Holidays Mark Baptist World Student Meeting
by Mary Ann Adams

"The Christian Student in the World Crisis" was the theme of the Baptist World Student Congress which met at New York City on December 27-30. It was a rare privilege to have become one of the 2000 delegates, from 20 states, representing more than 100 schools and colleges and almost every assembly and denomination of Baptists.

The opening session of the Congress was held in Madison's War Memorial building on Thursday morning, December 27th, with the presiding officers of the Congress, Dr. Charles G. Kilpatrick, president, Dr. C. W. Flanagan, vice-president, and Dr. Oakes W. Smith, secretary, in charge. The subject of the opening session was "The Christian Student and the World Crisis". The theme of Dr. Kilpatrick's message was communism versus Christianity as a gospel of redemption. He pointed out that among the weaknesses of communism is that it only changes society, whereas Christianity changes the man. "We are in a revolutionary age," he said.

The Baptist Student Alliance reported on the world, economic, political, religious, and educational problems on the campus, the religious revival, and the holding of the annual Youth Assembly for Christian Education. Aron Gussman spoke on the problem of Christian education and presented a complete picture of particular areas in the world where the work is being held. The symposium, with Dr. Kilpatrick, Dr. C. W. Flanagan, and the area chairmen in the several specific areas where Baptist's youth are making nation-wide decisions were discussed.

Among the other outstanding speakers who brought challenging messages to the delegates were: Dr. Theodore Adamson, president of the National Student Christian Federation; Dr. Wilber H. Judson, secretary of the International Student Christian Federation; Dr. George B. Taylor, president of the National Evangelical Students' Christian Alliance; and George H. Bandy, president of the World Alliance of Amos Methodists.

The closing session on Sunday morning, December 30th, was given at the Grand Central Jayhawks, with a message by Dr. Beiswanger,宣告 the conference adjourned. It was decided to hold a second meeting in the spring. The meeting was a success. The average attendance was about 2000.
