Dr. Barbara A. Chandler

Assumes Duties Sept. 1

Dean Of Students

Is Former Jessie

Dr. Barbara Ann Chandler assumed the position on Sept. 1, 1956, after leaving the position of supervisor of guidance and evaluation on the Board of Public Instruction of Dallas County.

She received her M.A. degree in history from the University of Chicago and her Doctor of Education degree in guidance from New York University. She taught in the Atlanta school system from 1940 until 1950, except for a year period during World War II. In 1948 she served the MAFES as a personnel officer and did rehabilitation counseling.

When her appointment was announced, Miss Chandler was associated with the Dallas school system. Former President of GSCW had this to say about her: "The students of Georgia State College for Women will be extremely fortunate to have a woman of Dr. Chandler's ability and qualifications to counsel the student welfare program. She brings to the point a wealth of experience in counseling young people."

"I am sure our present Dean of Students is not in favor of Dr. Chandler, she is no stranger since Mill and I have been in GSCW and she received her degree in English and Education."

IRG Girls from GSC

Made June Visit To UN

The International Relations Club held its first meeting Friday, October 18, in the Helen Ovarden Apartments, at 7:30 p.m.

During the meeting a report will be given by Jill Gates and Elizabeth Tyroler, officers of the club, concerning their trip to the annual United Nations conference last spring during the months of April, May, and June in New York city the girls stayed at Finch Hotel."
Welcome Freshmen

Dear students,

2001 was a banner year for our College as it celebrated its 100th anniversary.

We want to introduce you to our campus as we do so, our philosophy, and how we can help you achieve your goals.

To you, the freshman, and the new students at least, I share with the rest of the student body, with you the best of everything for a happy and successful year.

Fashion's Fads

Look like a lady this fall if you want to be in fashion. As the colleges are preparing for the start of this season and Vice will take full advantage of the season.

The popular high-fashion, solid color, and electric blue styles will be seen in both the New York and Paris runways. The magazines are predicting a return to more classic styles and colors.

If you are looking for something new, consider a bold piece such as a coat or dress. These garments are sure to turn heads.

Overall, the colors are soft and very ladylike. The lace trim, embroidery, and pastels are a few of the elements that will make these looks unique. Tangerine, apple green, peach, green, and taffeta solids are some of the subtle styling colors.

Shoes are graceful and slim, featuring a pointed toe and a slight heel. These shoes are perfect with any outfit, from casual to dressy.

Lifeline's Street Level has selected the following fall trends. Shoes designed in soft and understated styles, such as flats, oxfords, and lace-ups.

Rays and other wearables are also available in a variety of colors and styles.

College Theatre Group
To Present Full Play

College Theatre is to present another one-act play beginning Oct. 20.

Entitled "The Owl," the play is a comedy with a British setting by T. C. R. D. Terry. It is a new but popular production, with a British flavor.

The play is to be presented at 8:15 pm in the College Theatre. Admission is free to all students.

"The Owl" is a comedy about a young man and woman who fall in love. The plot revolves around their attempts to escape the attentions of a nosy neighbor, who tries to disrupt their romance.

The cast includes students from the College Theatre group, under the direction of their advisor, Professor John Smith.

You Can Win a Cash Award—and Scholarship Money for Your College in

Reader's Digest

$41,000 CONTEST

Open to All College Students (Faculty, too)

Nothing to buy...nothing to write
...and you may find you know more about people than you think!

How well do you know human nature? Can you tell what subjects interest people most? Here is a chance to test your judgment—show how good an editor you are—and you may win $5,000 for yourself, plus $5,000 in scholarship funds for your college.

It's fun to try. Maybe you can top other students in colleges across the country . . . and you can match wits with the editors of Reader's Digest.

Why do far more college graduates read Reader's Digest than any other magazine? What is it that makes the Digest the most widely read magazine in the world—with 11 million copies bought each month in the United States, plus 9 million abroad? Why is it read each month by at least 60 million people, in 12 languages—Arabic, Danish, English, Finnish, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Norwegian, Portuguese, Spanish and Swedish?

Can you spot in a typical issue of Reader's Digest the universal human values that link scholars, statesmen, scientists, writers, businessmen, housewives? Can you pick out the articles that will be most popular with the average Digest reader?

You may find . . . you know more about people than you think!

How's all this done? Study the descriptions at the right of the articles that appear in October Reader's Digest. Or better, read the complete articles. Then believe the fact that you think they'll editors will like best.

On the envelope blank, write the number of each article you think. List them in what you think will be the order of popularity, first item first in serial order. Your selections will be judged by competent with a national survey which rates in order of popularity the 6 articles that receive the most credit. Fill in and mail the coupon. All entries must be postmarked not later than midnight, October 25, 1955.

3. This contest is open only to college students and faculty members in the U.S., excluding employees of The Reader's Digest, its advertising agencies, and their families. It is subject to all federal, state and local laws and ordinances.

4. Only one entry per person.

5. In case of ties, criteria presented will be used. Entries will be judged by O. B. Hadley, Inc., whose decision will be final. All entries become property of The Reader's Digest; none returned.

6. All winners notified by mail. List of cash-prize winners mailed if you request it. Address your request to: Readers Digest, Box 127, Tarrytown, N.Y.

Which six articles will readers of the October Digest like best?

1. "How It's Done" has traced man's ages, story of the archeologist—...an anthropologist's description of his work, with a line-by-line account of the steps he follows to unearth bones.

2. The pio- nes of the fish. How this "fossilized fish" was uncovered.

3. The pa- nels of the pyramids: P. and other monumental blocks of the Great Pyramid are unsolved mysteries. How much more remains to be answered.

5. The art of the ancient Egyptians. Discoveries of the carvings. Three centuries in the desert.

6. How to solve the mystery of the pyramids. A tale of adventure.
