Charter Day, Nov. 8, Marks GSC's Celebration Of Its 67th Year

By MAE ROBERSON

Now is the time to get better acquainted with Georgia State College for Women which is celebrating its sixtieth anniversary on the south of November. GSC has long been on the Georgia Normal and Industrial College roll by the efforts of Dr. W. Y. Atkinson, a member of the Georgia Legislature in 1889. The idea that the establishment of the college from came from Mrs. Atkinson who was familiar with a similar college in Mississippi that her cousin attended.

Mr. Atkinson drew up the bill that was to establish the college, and after much debate and work, was successful in having it passed. One interesting debate that presented the passing of the bill occurred when a proposal was made to meet the bill to locate the college in Savannah instead of Statesville. This movement, of course, was not successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, as well as a host of others, were fulfilled when, on November 8, 1889, Governor Gordon signed the bill establishing the Georgia Normal and Industrial College to be located in Statesville at the Expostion Mansion and Penitentary Square.

The list of Directors, which was appointed by the governor, included Judge J. H. Conwell, of Columbus, as the first president. Plans were completed, and the college officially opened September 31, 1891.

Three departments of study were available – normal, art, and agriculture. A few of the courses offered included history, educational psychology, typewriting, bookkeeping, cooking, and domestic economy. Latin, mathematics, etc. The first faculty comprised of five members, and the student body was small. The enrollment in the first five years increased so that the girls had to be housed in homes in town. An annex was built on the campus in 1922, and in 1929 a new dormitory, Atkinson Hall, was built.

Through the years more buildings were added; the latest being Hardy Hall which was built in 1946, and the Harvery School was under constant construction. The building that stood where Parks Hall is now located opened in December 1924, destroying the equipment of the music and business departments, invaluable papers and student records.

The name of the college was officially changed by the Legislature in 1925 to Georgia State College for Women. Since its first president, Dr. Chapell, GSC has under his Dr. Parks, Benson, Dr. Wells, Dr. Sturdivant, and, of course, our present president, Dr. Richard Cosh, the school has grown and its enrollment increased. A series of buildings whose birthday will be celebrated November 8 will be opened in Edwards Hall this fall, but this year the students will have the privilege of celebrating the 67th anniversary of the college's existence. This anniversary is made possible by a $5,500,000 endowment established in 1946 by the Triangle Trust which has become the benefactor of the school and is known as Georgia State College.

Chapel Etiquette

By Jean Crook

Let us all be mindful of the regulations and policies regarding chapel attendance. Respectful behavior is expected of all students wishing to attend chapel.

A few points to remember:
1. Be punctual: chapel begins at 8:00 a.m. and will end promptly at 8:30 a.m.
2. Turn off all electronic devices: smartphones, tablets, and laptops should be silenced or turned off completely.
3. Be seated quietly: find a seat and take your belongings with you.
4. Dress appropriately: avoid wearing casual or revealing attire.
5. Avoid distractions: do not engage in conversations or activities that may disrupt the chapel service.

Let us make our chapel a place of worship and reflection for all to enjoy.

JESSIES

By Carolyn Baugeus

Accepting Responsibility

Well, Jessies, we're well into our first quarter at Wheaton and we should know by now what is expected of us. Now is the time to take stock of all the commitments we've undertaken and assess how we are managing our time.

To be responsible means to take care of our own business. In this regard, we are responsible for our own learning, our own growth, and our own success.

Taking responsibility for our actions can be challenging, but it is essential for personal development and professional success. The key is to be proactive in our approach to learning and to seek feedback from others to help us improve.

Remember, being responsible also means to take care of each other. As a community, we rely on each other to support and encourage one another. Let's make the most of the opportunities provided to us and strive to be the best we can be.

Who is Your Choice?

Here we are, at the beginning of the new school year, and it's time to make our choices. Who do we want to be? Who do we want to be associated with?

Choosing wisely is important. Our choices have consequences. They shape who we are and how others see us.

Consider the following:
- Who inspires you?
- Who do you admire?
- Who are your role models?

Take time to reflect on these questions and consider how you want to present yourself to others. Your choices can make a difference in the lives of those around you.

Remember, your choices can affect your future. It's important to choose wisely and to take responsibility for the outcomes of our choices.

The Senior Code

The Senior Code is the set of standards that guide the behavior of seniors at our institution. It is a code of conduct that helps us maintain a safe and respectful learning environment.

The Senior Code includes the following principles:
- Honor:
- Integrity:
- Responsibility:
- Respect:
- Fairness:

These principles guide our behavior and help us make decisions that are in the best interest of our community.

The Senior Code is an important part of our college experience. It is a reminder that our actions have consequences and that we are accountable for our choices.

Ceremony Of Initiation Conducted By Phi Sigma

By Max Roberson

Phi Sigma is in its second year of existence on the Wheaton campus. This organization is the only honorary society for reputable men in the Wheaton College community. Members are initiated by the national organization during a formal ceremony.

The ceremony is a significant event for the new members, as it marks their official recognition as part of the Phi Sigma community. It is a time to celebrate their achievements and recognize their dedication to the organization.

Fellowships To Offer Graduate Opportunities

By Mary Trustees

The largest campaign in history to aid outstanding young men and women is now under way at Wheaton College. This campaign is the result of a generous gift from an anonymous donor who wishes to support the education of outstanding students.

The fellowships are available to students who demonstrate exceptional academic achievement and demonstrate financial need. Each fellowship provides a significant amount of financial assistance, allowing students to focus on their studies without the burden of financial concerns.

If you are interested in applying for a fellowship, please contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information. The deadline for applications is December 15th, and we encourage all qualified students to apply.

Honor system marks Eighteenth Anniversary

By Mary Trustees

The honor system marks its 18th anniversary this year. The system was established to promote academic integrity and encourage students to take responsibility for their own learning.

The system is based on the belief that students are capable of making their own decisions and that they should be held accountable for their actions.

We are proud to continue this tradition of academic excellence and to support the values of honesty, integrity, and responsibility that the honor system embodies.

We encourage all Wheaton students to uphold the honor system principles and to make the most of their college experience.

"But when is Arthur coming again... What's this about "berating"?"

If you have been trying to call Ellis on the phone, that calls without success, the trouble could be that Fisk has finally located Constie. Scouting, how was the Tech-Delaine game Saturday? Max Robertson's boy friend from the "Sunshine State" is coming up to see her this weekend. Jess Cook has a special interest in Mercer School days. Could the reasons be a pre-named student named Johnson? Mary Frances Britnerley, what is this we hear about Vernon Earl turning his pitch for you. Mary Ann Hodges attended FBU homecoming with Bill. Frances Dromgoole-how are you this between you and Ellis??

Eliza Laney, the next time your boy friend comes from ASAC to wear your glass, let him know you recognize him. Ike Berr, tell us more about the "way" of Mercer's CSA. What sophomores called "Mat tle Mae" also Jackie Skinner and Saturday morning riding horses and football afternoon in the infirmary. If you need any lessons in home jumping, see "Kitty Mae." Anne Blakesly — going steady now.

Nancy Ziegler, who was the year ago phone call from Columbia? Nancy Jane Bissell had a visit from ASAC, called Towney, this past weekend. Mary Tomlin, who is the last time home from GOC? Say Cooke, Martha Anne and Mary —what's this "Pay some?"
