A Bird's Eye View of Georgia

The following is a letter from the President of the University.

It is about time to school when students are beginning to ponder the value of higher learning. They wonder if it will all be worth the effort they put into it, or, the effort they put into it.

Many of the things we would be proud of in trying to

"I wish I could go back to school..."

But the future is not as bright for the student who is going to school..."

It was Pekin's representation of the world in the classroom, who called it "the right thing to do..."

"We have a lot of things we need to work on..."

"Learning beyond the classroom..."

"The experience was rewarding..."
BUSINESS NEWS

The Christmas meeting of the Atlanta Business Administrative Club was one of special interest as Miss Vera Poll, who lives at the Home Economics Home Management House, gave a demonstration on wrapping of Christmas packages. Some of the gifts were wrapped very attractively in newspapers, others in colored construction paper, with tricky decorations on top of the packages. After the demonstration, everyone was served apple cider, and popcorn.

The first meeting after the holidays was a winter roast at Maryjo's. The group met "under the light" and talked down to the floor. Betty Bobbitt was in charge of the entertainment. This group then sat around the open fireplace and played games and sung songs.

Sale Of Calendars
Will Start Soon

GCSCW calendars will go on sale in the lobby of the EU again soon, announced Wfjstelle Ogleh. These calendars still have two quarters (Winter and Spring) to go and due to a deficit budget, their price cannot be cut from 15 cents.

It seems that OCA is in the red for about $60.00 unless more of the calendars are sold this quarter. If you miss the EU sale and want to buy a calendar, contact Wfjstelle or any member of Student Council and they can get one for you.

Student Teachers Are In-Off-Campus Center

Two home economics student teachers, under the supervision of GCSCW's division of Home Economics, directed by Misses Gladys Gilbert and Mrs. Jones, associate professor of home economics, are now practicing teaching in five Georgia high schools.

The students include Berenice Carter, Nicholls, and Martha
