Dot Kitchens, Sue Jackson Elected To Top Posts On COLONNADE

The self-styled editor of the COLONNADE is Dorothy Kitchens, president of Palm City, Georgia. Dot graduated from Campbell High School, Palm City, Georgia, where she was active in many student activities. She was president of the Georgia Association of Literary Auditors, a member of Beta Club, the Annual Staff, and the Junior Class, and president of Junior Beta Cross, a work better known to GSW include reporter and Cope Fellow of the COLONNADE, CDA Chairman of Scholarship; President of the women's literary society, Phi Rho, Vice-President of Literacy Guild, Sunday School Chairman of BME, and a member of International Relations Club. This year she was chosen Col league of the Year as a member of Palm City Bette. She enjoys swimming, singing, and reading.

Dot says, "The COLONNADE is the first and only newspaper on the GSW campus to be edited and written by students. The newspaper is distributed to all students, faculty, and staff on a weekly basis. It is an important source of information for the GSW community."

February Concerts To Be Rendered By A Capella Choir

The A Capella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Neill, will present a song concert on Friday, February 18, at 8:00 in Auditorium, then on Wednesday night, February 26, at the same time, it will give its final presentation.

The program Friday will consist of three numbers from the Cleor's concert lineup: these selections "Adventurin' By" by Glenda W. Reifel, "A More or Less" by Maureen and "A Medium of Thought" by Suzanne Schultze. These numbers will be followed by a "Salute to Shanghai," a work better known to the public, and a "Salute to Montreal," a work better known to a select few.

The program Wednesday night will include "Salute to Shanghai," "A Medium of Thought" by Suzanne Schultze, "Salute to Montreal," and "A More or Less" by Maureen. Everyone is invited to attend these two concerts.

The Colonnade plans to hold a competition to select the best student composer. This competition will be held during the week of February 18. Students are encouraged to submit their compositions for consideration. The winner will be announced on Monday, February 21.

Three-fold Dances Events To Be Presented Soon

The Joseph Gifford Dance Theater, in outstanding dance quarter during the Eastern and Western United States, will be an outstanding asset to a major mission, and a long-term investment. The dance theater will be located on the GSW campus, and will offer a variety of dance styles, including classical, modern, and contemporary. The dance theater will be open to the public, and will be available for various events, such as performances, workshops, and classes.

In addition to the dance theater, the GSW campus will host a series of dance workshops, featuring guest instructors from around the country. These workshops will be open to the public, and will be available for free. The workshops will cover a variety of dance styles, including ballet, jazz, and modern. The workshops will be held on Saturday mornings, and will be open to all ages and skill levels.

The GSW campus will also host a series of dance recitals, featuring student and faculty performers. These recitals will be held on Saturday evenings, and will be open to the public. The recitals will feature a wide range of dance styles, including classical, modern, and contemporary. The recitals will be held in the GSW Auditorium, and will be open to all ages and skill levels.

The GSW campus will also host a series of dance clinics, featuring guest instructors from around the country. These clinics will be open to the public, and will be available for free. The clinics will cover a variety of dance styles, including ballet, jazz, and modern. The clinics will be held on Saturday mornings, and will be open to all ages and skill levels.

The GSW campus will also host a series of dance master classes, featuring guest instructors from around the country. These master classes will be open to the public, and will be available for free. The master classes will cover a variety of dance styles, including classical, modern, and contemporary. The master classes will be held on Saturday mornings, and will be open to all ages and skill levels.

The GSW campus will also host a series of dance workshops, featuring guest instructors from around the country. These workshops will be open to the public, and will be available for free. The workshops will cover a variety of dance styles, including ballet, jazz, and modern. The workshops will be held on Saturday evenings, and will be open to all ages and skill levels.
Nurse Training at GSCW - Given
Recommendaion in Report To Gov.

A recommendation that the Board of Regents undertake a study of its policies and procedures regarding nursing education and training was made in a recent report to the Governor. The recommendation, which was attacked in the report, was based on a survey of 131 nursing schools in the United States and Canada. The survey concluded that the Board of Regents is not doing enough to ensure the quality of nursing education in Georgia. The report also recommended that the Board of Regents increase its funding for nursing education programs.

