Students Protest Resolution Which Would "Discontinue" School

Rep., Kidd Withdraws Proposal Following Public Demonstration

A parade demonstration, flags, banners, and walking platform was staged yesterday by GWU women in protest of a resolution proposed by Student's Representative Colvin Kidd, which called for the "discontinuation" of GWSCW and the transfer of George Crittenden, professor of Speech to the GWSCW campus. Early next week the proposed resolution reached the campus last Friday morning through the column and student body meeting in Rutland Auditorium.

Concern to many new graduate colleges, Government School Head Howard A. Budd requested that the measure be withdrawn from the street corner to the outside world Mr. Kidd. There for nearly two years students questioned the administration, which the student body meeting in Rutland Auditorium.

ARTIST PAINTS

Appreciation Hour

Gran Stanley Herring, famous and versatile artist presently residing in Millcoggle, will demonstrate in oils at Appreciation hour on Wednesday, Feb. 14. Mr. Herring will paint a GSCW student about three quarters life size and 30 by 40 inches. Mr. Herring has done demonstrations all over the country in oils, water colors and pastels. He has painted prominent people throughout the country. His subjects are all types and individuals. In some of his Millcoggle classes he has had such varied models as Mrs. Hunter Hall the former Hayden Dean, GSCW student, and Bill Adams Mayor, president emeritus of mathematics at GSCW.

Mr. Herring uses a cross section of different mediums that are as versatile as his work. He uses oil, water colors, and pastels in figures, still life, portraits and landscape. He takes great pride in his frames that go on his pictures. The frame is ordered to suit the picture and picture is often framed before the painting is finished in color that the two may be in the same mood. Many of his frames come from the surrounding area of Burnsville, N. C., where he conducts summer classes.
