Ten Sens for Elected to Who's Who

Dr. Sara Nelson has released her annual list of 'Who's Who' for the year. She has elected 32 seniors, two men and 30 women. The list includes students who have made a notable contribution to the University during their years of study, and the list is compiled by the department heads.

Dr. Nelson has been the president of the University for 10 years, and she is a member of the Council of Regents. During her tenure, she has initiated many changes to improve the academic and extracurricular programs of the University.

The list includes students from all majors, and it includes both undergraduates and graduates. The students are selected based on their academic performance, their involvement in extracurricular activities, and their leadership roles.

Dr. Nelson has stated that the list is a way to recognize the hard work and dedication of the students, and it is a way to encourage them to continue on their academic and professional journeys.

Wheeoo—what a big week this last one was! After falling close to Atlanta and last week-end before last, my old winds got standstill.

Ranks for those delegates unable to return them. From the reporters for acts that she has received, her figures reveal that the students were happy. The delegates — for all their eloquence — have a rather normal side, that is, about 30 inches in circumference. Miss Murrin has had to take a considerable turn in the gown that is being saved for the shortest delegate, who is five feet tall; and the gown had to be cut off completely for the tallest delegate, who claims 6 feet.

Music for all the events is in the hands of Dr. Max North and the music department.

Everybody on the faculty is a member at one committee except Dr. Stanford — he just came on appraisal and analysis, feeling, so he says, "like a groom at his wedding."

A few members of the faculty like Dr. Murrin are on two committees; one person is on all committees — Dr. McMillen.

or workout trying to keep up with Rev. Lanier.

I "flapped to Atlanta" with June and a flock of Christian Young Woman to attend the state YWCA conference at Spelman College. The week — and especially was David Rogers, Student Secretary of the G.I.O. His height, sympathetic nature, and deep convictions were clearly revealed through his three talks — "Analysis of the Student Today," "Resources Available to the Christian Student for Developing Wholeness in Life," and "The Responsibility of Christian Students Today."

During one of the business section our own Sheila Hewett and Jim Rogers were elected state co-chairman and Adult Advisor. Three spots and a whoop for them!

Driving by Betty Reading's home in Decatur was one of the most pleasant parts of our trip. The highlight of the night there was the tremendous ice cream confection we sit at a bedroom snack.

By Tuesday, Oct. 20, I had almost recovered. But that morning in chapel I really woke up! Sunday, Forrest Lanier, Religious Text speaker got me to thinking. I was eager to hear more of his views so I followed him upstairs to Miss Trawick's physical science classes. There conflicts between science and religion were discussed.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Lanier went to a coffee-chat in the Mem- ber Rec Hall. There we had a rather heated debate mostly con- cerning Predestination.

Next morning in chapel after a second classroom discussion, based on "Religion vs. Science," Mr. Lanier presented another plate of reli- gious life. That afternoon I had to be back in the Rec Hall for more discussion.

In the final service at Wesley Wednesday evening Mr. Lanier challenged all who heard him to "Choose Life."

Do you know what the next big event in this fall's program for the Scholarship Hall? The Scholarship Hall is in full swing! With five mountain music, high entertainment, and party refreshments we'll all be high spirits and dancing our way to the best times we've had yet. I must go study my dance steps. After all I must remain —
