Messiah Presented Sunday, December 2

In Russell Auditorium

by MAX NOAH

One hundred eighty-six years ago one of the greatest-creations of all time arrived in the city of Dublin with the manuscript of a sacred oratorio in his pocket and the name of an Englishman that has since acknowledged him as his heart. Assisted by two women, abridgments and a small crowd, George Frederick Handel sat at a little organ in St. Mary's Music Hall in Dublin to conduct for the first time his famous masterpiece: "The Messiah.

For two centuries this great oratorio has thrilled and uplifted millions of people. It has become inextricably associated with the Christmas season. It has expressed in the spirit of perfection from a material world, the essence of brotherly love and Christian charity. In the words of Mr. Fawcett, "Considering the incalculable wealth and the short time involved in such a work it will remain perhaps forever the greatest feat in the history of music composition." "The Messiah" has become a tradition of joy, during the Christmas season. The College Arts Club Choral Society and many of the community, represented against the great oratorio for the second annual performance of Messiah. A chord of 146 voices under the direction of Mr. Fawcett will appear in Russell Auditorium on December 2. The program will be an audience participation at the Messiah. She read a patchwork oratorio which the choir expects to be the best in the history of the Choral Union since 1910. The oratorio includes such famous choruses as "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing," "Now the Saviour's Birth is Near," and "The Joy of the Lord is His Strength."

Modern Poet Confuses Crowd, Skips Three, Then Quits

On December 2, in Russell Auditorium, Mr. W. H. Auden, outstanding poet, spoke on "New Poetry and Prophecy." His speech was preceded by a stimulating lecture entitled "The Hero in Modern Poetry." After his lecture many people left the hall. Mr. Auden and the audience were particularly impressed with the reference to the evening's poetry which the author was unable to deliver. The compliment Auden had paid to modern literature had left the poet's head and background to understand his mistake.

Seniors, Underclassmen Hold Dances Celebrating Christmas in Advance.

The Valuables Room held second annual Christmas dinner and dance for the students. A large number of students attended the event, which was more formal than the usual school dances.

The theme of the night was "White Christmas," and students dressed in their finest attire to attend the event. The dance was held in the school's auditorium, where a festive atmosphere was created with music and decorations.

Several students volunteered to help with the decorations and arrangements, ensuring that the event was a success. The dance was a great way for students to get into the holiday spirit and enjoy each other's company.

Fact And Fable

A group of students organized a fact and fable night to entertain the guests. The evening included a variety of stories, riddles, and jokes, which kept the audience engaged and entertained.

Some people remain ignorant, but others strive to know more. If everyone knew everything, how would we make progress? There are many ways to learn, but it's important to always be curious and keep an open mind.

Y's Owl

The Y will be ready to ring in the new year at 11:45 and 11:55. Students will enjoy live music, dancing, and the company of friends. This is a great opportunity to celebrate the end of the school year and look forward to the new one.

The decorations will include colorful lights, streamers, and balloons. The music will be provided by the school's band and DJ. Students are encouraged to dress up in their New Year's Eve best, and to bring a midnight treat to share with others.

The event is open to all students, and tickets can be purchased at the school's main office.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

There was once a girl with class.

She had her composure.

And she landed here at good Q.B.C.

She got letters by the bushel. From a hundred different colleges and universities.

And she was spoken in at the end of G.M. C.

So some girls who felt the lack

Of the South, the down's lunch.

Sought to solve the secret of her success.

They found her one and only rule.

What was her easy way to fame?

She was never in social need of dress.

On her first day here to town,

She had taken her own way.

The only thing she never found—

And she found that DEMPSTER's always does her best.

So if your clothes lack dress and gleam,

Join the 1500 who have come.

And you'll find that DEMPSTER's always does her best.
MODERN POST

"I always smoked Chesterfield in college just like my friends," says New York secretary, Elizabeth Lydon, "and here in New York it seems like almost everyone smokes them."

AND NOW—CHESTERFIELD FIRST TO GIVE YOU SCIENTIFIC FACTS IN SUPPORT OF SMOKING

A responsible consulting organization reports a study by a competent medical specialist and staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfields. For six-months a group of men and women smoked only Chesterfield—10 to 60 a day—their normal amount. 45 percent of the group have smoked Chesterfields from one to thirty years for an average of ten years each.

At the beginning and end of the six-months, each smoker was given a thorough examination including x-ray pictures of the lungs, nose, ears and throat. After these examinations, the medical specialist stated . . .

"It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
