Guests To Arrive
High School Seniors View Campus
On February 15-16 an expected 400 seniors from various high schools throughout the state of Georgia will be guests of Georgia. These students have been invited to expand the cultural and intellectual opportunities offered at this college. A very interesting and well-rounded program has been outlined to introduce the college's cultural and extracurricular activities. Miss Grace Chappell and Miss Lulu Long, new chairman of this weekend.

Our visitors will attend classes on Friday. At the convocation on Friday evening, greetings will be extended by Deans Lee, Jim Baro, Mildred Brown, and Mrs. Ellis West. The groups will perform at this opening meeting.

Later in the afternoon, demonstrations will be presented by the drill team—Tumbling, Paquizia and Modern Dance. V. Y. will open the program. The demonstration will follow the drill presentations, and then Ross College will perform. The drill team will also perform at the graduation ceremony on Friday, May 20.

Upon the completion of the demonstrations, the guests will be divided into the various colleges. The purpose of these class visits is to enable the students to learn more about the college. Each college will give presentations on Friday, which will be spoken by either Dr. E. McCray, associate president, or Miss Virginia Rice, dean of the college. There will be a panel discussion on the subject of "SO. What is the future of women in higher education?" followed by a discussion of the various programs offered at the college.

The weekend activities are designed to help the students learn more about the college. A variety of programs is planned for each day. The program will be presented on Friday, May 20, at the Georgia State College for Women, Atlanta, Georgia.
The Minor Officers

Our next big election season is on our campus will be on Feb. 10, and will be the first event of the year for members of the Student Government. How many of us have ever stopped to think what the duties and responsibilities of the minor officers of the three main organizations and I am sure the leaders too many of us have ever noticed what the minor officers do and what they do when they are in charge. It is as important for us to show our support for the minor officers as it is to show our support for the leaders of the Student Government. The minor officers are the backbone of the Student Government, and it is up to us to support them and give them the recognition they deserve.

Campus Close-Ups

Who are the “little girls” in Boise that have a taffeta covered Tommy? Could it be Scott, Rontez, or at least 500 others that say boise are taking such good care of these handsome young men. Tommy that one night, while planning his funeral, jumped on the downtown Bus and came to the rescue. Hurrah!!!

Say, Scotty, what was the attraction? In short, this past weekend? Could it be a guy named Clark from Idaho?

Our congratulations to Kay Street, Billie Sue West, Marilyn Davis, Marilyn Middleton, Marilyn Young, and Mary Jo Christon. Pati May, will you please at least be awake when you go to breakfast in the morning so that you won’t burst Harkness into your coffee.

Beute Chambler, that is this Bill at Antelope that you sent a box of “hamsenly” candy to his birthday? Ellen Hill has a frequent victor from the month. Less than a month. Ama Bes, tell us about the feater from the University of Georgia.

How early have you had a heart attack? You have had heart attacks for all eyes are on you now.

A Senior named Nancy is a believer in blind dates, but never again in late night, boys.

Ray, Mrs. Zundus, is “green” the color this year?

What is the problem of those who makes that you go there yr. weekend, Martha McGee, again? Lenитесь, has the new room put your waitress in the business?

What makes you so happy these days, Virginia House? How many more days until your doctor call?

Janelle Cutinoto, how is it this snow day?

Mrs. Sheperd, do you have a snow day?

Bus Bull just leaves those basketball games and goes to the bowling. What will we know about the next season?

Things still progressing. “Don’t forget us” is the new attention in South Georgia.

Montgomery? Some people that have no late Friday night to go home. What about this College Weekend?

"This is a special bulletin.
Attention all GSC W. cars in Muskogee. This is a special bulletin.
On the altar of your hotel, you have sold all over the entire state lands of teenage females. You are selling out to a more expensive than the GSCW, because that is what the GSCW has to return to.

Lamar Dodd Will Be On Campus February 4

Mae Robert

Lamar Dodd, head of the art department at the University of Georgia, will appear on the GSCW campus Monday evening, February 4, at 7:30 in Russell Auditorium.

The program will include the showing of slides from Dodd’s two Vanguard courses. The first of these, a slide show designed to introduce the Georgia General Council Board of the Radiology Foundation.

He, his wife, and his daughter made the trip with the purpose of gathering information and ideas on the best procedures in all phases of art teaching.

Last spring the Georgia Council went to Europe for the Board of Education to lecture on American Art. Taking with him some of his own paintings and lithographs, he worked in this country.

Dodd, a native Georgians, was born in Fairburn. He has served as head of the art department at the University of Georgia since 1928, and in June 1940, he was appointed Professor of Fine Arts. By going to the University, he taught a fine in Alabama and was assistant in the M. L. and C. department, and in Birmingham, Alabama.

The University president has responsibility for the GSCW’s spring program of courses and programs, including the submission of these programs to a committee of the Board of Regents. He is in charge of the Board of Regents. He will be in charge of the Board of Regents.

The program is again designed to introduce the Georgia General Council Board of the Radiology Foundation.

To this end, the Board of Regents is attempting to give the Georgia General Council Board of the Radiology Foundation.

Miss Mavis Benton, professor of art, stated “Mr. Dodd’s showing at his studio will be one of the highlights of the year for students, faculty, and community.”
