West, Luecker To Direct

“Our Town”; Choirs Assist

This week-end all attention is on our college and its fiftieth birthday; however, all intervals will be directed to “Our Town” on the night of May 6 at 8:00. “Our Town” is “unusual...drollily hilarious—a haunting thing,” as the Chicago Times-Star expressed it.

Miss Edna West, the director of our college and the cast will be working on this play approximately three weeks. Mr. Luecker is the technical director of “Our Town,” and he has a full machinery of the various roles. Bob Bacon will conduct the 12\textsuperscript{th} grade choir. The orchestra, which is composed of the students, members of the various faculty, and the ladies are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Luecker.

Our Butler is going to play the piano. The Undersecretary will consist of representatives of the Greek, German, Latin, and Credential choir. The numbers are Jean Steenwyl, Libby van Middelbrooks, Virginia Lea- cin, and Ernestine Wynn. They will sing in the wedding and farewell scenes, and will be accompanied by Davis Watson at the organ.

Robert Benichia said, “There is no doubt that any campus could count itself proud to bring forth such a tryout.”

The Washington Post expressed his enthusiasm thus: “A miracle of simplicity, clarity, and power. It is all as honest, as vital, as imaginative, and as honest as its music. The music, being inspired, is expressive. It will never be marred by the decaper of deep undercurrents and subrhythms. Our production of “Our Town” is more than a tryout; it is a thrilling and memorable experience to the college.”

Writer-Explorer Pens Yarn Of Strange Native Lore

By MILDEED BALLARD

Would you like to know what goes on in the region a little to the far north, in the lands of the head hunters of the Amazon valley to be exact? Then read the following yarn by Mrs. Mildred Ballard from her recent trip to Brazil, Peru and Colombia. These head hunters are the Awallow.

Mrs. Ballard writes in her yarn:

"The Awallow are a strange native tribe who live in a portion of the Amazon valley. They are known as head hunters because they wear the heads of their enemies and use them as trophies.

The Awallow believe that the head is a symbol of strength and power. They believe that the person who wears the head has the power of the person whose head is worn. They believe that the head gives them the power to protect themselves from their enemies.

The Awallow people live in small villages and are known for their bravery and their fierce fighting.

Mrs. Ballard's yarn is a fascinating account of life among these strange and mysterious people. It is a must-read for anyone who is interested in the history and culture of the Amazon valley.

YWCA Has History Dating Back to Schools Intancy

In 1848 a group of thirty students and faculty of the Girard Theological Seminary in Pennsylvania founded a woman's college, which was named Girard College. The college was later renamed as Girard Woman's College. The Girard Woman's College later merged with the Girard Theological Seminary in 1920 to form the Girard College of Philadelphia. Today, Girard College is a coeducational institution located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The Girard Woman's College was the first college in the United States to be founded by women for women. It was established in response to the growing number of women entering higher education in the 19th century. The college offered a curriculum that included subjects such as literature, history, and science.

The Girard Woman's College was an important catalyst in the development of women's education in the United States. It provided women with the opportunity to receive a college education and paved the way for future generations of women to pursue higher education.

The Girard Woman's College was granted the rights of a university in 1920 and became Girard College in 1921. Today, Girard College is a coeducational institution located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and is committed to providing a high-quality education to all students.
