The Colonnade

13 Seniors Named Members Phoenix

Thirteen seniors of the class of 1968 were named members of Phi, namely John Young, Cathy C. Finley, Mark B. Sumner, Linda Lankford, Eleano Bright, Yvonne Edwards, Edith Doody, Joanne Republican, Johnnie Springs, and Mary Ann Mason. Their names were announced at the annual meeting of the Phoenix society.

Dean's List

For Fall Quarter

Students are invited to the annual meeting of the Phoenix society. The meeting will be held on Thursday, February 15, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sumner, 1105 W. 14th St.

UWF Plans Week of Emphasis On GW Campus

The GWU chapter of the United World Federation is planning a week of emphasis this spring on the GWU campus. The week will include lectures, workshops, and discussions on various topics related to world peace.

Students Present Chapel Program

The chapel program will be held on Monday, March 5, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John MacKay, 1107 W. 14th St. The program will include music, readings, and testimonies from students.

V Sponsors Annual Institute Of Personal Relations Jan. 17-19

The annual Institute of Personal Relations sponsored by V will be held on campus January 17-19. The speaker for this tour will be Dr. Evelyn Duvall.

Should We Have Campaigns In Our Campus Elections

By JANE MACRAE

What can we do to improve our campus elections? How can we stimulate interest? How can we make the candidates better known to the students? These are some of the questions we posed to the candidates.

Pro—

By MILLIE BLACK

Always in the past, it has been the campus tradition that the candidates for the three major organizations appear before the student body during a short period and state their ideas and definite intentions for their elections. It has been suggested that this does not go far enough in that campaign speeches are not made and the platforms of the candidates are not made clear.

We are very much against the plan that it is necessary to have regular campaigns to be held for the members of the student body to be told how to vote. It is the current practice in many cities and counties, and even in the state and national elections, that selection of a candidate depends upon how much money he can put out and how much pull he happens to have in the area affected. This, combined with prejudice and promises of radical changes in the administration, often places in important offices those men who are not worthy, but good politicians, and who are able to get the public interested in political affairs.

We believe the public has the right, and should have, to know the qualifications, the ability, the aims, and the plans of the candidates for the offices. We believe that the system should be changed to make the plans and qualifications of the candidates known to the public.

Labor Leader To Talk On Current Affairs

Mr. John Summy, CIO officer from Chicago, will speak on "Current Affairs" on Friday, March 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John MacKay, 1107 W. 14th St.

1044 Students Teach In Peabody School

Forty-four UWF students are teaching in the Peabody Laboratory School this quarter. In the elementary school are Virginia Bradford, Jo Allen, and Temple Danforth, first grade; Georgia Warden, second grade; Greta Bass, third grade; Eula Bass, fourth grade; Joanne Rountree, fifth grade; and Mrs. Mabel Brown, sixth grade.

In the high school are: Marilyn Black, typing; Georgia Bass, office practice; and Will- iam Warden, general English. Virginia Bradford and Robin Johnson, tenth grade English; Lee Shaffer, eighth grade English; Sara Kennedy, college admission; and Mary Johnson, ninth grade social studies.

In the elementary school are Mary Kate Hammond, third grade; and Mary Lou Baker, fourth grade; in the high school are: Mary Lou Davis, second grade; and Carolyn Bennett, third grade.

George Wallace, home economics; Jack Johnson, social studies; and Carol Macleod, psychology.

For more information on these courses, students, and faculty, contact Mrs. Matti Mowat, Shirley Gies, and Joanne Jorgenson.

44 Students Teach In Peabody School

Forty-four UWF students are teaching in the Peabody Laboratory School this quarter. In the elementary school are Virginia Bradford, Jo Allen, and Temple Danforth, first grade; Georgia Warden, second grade; Greta Bass, third grade; Eula Bass, fourth grade; Joanne Rountree, fifth grade; and Mrs. Mabel Brown, sixth grade.

In the high school are: Marilyn Black, typing; Georgia Bass, office practice; and William Warden, general English. Virginia Bradford and Robin Johnson, tenth grade English; Lee Shaffer, eighth grade English; Sara Kennedy, college admission; and Mary Johnson, ninth grade social studies.

In the elementary school are Mary Kate Hammond, third grade; and Mary Lou Baker, fourth grade; in the high school are: Mary Lou Davis, second grade; and Carolyn Bennett, third grade.

George Wallace, home economics; Jack Johnson, social studies; and Carol Macleod, psychology.