Reesie Is Crowned;
Combines Brains, Beauty

Miss Reesie Reesie is a citizen of the Georgia State College for Women in Augusta. She is a 19-year-old junior majoring in biology and French. Miss Reesie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reesie Reesie of Augusta.

Business Students Take Make Tour Of Atlanta

On Tuesday, February 10, a group of business students from Georgia State College for Women visited the city of Atlanta. They were accompanied by Miss Georgi, the head of the business department at GSCW. The students were taken on a tour of the city's financial district, where they were shown the headquarters of some of Atlanta's major companies. The group also visited the Georgia State Capitol and the Georgia State Museum.

Rita Rambles For Rec

The operator led to a phone for a little quarter so she could talk to her mother. The phone did not ring, so she tried again. This time the phone rang, but she didn't answer it.

Tales of A World Traveler;
Mrs. Goetz's Experiences

It was my privilege this year to have a glorious marriage in Hawaii and Bali. After the wedding, the couple went to the South Pacific and from there to Australia. We spent two weeks in Sydney, then flew to Japan, where we visited several cities, including Tokyo and Kyoto.

Balance your books... with the Original FINE POINT LINCOLN AUDITOR'S Ball Point Pen 17-400

Balance your books... with the Original FINE POINT LINCOLN AUDITOR'S Ball Point Pen 17-400. Long 7" perfectly balanced with 3 parachute design for auditors, accountants, bookkeepers. Perfect for use in school, office. Fast five point pen for extreme legibility.

The UNION - RECORDER
Office Supply Department
2138 - Phone - 24180
Choir Founded 25 Years Ago

Dr. Max Noah and his A Capella Choir are both celebrating their twentieth year of serving as the Georgia State College for Women. Dr. Noah came to GSCW in 1935, and in October of the same year organized the first A Capella Choir in Georgia by combining boys from GSC with the girls of GSCW—a combination which was unknown in the traditions of the two schools.

Since that time over 100 students have spent many hours during the week in learning the music, singing it off, and appearing in concerts in hundreds of occasions before thousands of people. In 1938, the choir members made their first trip, which sent to Warner, Georgia. This marked the beginning of the traditional choir trips and the annual out-of-town tour. Three tours have taken the choir to New York, Miami, New Orleans, and various other places of interest. In New York the choir sang on NBC and in several radio stations, and in New Orleans at the Blue Room of the Roosevelt Hotel.

In 1940, the choir members made the Christmas Caroling "The Messiah", and then initiated another annual tradition. The year "The Messiah" was presented by a chance of 100 voices accompanied by the instrumental ensemble of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra. Other choir events which have become traditional in the past twenty-five years include the initiation of new choir members during Fall Quarter and the annual Choir Homecoming.

Thus Dr. Noah's record of accomplishment as choir director and member of the GSCW faculty for the past quarter of a century speaks for itself.

Dr. Noah is a native of Waterloo, Iowa, and holds the A.B. degree from Iowa State Teachers College, and the M.A. degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, and the Ph. D. degree from Teachers College. He has also completed additional graduate work at the University of Cincinnati.

A widely recognized leader in the music field, Dr. Noah holds offices in local, regional and national professional organizations. He has a native-wide reputation for his unique qualities as a teacher, administrator and musician.

Library Displays
Rare Collections

A description, or an inscription, written above the books in the OSW Library collection is the Library will display these volumes in the autograph collection on Saturday, February 15, 1969.

Several of the books in the collection were written by famous Georgia Authors.

An autographed copy of Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind brought to the library the fact that Margaret Mitchell herself frequently visited Macon and GSCW while attending meetings of the Georgia Press Association.

What the People Want and Why Shouldingly is a book with a real purpose. It is written in four books and is autographed by another well known Georgian, former Governor E.B. Arnold.

Miss Meadors is Author Of Two Magazine Articles

Miss Margaret Meadors, former GSCW director of Public Relations, is the author of two recent magazine articles. "Arizona Was Mr. Priest" was printed in the winter issue of "The Arizona Review." It is a specification of childhood days in Phoenix, Arizona and the Arizona Indians. Another article by Miss Meadors will appear in the forthcoming issue of "Saturday."