Jarrett Springs Playground Begun

Jarrett Springs, which is located north and west of the Coca-Cola plants on Wayne street, has been secured for GSCSW and Pedobly for additional recreational space. Judge S. Price Gilbert of Dunwoody, Ga., a member of the Board of Directors, who one time offered a bill to create a college here, is sponsoring and editing in the development of the recreational area on the project.

A small amphitheater, sandboxes, tennis, basketball courts, a softball diamond, a swimming hole, an outdoor swimming pool, and a waiting pool are to be used in the development. The project will also be beautified. Flora with shrubbery, lawns and a memorial fountain will be added to the facilities. Interhationa.ng of the facilities will be provided.

This project is to be a ten-year plan. Hopefully, the major part of it is expected to be completed within six months.

Roosevelt Ball
Set for Students

Plans for the annual Roosevelt Ball, scheduled for February 3, have been announced. The formal part will be at the University Hotel, and the dance will be held at the Student Union. The charge will be 50 cents, and the seated section is reserved for seniors. The theme will be "A Night in Rome." The committee will make no reservations for tables in advance.

Chapel Programs

Monday, January 30—The Student Council Band will present a program.

Friday, January 30—Rev. Stuart Brown will present a program.

Sophomores Dance
To Kay-Dei Music

The Sophomores' dance, featuring a floor-band and "Kay-Dei" music, will be held Saturday night, February 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Tickets will be sold in advance for 35c, and for $1.00 at the door.

Committee members: W. H. Worley, chairman; A. T. Pate, vice-chairman; J. G. Rogers, secretary; A. B. Fish, treasurer.

Roosevelt Ball
Set for Students

Plans for the annual Roosevelt Ball, scheduled for February 3, have been announced. The formal part will be at the University Hotel, and the dance will be held at the Student Union. The charge will be 50 cents, and the seated section is reserved for seniors. The theme will be "A Night in Rome." The committee will make no reservations for tables in advance.

Chapel Programs

Monday, January 30—The Student Council Band will present a program.

Friday, January 30—Rev. Stuart Brown will present a program.

Sophomores Dance
To Kay-Dei Music

The Sophomores' dance, featuring a floor-band and "Kay-Dei" music, will be held Saturday night, February 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the Student Union. Tickets will be sold in advance for 35c, and for $1.00 at the door.

Committee members: W. H. Worley, chairman; A. T. Pate, vice-chairman; J. G. Rogers, secretary; A. B. Fish, treasurer.

Sylveta G. Leach

Macon, Ga.

Miss Sylveta G. Leach, well known as a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear in the Russell Auditorium with her partner Robert Roland, January 21st, on the second concert of the Metropolitan Series.

Miss Leach has, so far in her career, played the parts of Tatyana, Gavotte, and Golovka, began dancing at an early age, following a severe accident of pneumonia, her doctor suggested dancing as a health measure. For three successive years, beginning when she was sixteen, Miss Leach won the international salon competition of Paris in winter.

Signing her first contract with the Ballet Russe of the Paris company at fifteen, Miss Leach made her debut on "Spezialdekab." After an extensive tour of Europe with this company, Miss Leach became the partner of Serge Lifar, and the two were recognized as a representative of the Russian school of dancing and at the Paris Opera. Miss Leach won the international salon competition of Paris in winter.

When war came, Miss Leach, a Russian of Monte Carlo, for twenty years was signed by the original troupe of the Russian school of dancing and at the Paris Opera. She appeared with the Russian Ballet and the Ballet Russe in Russia and the United States, and in "Les Sylphides," "Princesse Arback," "Green Lake," and "Four O'Clock". She was also back in Stuttgart, and had the role of "Shahis," and "Regard," and "Herjoir".

Among her appearances with the Russian Musical Opera Company, special sets and ballets were designed for Miss Leach in "Vendange de Printemps," "Open Road," and "Miseria Famigliare". In 1801 she was called upon by the Philadelphia Opera Company to dance in "Therapoth" the ballet for "The Pa" and "Carmen".

Keyhoe Addresses Wesley Foundation

Dressed in the colorful native garb of India, Miss Katherine Keyhoe addressed Wesley Foundation students and faculty members in the auditorium of the Student Union. She described some of her nursing experiences in that country whereby she has seen many representatives of the Mohammedic Church, who are in a health and sanitation and general better living. She stated that most of their classes are conducted in English.

Assigned to a small, primitive group of Indians in the village, Miss Keyhoe has taught the results of having rate of the in the home and diseases in the Patients. Miss Keyhoe has been an expert for the health of children who usually died before they were one and a half years old, and also an expert guide of gipsy children that she taught as well as young women children who usually die at the age of ten.

She announced that there is waiting to give part of their lives to the church and are on an adventure at the same time until they were able to sign up for three years of work in a foreign field and later return to their homes and pr-
There Is A Chance

A recent investigation shows that more than 23% of American women are dissatisfied with their sex roles because of women's present societal positions, undefined positions in the American society. A great number of those women are college graduates and the housewives with well-equipped houses and few children and that have the greatest leisure time to make their decisions a form in the side of our national welfare system. Some more rural women are opening universities, going into professions and being housekeepers with less housework, this, too, will transform society unless we recognize it as a definite trend to be faced squarely.

