHINA.

Even though the route had been postponed twice and the sun was hidden behind black clouds all day, the students headed toward Lake Laird about 1:45. But the downpour did not dampen the enthusiasm of the participants, who headed out to hike a make-up route. Many of the girls were already tired as the return trip started, but the enthusiasm of the majority of United

Shirts and Skirts Required in 1939;
No Corsets Allowed

Perhaps your grandmas had a lot of fun with this law that was put in place in 1939. The law stated that the female students at all Georgia high schools and colleges must wear shirts and skirts. The laws did not apply to the female students at the colleges in the state. In 1939, the law was changed and the requirement for shirts and skirts was eliminated. But the law still applies to the female students at the colleges in the state.

Madame Kazi-Shek Tells
Of Crisis in War-torn China
By MILDRED BAGLARD

President of the Hong Kong rental staff in Madame Kazi-Shek's office and staff, THAILAND CHINA. After touring through the various attractive sites of her general area, the groups started making trips around the island for the several hours that the rental staff will last. They will eventually either overstay the institutions force of invading Japan—then even more so now with its own food—and that while Chinese hospitals will surely gain national recognition.

WASHINGTON—Without or Madame Kazi-Shek's home, the idea of bringing together in a single room the stories of the children of China's first and second generation, who have left their homes to go abroad, is not so simple. In the first generation, we have the story of Madame Kazi-Shek's home, as told by her, and in the second generation, we have the story of Madame Kazi-Shek's home, as told by her daughter.

The author takes the dimensions of the world with which she has lived, but not as a child. She was born in China and then in New York, and the stories of her childhood are her own. The author takes the story of her mother, as told by her, and the story of her daughter, as told by her. The author takes the story of her mother, as told by her, and the story of her daughter, as told by her. YW Group
Hears Talk
By Gewitsch

Life in Austria before and after Hitler’s invasion, Austrian feeling toward National Socialism, and conditions that contributed to the downfall of Austria were topics Alice Gewitsch discussed before the Economics and Labor group of the YMCA on Oct. 25 in Reesor Hall.

Feeling toward Hitler’s movement was about 40 to 40 against and 10 to 10 per cent for, something to Miss Gewitsch, some of Austria’s most trusted officials were found to be Nazi agents, she said. She stated that the Austrian people were paralyzed when German troops occupied the country, and that confusion and chaos reigned supreme. When sympathizers engaged as channel the frontiers were closed immediately, she declared.

After Miss Gewitsch’s talk general discussion followed. Judy Kriner is chairman of the Economics and Labor group.

HOW TO WIN BOY-FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE STAG-LINES

By Dulen Dorothy Clix

Dear Miss City:

My brother, a sophomore at X———.College, is an absolute lamb about bringing his boy friends over to our school and introducing them to me. But oh, Miss City, they never come back of their own accord! I ask my brother why, but he just poo-poo me cruelly. I’m so upset that I bite my fingernails! What can I do?

Dear "Agonized": Say listen, young woman! Don’t you realize what’s wrong? You’ve put your finger on it yourself—your dear boy friend! If there is anything in the whole calendar of female wrong-doing that gives me the gripes, and sends them away like a king at boy, it’s only, broken fingernails. Take your character—if it isn’t all weak—by the arm of its weakness, and say, “Never again!” and then, just to make it easier, muzzle them with a mother’s care and keep them tidy regularity with a fashionable knob of nail polish. Then ask brother to bring up the Wild Game again.

AND NOW, DEAR, READ THE NEXT COLUMN CAREFULLY!
