Fifty Trees Planted
By GSC Committee

A tradition was planted here Thursday. Since this marks the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of GSCW, the college, under the direction of Dr. Guy H. Wells, is planting fifty live oaks on the campus.

These trees are to be historic in more ways than one. They are four feet in diameter in addition to being symbolic of the Golden Anniversary.

One of the plantings was by the historic Opelbrey oak, at Deer and the place now call for planting of acres from this oak, the Weley oak at St. Thomas Island the Sidney Laizer Oak at Brownsville.

These acres will be planta-bility in celebration, in order to give campus same oaks which have an important historical significance.

The occasion Thursday was featured by a ceremony of planting the first tree. Frances Lott, president of the College Government, tuned in the first spade full of earth, while Dr. Wells held the tree. President of the college class, representatives of various campus organizations, and the editor and business manager of the Colonnade were present.

Students participating were:

Frances Lott, Mary Deena Everette, Betty Jordan, Allison, Joyce

Blair, Atlanta, Nell Boyar, Madel-iin, Carolyne Stinger and Pamela

Knox.

Oden Speaks

At Health Club Meeting

"Oden's "fall" this year is a matter of concern to us all," said Dr. John W. Oden, of the college medical department.

"I understand that the fall in health club participation is due to the high cost of living and the increased pressure on students' time.

The cost of running the health club has increased significantly due to the high cost of living and the increased pressure on students' time. We are currently considering ways to reduce the cost of running the health club and make it more accessible to students.

The health club is an important resource for students to maintain their physical health and well-being. Please consider joining or supporting the health club in the future.

Surveys Find Majority Students Sleep 7 Hours 7 Mins

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 15—Parents who worry about their children not getting enough sleep will find comfort in the figures compiled in this study of University of Texas students. College student who sleep less than 7 hours a day have significantly less energy than those who get eight or more hours of sleep. The study, which included over 200 students, found that those who sleep less than 7 hours a day also report feeling more tired and less alert during the day. The study was conducted by a team of researchers from the University of Texas College of Science.

Allen, Taylor

Horsburgh on

The Mass Applicability Homestretch on Wednesday, February 14, 1960, Allen, Taylor, Reine, Honey and Clarence T. Winters, Jr., from Texas State University, were guests on the College of Science radio program. The group discussed the mass applicability of mass communications.

"Many may be the nights you spend in the library or studying for exams, but let us not forget the importance of socializing and enjoying our college experience," Taylor said.

"We are all aware of the benefits of socializing, but it is often overlooked," Reine added. "Socializing is an essential part of the college experience and is important for personal and professional growth."
