High School Seniors Congregate On GSCW Campus For Guest Assembly

Skill Clubs Present

High school seniors have an opportunity to write to the GSCW skill clubs in this week's assembly when the Modern Dance, Dukas, Pengo, and Tumbling Clubs give their annual demonstrations.

Penguin

Today and tomorrow, 550 students will kick the dust in the little room for 550 visiting high school seniors, in observance of Guest Assembly this week. The theme of this year's Guest Assembly is "Dead or Alive?" and will be presented by students from GSCW and from other high schools in the area. The event is sponsored by the GSCW student council and is open to all high school students.

From The Editor

Dear Editor,

We cannot ignore the need for better reception in the party and, as always, we must adhere to the principles of justice and democracy.

Last spring, out of the hundreds of party members, two of the most prominent were elected to the Senate. They are the only ones who have expressed a real interest in the issues of the students. We are pleased to see that they are working hard to ensure that our voices are heard.

The Senate will be holding hearings on the proposed budget cuts. It is crucial that we show our support for the cuts, which will help to fund important programs.

The election of minority students is an important step towards achieving greater representation and equality. We must continue to work towards this goal.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my concern about the recent decision to eliminate the Psychology major from the curriculum. This is a major setback for students interested in pursuing a career in this field.

As a student in the program, I have seen the value that it brings to our education and I believe that it should be retained. I encourage the administration to reconsider this decision.

Sincerely,

Student, Psychology Major

On Learning How to Study

by Dr. Frances Hiles

In order to learn effectively, it is important to develop good study habits. This includes setting aside a specific time and place for studying, avoiding distractions, and taking notes. By following these tips, students can improve their learning and academic performance.

CGA, Rec, and Y Elect Minor Officers

Elementary Education Major

In Election and Re-election, Feb. 10, 12

The election of minority students for CGA, Rec, and Y positions was held on Tuesday, February 10 and 12. A record number of students ran for these positions, indicating a growing interest in the Minority Students of Influence (MSI).

The new Chairperson of the Junior High School is an elementary education major from Waterbury, CT. In her campaign, she emphasized the importance of working closely with teachers and administrators to ensure a positive learning environment for all students.

The new President of the Upper Classmen is a political science major from New Haven, CT. She is committed to increasing the diversity of the upper classmen and promoting a strong sense of community.

C. G. A. Corner

Often students are reminded to be more cautious, as they change for a time off-campus. But do they actually realize the meaning of caution? It is more than just laughing when one is pulled, or speaking to a person, or in general being polite. Rather, it is a matter of the behavior of the group with whom one associates, and the effects of the qualities to exist from one as an individual. This not only is taking tricks, but is taking tricks.

This quarter C.G.A. is stressing country; why not cooperate with this project and evaluate your marks and plan your course accordingly.

DEAD OR ALIVE

by Jeanne Willis

September 21, 1936, an unknown, four-engined U.S. Air-Force C-47 transport plane carrying 17 men was shot down in China by Japanese planes. Flaying in bad weather, the plane took directions and had been achievements, from Turkey. The U.S.
State Department has on record a confession of desertion between the Japanese pilots after the plane had been shot down. The pilot of the plane before he left in Japan, and the U.S. in the incident were there in the denial of our knowledge of the incident.

The United States at first withheld this evidence from the pub-d again, Under Secretary of State Robert Murphy controlled Senior Ambassador Marshall Berdelphia. The reason the United States is still holding back the incident is that the incident know what happened—how they died and who did it for whom in the incident. We can only guess and only Russo knew.
