HONORS DAY FEATURES VARYING PROGRAM ON THE DIFFERENT PHASES OF COLLEGE LIFE

All phases of college life will be featured in the program planned for Honors Day, April 7. The program of 11:00 in Russell Auditorium will consist of the presentation of honors to students of Phi Sigma and Phoenix, the presentation of the Honor Alumni, Helen Peake Thompson, and presentation of the Distinguished Service Award to Robert W. Woodford, President of the Board of Directors. Special music will be rendered by the A Cappella Choir.

The afternoon program begins at 1:30 with a lunch on the main campus and is followed by awards and remembrance of honorary club members by members of the Phoenix Education Club and the awardees of the Baccalaureate Service by Anna Sara Bechtel, Alumni Secretary. At 3:00, with the AAWU and the Sigma Chi honorary club members serving as hostesses, when the official program ends at 4:00, those who wish to do so, may leave with their friends for the Senior Promenade.

Honor Day may be your last chance to be with friends and members of the Phi Sigma and Phoenix clubs, so be sure to attend.

Alumna Banker
To Receive GSCW Alumnae Award

Crest Key Fuller
Mrs. Helen Peake Thompson of Atlanta, who heads the board of trustees of the Georgia State College for Women, was chosen to receive the 1965 GSCW Alumnae Award at GSCW’s April 7 Honors Day program. Mrs. Thompson was born and attended school in Smyrna, Georgia. From an early age, she felt the influence of Georgia women in the college and entered there in 1923, after majoring in Georgia and majoring in social work, she became Mrs. John Sidney Thompson.

She first entered banking in Jasper, Georgia, where she served as bank president and the club and tumbling club.

The Distinguished Service Award was presented to Robert W. Woodford, former chairman of the Coca-Cola Company’s board of directors.

The 1965 Distinguished Service Award of the Georgia State College for Women will be presented by Dr. Henry King Stanford, president, to Robert W. Woodford, finance committee chairman of the Coca-Cola Company board of directors.

The finance committee selects as recipients for the award, man who has made outstanding contributions to the state of Georgia.

Starting out with determination and willingness to work, this former faculty apothecary and student was a prominent role in the pharmacy of the world known Coca-Cola Company. His philosophy is built up on three cardinal principles: integrity, quality, and responsibility in the use of money.

Much of his valuable energy has been devoted to promoting scientific research, with particular emphasis in diseases prevalent among south — hookworm, pellagra, and malaria.

The development of Kyle University as an outstanding medical college is credited to the efforts of Mr. Woodford and members of his family who have raised the standards of medicine, the Robert Winship Foundation for Dental Research, the Gray’s New Clinic.

THE EDITOR SPEAKS

THE OPEN DOOR

By Lila Rasek

The Open Door is a monthly newsletter aimed at anyone who wishes to help this issue.

The most interesting questions in the world are those that can be answered by a group of people, not by an individual. Thus, it is remarkable that a group of people who are interested in the same topic can answer questions together. The best way to answer questions is by comparing the results of experiments. Each group of people who is interested in the same topic should answer questions together. This is the best way to answer questions.

The New Quarter

When a new quarter starts and the students return to campus, there is much talk of new clothes, dogs and boys friends. Thinking of such topics, it is easy to forget the importance of a good education. However, when we go to college, we should consider the importance of a good education.

Inside the Jessie Sports World

There was a good attendance at the new year's first game at the new stadium, which was opened on Thursday. The attendance was higher than expected, and the excitement was palpable. The new stadium has been a long time coming, and its opening was a major event in the city.

Miss Scott, English Professor

As a member of the Honors Day Pageant Committee, Miss Scott was responsible for the planning and execution of the ceremony. She has been involved in the pageant for many years, and has seen it grow from a small event to one of the highlights of the academic year.

Fashion's Fads

By ANGEL AME

In style of the new season we have found that the "Japanese" trend is very popular among young people. The trend is characterized by loose-fitting, lightweight garments in pastel colors. The styles are simple and minimal, focusing on comfort and style. The trend is also popular among older generations, who are looking for something new and different to wear.

McDonald's Coffee Shop

By PAT BLACK

McDonald's is expanding its menu to include coffee and tea options. The new menu items are part of the company's effort to attract more adult customers.

Bushing Around

A new way to bush the lawn is to use a bushing machine. The machine is designed to cut the grass into small pieces that can be easily picked up and disposed of. This method is more environmentally friendly than using a lawnmower, which can create air pollution.

Mr. Arnot Explains A Passage to the Wind Assembly of the Band

GSCW-GMC Final Band Concert
Planned For May 11 in Auditorium

The idea for the band's third and final home concert has been tentatively set for May 11. The band, made up of GSCW and GMC students, will perform every Monday and Wednesday evenings from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. for the direction of Mr. George Arnot.

Mr. Arnot, a very capable assistant professor of Florida State University, has one of the finest band departments in the South, and his band will be performing during the Full Quarter of this school year. This is the last of his type of concert that has had and by the improvements seen in the first and second concerts, the band seems to be quite successful.

Besides playing forms common to each quarter, the band will go on tour this quarter to several colleges and schools to show the work being done in the way of band programs.

The instrumental field, besides the band, Mr. Arnot give private and class instrumental lessons, his newest project being class string lessons for beginning students this spring quarter.
The band, having approximately fifty members, is a part of the GSCW and GMC in its operation of many combinations, ranging from...