The key to this discontent lies in the fact that women have not got their proper humanization, their right to choose how they shall spend their working time. Any woman who is much more suited to care for her home and children is forced, through circumstances, to take an underpaid job, while someone else who has no talent for care services and no longer needs to care for her children, is forced to stay home because her husband thinks it's the place for her. Those who dislike the domestic homemaking Americans may not cry out its imbecility that the business world is robbing the child of motherly care. Is it not equally true that many fathers have so small a part of homemaking that they don't know how to keep up his or her school lessons, or must be dropped in to Mary's piano recital? In the home of the future, a young couple contemplative marriage, will be wise to define before hand whether the wife is to have all household duties or pursue work, or whether both partner work and share housework equally.

Many women-particularly college women—want to "try their wings" for a few years in the business world, yet prove a lifetime career as a housekeeper. To make it possible for women to decide for themselves, will not prove any revolution in the American way of life, but will reverse the cause for much unhappiness and lack of humanized personalities.

The COLONNADE

Member of Associated Collegiate Press

Published every other week during the school year except during holidays and vacation periods by the students of the Georgia State College for Women, MillIDGE, Georgia. Subscription price per year. Ten cents as second class matter, October 30, 1933, in the post office, Millidgeville, Ga., under Act of March 3, 1917.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief: John Martin

Assistant Editor: Dan Earl

Managing Editor: Dorothy Miller

News Editor: Dorothy Miller

Feature Editor: Catherine Leach

Reporters: Teresa Bennett, Marjorie Daniel, Owen Wilson, Ralph Miller, Elizabeth Laney, Sara Bond, Mary C. Jenkins, Lee O. Jenkins, Dorothy Bridges, Jane Cowley, Betty D MEDIA, Lois Roberts, Helen Brown and Miss Allen.

Business Manager: Sarah Brandwein

Circulation Manager: Mary Tripp

Business Assistant: Marion Wilkes

G. N. News

Staff Correspondents: Mary and Allen

Morton Backlund, Meda Helton, Owen Ritch

JESSIE JIBBERINGS....

There's more new happening around Jessie's campus lately. Not only have resources been developed, but quite a few have "fallen through".

There was a visit to our President's desk one day by a youngster named with a wobbly upper which, she says, was a way to keep a Christmas present.

Mary Ann Jones went home last week for more reasons than one. She has a beautiful diamond for the third time, but this one isn't. Yes, she's exposed to Louis Thompson, formerly of GMC, and now of the Army.

Miss Blanchard and Miss Blake were named during the Christmas holidays. They have an opportunity in town, and both are continuing their studies.

Brought the "smirker" or council Monday days by women's committee with wobbly upper which, she says, was a way to keep a Christmas present.

The Colonades of America's portable radio station "Tally's Audible or audible?"

For our girls, a housewife from Atlanta, has had any kind of anything but a home. "I'm not sure," she said to The Colonades.

Cheer Committee, a business from Atlanta, has had any kind of anything but a home. "I'm not sure," she said to The Colonades.

"What a Wonderful World It Would Be...

In Georgia

Thompson and Tinley, Jr.

The five paragraphs of the last State Constitution are involved.

"The executive power shall be vested in a Governor who shall hold his office during the term of the Legislature and be chosen and qualified by the method provided by Article V, Constitution, Paragraph 1. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor shall exercise the executive powers,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Presidential election shall be the President of the United States. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Legislative election shall be the President of the Senate. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the Circuit Court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the Superior Court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the Municipal Court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the Juvenile Court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the Small Claims Court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the probate court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the probate court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the probate court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."

"The person having the majority of the votes in the Judicial election shall be the President of the probate court. In case of the death, resignation, or inability of the President, the Vice President shall exercise the executive power,..."
"What this country needs is more honor among men and less honor among women," said the woman to the man she was trying to date. She was attending a meeting of the local Women's Rights Organization, where she was advocating for gender equality.

Copy your school's dignitaries and their escort's name in to the College Digest, to illustrate the theme of the issue. The picture must be at least 5x7 inches. Include complete identification of individuals and the school they represent.

Top: Valadier Stevens, left, after five years in the navy, has moments of doubt distinguishing among his brothers, Harold, Herbert, and Howard. He is shown making the presentation after he had made a donation toward the new student center.

Campus Pictures Wanted

Veterans from Chicago colleges gathered outside the college campus during the Institute for Study of the United Nations. Chicago, Ohio, Amherst, Wisconsin. Men from Loyola.

Photos Wanted

Send your school's photographs to College Digest, University of Wisconsin, 1410 State Street, Madison, Wisconsin. Pictures in color will be accepted for consideration. The photo must be at least 5x7 inches. Include complete identification of individuals and the school they represent.

'One Want'