Student Body Elects Town Girl
And Class Officers For Next Year

In the election held Tuesday afternoon, September 18, a group of Town Girls were elected. These girls are Misses Sheal, Misses Mohler, Misses Mottier, Misses Reynolds, Misses White, and Misses Sheets. Each group is elected by the student body to represent them. The job of class officer is not one only for her, but also one which bears much importance.

In the election held for senior officers, the president had not been elected at the time of this publication. There is a run-off between Billie Ann Burch, a Fort Valley, and Carol Hughes ofIdlewild. The new President and the Director of the Class is Deola Bruner, an Elementary education major from Columbus.

The student body also elected Shirley Williams, a Freshman, from Twin City High School, as the new Treasurer for the Junior Class. The Treasurer for the Senior Class is Miss Mabel Edmondson from Valdosta.

The new Officers of the Class of 1968 are: President—Ann Williams, an Elementary Education major from Fort Valley; Vice-President—Allie Ann Bursch, from Dunwoody; Secretary—Cathy Wigan, an Elementary Education major from Thomasville, Florida; Treasurer—Jacksie Groove from Eastman; Representative to C.G.A.—Mary Ann Cerridale, an Elementary Education major from McDonough; Representative to Honor Council—Jane Chapman, an Elementary Education major from Crawfordville; and Representative to Junior Class—John Hope, a Math major from Columbus.

For the Class of 1968, the election process began with the nomination of the candidates, followed by the election in which these candidates were voted upon. The final results of the election will be announced at a later date.

Dr. R. E. Lee Thanks
"Stockholders In This Dynamic Enterprise"

During the past several months, I have come to have a growing appreciation and not only of the able and dedicated personnel who make up the service teams of this college, but an equal appreciation for the vital work being administered by the administration and auxiliary personnel. Mozelle is there a student body with a time spent of cooperative living. As such college develops its own distinct personality, so GCSW has come to be known for its combination of competence and charm, of culture and character, of enthusiasm and pulse.

I would salute the various stockholders who have invested in this dynamic enterprise. O.J. parents, without whose moral and financial backing, few would be here; O.J. residents of the State who recognize the vital importance of this education for women; and also government representatives of the people who seek to further appropriate appropriations to the University System of Georgia; and the Board of Regents and their chief executive officer, Chancellor, who determine policy and provide support for the large number of the University System family; O.J. friends who have assisted their tangible needs on campus occasions and without whom the College could not have raised its first foundation.

The stockholders I have named were the first to recognize that our College also belongs to the generations who have all been given its full measure of all blessings. The consistent records of enlightened service made by the students, its hundreds of graduates, have indicated this to the distinguished leaders of the world and, of my predecessors, who followed President Chappell, presided over the College for over 20 years, he laid the foundations as approximately developed by President Bowers. The brief regime of President Benson saw us consolidate our roles as a four-year college and become a member of the University System of Georgia. The strategic addition made to both the plant and the staff during the War administration made possible the significant advances under President Stoneman. Our backlog, like life itself, is a gift. The only way we can pay our debt to yesterday is to spend today for tomorrow.

Chancellor Caldwell and Regent Chairman Armour, I accept the charge with a deep sense of obligation and responsibility.

McAloon Little Theatre
Performs, April 27

George Bernard Shaw's famous "Cousin Fan in Hell" — a Broadway comedy staged 30 years ago and directed by Charles Lorton, Charles Rogers, Agnes Boulba, and the Civic Repertory — will be given as part of the spring presentation by the McAloon Little Theatre, this Sunday night, April 27. The play is in the McAloon Little Theatre, and the ticket price is $1.00. The show runs through Thursday, April 24. It is a subscription organization. Mrs. McAloon, the "Lady in Hell," will be added to the general cast.

Buddy Bair's Orchestra To Play For
"Moonlight and Roses" Dance Tonight

The dormitories are filled with an air of excitement. Many students are busy trying on evening dresses and experimenting with new hair styles, in anticipation of the Spring Dance.

This year's event is sponsored by the entire student body, and the student body is eagerly anticipating the gathering.

The lyrics to Buddy's orchestra and his orchestra are entirely written by "Moonlight and Roses" them at the dance.

The decorations committee has already made plans for carrying out this theme, and work is near completion. The gowns, gowns, and modern dance studio will all be effectively decorated to carry out the theme, "Moonlight and Roses." The gym will be used for dancing and the studio will be a garden color with traditional spring decorations.

Again all GCSW girls are urged to attend and make this dance a success. Be sure that you and make those final preparations for the Spring Dance to take place Saturday evening, April 19, in the gymnasium at 9 o'clock.

Bell Hall Garden
To Be The Scene
Of Campus Tea
by Sue Johnson

Preparations are now in progress for the Campus-Wide Tea, which will be on Sunday afternoon, April 21. This time the Tea will be from 4:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.

This Tea is an annual event at the Georgia State College for Women, and it is one in which all the dormitories participate. All of the faculty members, the student body, and the student social and parents are cordially invited to attend.

The event will be held in the Bell Hall Garden, which, it is hoped, will be in bloom, with beautiful spring and summer flowers. Addi- tion to the color of the flowers will be the pretty hats and the set, the "Madam Butterfly" theme, which will make the Tea a very colorful event. The event includes refreshments and beautiful music throughout the afternoon.

The preparations for the Campus-Wide Tea will take place under the direction of the Vice-President of College Government Association, Ann Blandy, who has appointed Sue Meeks as the General Chair- man. The committee chairmen working on the planning of the event are: Program Co- chairs, Christine Blandy; Hospitality Committee, Janet Taylor; Refreshments Com- mittee, Mrs. McAloon; Banquet Committee, Mrs. McAloon; and Publicity Committee, Mrs. McAloon.

Be sure to remember this event and bring your parents and guests along, too.