For more information on these courses, students, and faculty, contact Mrs. Matti Mowat, Shirley Gies, and Joanne Jorgenson.
Adventures of Atomic Annie

A Date to Remember

Does UWW mean anything to you? If not, it should. UWW means "A Date to Remember." We're not sure what it means to YOU, but it is a special visit, a special day for us. The United WorldWide Organization (UWW) encompasses the entire world government. We've heard it all before, "What government?" We've heard it a thousand times! But we're here to tell you that this government is a real powerhouse, and it is capable of doing wonders for the world.

Meet President John Smith. He is the man behind the curtain. He is the one who truly represents the interests of the people. With his exceptional leadership, the world has become a better place. The President has a special message for you:

"We've heard so much about the atomic bomb and all the terrible things that can happen. But don't you realize that we don't want to use it? We just want to make sure that it is used for the benefit of all people. And that is exactly what the UWW is all about!"

So, you ask, "Why should I care about the UWW?" Well, think about it. If the government really wants to make a difference, then it should listen to the President. And if the government is really interested in the welfare of the people, then it should act accordingly.

Thank you for considering this message. We hope you will join us in making the world a better place.

Sophia's Scrapbook

The theme of the new episode is... "The Longest Day." With this episode, Sophia wants to explore the challenges that come with being an adult. She will be focusing on the importance of communication and the role it plays in maintaining healthy relationships.

By the way, did you know that Sophia's favorite color is purple? She always wears it to her meetings. It's her signature color!

Average Senior Wins Four Children

Jennie's On the Prowl Again

By Patsy Montgomery

All available bookings were taken in the GSCW Office today, and Jennie is now on the lookout for a new one. In the recent sessions of the GSCW, it was found that 98% of the mothers who come to the center are from the low-income families. Many of these women are single parents who are looking for something to do with their children.

One of the most popular activities is the "Parenting Night," where single parents can bring their children for some fun activities. These nights are very popular, and the center always has a waiting list.

In conclusion, the GSCW is a great place for mothers to learn new skills and meet other women in similar situations. If you are a single parent, I would highly recommend checking out the GSCW, as it could be a great resource for you and your family.

Sons and Daughters

Erin, the daughter of a GSCW participant, was recently interviewed for the local news. The news anchor asked Erin about her experiences at the center. Erin said, "I've learned so much from the staff and other mothers. They have helped me to become a better parent."

The anchor then turned to the staff and asked, "What do you think of Erin's progress so far?" The staff member replied, "We are very proud of Erin. She has come a long way and we believe she will continue to grow as a parent."
DE Majors Attend New York Meeting

Five GSCW students returned Sunday from a week's trip to New York City to attend the annual conference of the National Association of Colleges for Women. The girls, making the trip were: Marcia Bennett, Dorothy Johnson, Maude Moore, and Bullock Ward. Miss Clair Jackson, head of the distributive education department at GSCW, accompanied the girls.

Approximately 7000 top-notch retailers from all over the United States attended the conference. The GSCW girls attended meetings of personal and DE groups and sessions in discussion on retail and DE Salesmen.

They also attended meetings featuring business trends and visitors to give. They saw many demonstrations of audio-visual aids and teacher training on a grade-school level.

They attended a fashion show on male fashions featured by Cosmopolitan Magazine, a show of Millon coats, Sherman Billingsley, Hats, Helmut, Lee Beman, Robert Stanley.

On the lighter side the girls went to see Tullulah Bankhead in "Private Lives," and Beatrice Lillies in "Cafe Society.

They saw an ice show at the Canine Electra with the musical and a stage show featuring the famous Rockettes.

They visited the Museum of the Metropolitan Museum, and St. Patrick's Cathedral.

They also visited many museums, including Mary's, Gimbal's, and Lord and Taylor's.

Barter Theatre To Give Hamlet Here

The Barter Theatre will present the acting performances of Hamlet in the auditorium of GSCW on Friday, April 21 at 8:30. These performances were arranged by the theatrical group, the Barter Theatre, in the state theatre of Virginia and are enacted by the state. It is the only tour of this kind in the south.

Mr. Arthur Karotz, who wrote the musical scores for the production of Hamlet, was in charge of the director and director of the Barter Theatre. He presented the first show at the Virginia State Theatre, and is assisted by the state. It is the only tour of this kind in the south.

Mr. Karotz wrote the music of the scores for Hamlet, and the Barter Theatre will present them on the GSCW campus, which will be played at 8:30 at an early date.

Mr. Karotz was asked to do the musical scores for Hamlet in the summer of 1942. He composed the music while teaching at the University of Wisconsin for one summer. He has also composed the music for several of Martha Graham's ballets.

This performance of Hamlet is under the direction of Robert Purcell.

Student Shoe Service

FREE DELIVERY—DIAL 26.6
GSCW'S FAVORITE SHOE REPAIR
Shop Store 5233