Deadline At Hand

March 1 is the deadline for entering the MADEMOISELLE's 1962-63 Art Contest and College Fiction Contest. The two annual competitions for women students offer cash prizes, publication, and national recognition to the winners. The two College Fiction Contest winners will receive $500 each and their work will be published in MADEMOISELLE. The two Art Contest winners will also receive $500 each and will illustrate the two winning College Fiction Contest stories for MILLIE publication.

MADEMOISELLE's Art Contest, which is open to students enrolled in accredited colleges and twenty-six, discovers imaginative students of the fine arts. At least five examples of the artist's work must be submitted for the judging, and work in any medium will be accepted. Judges for the 1962-63 Art Contest are Emily Genauer, Art Editor and critic of the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE; Heda Burton, painter and Roger Schoenberg, Art Director of MADEMOISELLE.

MADEMOISELLE's College Fiction Contest is open to students enrolled in college or junior college. To enter the Contest, students must submit one or more manuscripts of any length to MADEMOISELLE. All stories must have fictitious characters and situations or they will be disqualified.

Address entries or queries to either Art Contest or College Fiction Contest, MADEMOISELLE, 430 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, New York.

Yours May Help

One night next week someone will come knocking at your door. She will ask you to donate to W.U.S. If your initial reaction is "what is W.U.S.?" be warned. W.U.S. stands as a reminder. World University Service aids overseas students in receiving a college education. It is supported by you and other student groups, like you, so when you are asked to give, please do enrich your college experience. Your contribution may help some student study in school,

Phi Beta Organizes Project

Phi Beta Lambda has organized a project to present at the annual State Convention in Atlanta on April 19 - 23. This project is aimed toward economic education and we hope it will better acquaint students with the field of economics.

A different poster concerning economics will be placed on the bulletin board in Lanier each week. These posters are being prepared by committees of Phi Beta Lambda girls.

On February 28, Phi Beta Lambda will have an open meeting. Mr. Jennings, the visiting professor from England, will be the guest speaker, and his subject will be THE COMMON MARKET. Everyone is invited to attend.

A Capella Choir Presents Annual Home Concert, After Short Tour

RECs RAMBLINGS

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate both the Modern and Folk Dance Clubs for unusually good performances. I am sure the high school students were profoundly impressed by this excellent exhibition of talent. However, high school students were not the only ones who enjoyed the dancing, for complements could be heard about the campus from both students and faculty. The sponsors, presidents, and members of these two dance clubs certainly deserve a pat on the back.

While we're patting backs, we could also miss that of the Tumbling Club. They certainly deserve much praise for an extremely excellent performance for a tremendously entertaining chapel program. The catchy theme, the cute costumes, and the amazing ability of these young women were combined to provide the student body with a very enjoyable performance. Com-gratulations to you, tool-

Thursday, February 28, is the day of the All-Star Basketball Game. A team composed of the best players from the Freshman and Senior teams will play a similar team of Sophomores and Juniors. Although nothing in defense, running, or basket shooting, all the members of the faculty will be waliboys and cheerleaders.

A Capella Choir of The Woman's College faces the camera for a group shot.

The A Capella Choir has just completed a tour in S. W. Georgia, and will be presenting their annual home concert next week.

The 29th annual concert of The Woman's College of Georgia A Cappella Choir will be presented in Russell Auditorium, Wednesday, February 27th at 8:15 p.m. The choir will have just completed a long-weekend tour of southwest Georgia, where they will have sung to several thousand people in Newman, Odor-bus, Albany, Thomasville and Fitzgerald. The choir travels by Trailwave bus, the driver, Tommy Graham, has driven for the choir for ten years.

The 50 members of the choir put hundreds of hours on rehearsing, learning and perfecting the music of the program. Under the direction of Dr. Max Noah, Head of the Music Department, the choir has gained pretige throughout the eastern part of the United States. The program is up to standard this year in every way and contains a variety of compositions that will give enjoyment and entertainment to all who hear the choir perform.

There is no admission fee. The choir has always given opportunity to the public to donate to the Music Scholarship Fund. The intension of which is given to a worthy music student each year as a free scholarship. Contributions may be made by mail or given at the door, Monday, February 27th.

Bell Ringing, Head Pounding

By Josephine King

I have observed over the years that the bell rings before the others. If one is calling, it is not until well after the others have started to ring. The bell is a quiet and deliberate one, its sound barely noticeable amidst the voices of the others.

Poll: Our Awards

None of these results are based on artistic performances, but rather on the personal experiences of the writer. The bell rings before the others because it is the one that requires the least effort. It is the one that is the easiest to control, and the one that requires the least amount of energy.

Entertainment

Mr. Lyne's classroom is bustling with students, each engrossed in their own world. The sound of the bell rings out, a reminder of the end of the class. It is a time for reflection and consolidation of the day's learning. The door opens, and the class emerges, ready for the next challenge.
SAI Presents Musicale

In arriving toward our objective to "Foster greater appreciation of the arts" on our campus, Beta Phi chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota will present its annual American Musicale in chapel on March 6th. Those performing are Carolyn Adams, Betty Ann Bailey, Marjorie Oak, and Pat Eneys. The selections you will hear will be from the works of Samuel Barber and Douglas Moore.

On the evening of February 11th our chapter enjoyed a Hi-Fi Musicale at the home of Mrs. Robert McCandless, Sandra Dunn and Martha Smith presented the program which was based on Beethoven's Violin Concerto in D, Opus 51. Following the program the chapter members, patrons, alumni and advisers enjoyed a social hour.

Robert B. Sour, BMI vice president in charge of writer relations, will judge the entries. They will be joined by other leading figures from the musical theatre world.

Rules for the competition, which closes June 15, 1963, are available from Robert B. Sour, Broadcast Music, Inc., 560 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, New York. Announcement of winners will be made no later than October 15, 1963.
