Fourteen seniors of the class of 1964 will be listed in this year’s edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Members are selected by the senior class, and the final decision is made by the faculty. The following are the students who have been chosen for this year:

Twila Webb Bearden, a chemistry and secondary education major from Cairo, Georgia, is serving as a member of Phi Sigma, sophomore honor society. Twila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Webb, Evelyn Blount, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brunsom Blount, of Waynesboro, Georgia, is a sociology and social studies major. She is editor of the 1964 Spectrum, religious coordinator of Y. W. C. A., and a member of Delta Phi Beta and the Social Workers Club. She has served as social chairman of Y, and has been a member of E.A., the Baptist choir, and the Health and Physical Education club.
April Earlene Brunson, daughter of the R. L. Brunisom of Waynesboro, Georgia, is majoring in business administration. She is presently serving as vice-president of the College Government Association. In the past she has been dorm represent-tive to Honor Council, secretary of Honor Council, a junior advisor, and president of her dorm. April was the first recipient of the Ethel Adams Scholarship.

Slipper Spirit Rides Again At WC

That title good shoe is back again looking for a new wearer. She is making appearances at dances and graces at both classes by wearing out aromas of spirit to enlist them and make them desire her. She enjoys all the fuss that the classes make in competition for her—the gorgeous! This spirit may have been been riding around a group of red-capped girls with eyes lit up and voices trying, without success, to conceal a conversation or give a marvelous theme—a purple capped girl who is unaware that she is singing a beautiful entrance song—a song practice—the morning session in the Student Union—the class sponsors—Dean DeCulpi-ny.

This Slipper Spirit is conspiring to not require confirmation in the information in fact, it could be conductive to good health if girls attend all meals, keep a few hours, sing the song, may improve, and of course, massage the mind with some thinking.

U. of Georgia Appoints Dr. Stewart As Dean

Dr. Charles A. Stewart will become the Dean of the School of Social Work at the University of Georgia, effective January 1, 1964.
The new school of social work, which is the second in Georgia to grant a Master’s degree in this field, will begin operation in September of 1964 with approximately 20 carefully selected graduate students. Scholarships will be available to those students who are pursuing Masters of Social Work degrees.
The block plan of field work will be utilized, with each student getting on-the-job supervision in an approved agency during during her freshman and sophomore years, a member of President’s cabinet of CGA, served on the board of officers of WC, and was a member of Phi Sigma. She is the daughter of Mrs. Rebecca B. Curtis.

Nancy Carol Dickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay Dickerson of Harriwell, Georgia, is a health and physical education major. She is the president of the senior class and is a member of CGA, the Health and Physical Education club, and the Service Guild. In the past she has served as vice-president of the Health and Physical Education club and as a junior advisor.

Brenda Joyce Groves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Groves, is an English major from Chck-amuiga, Georgia. She is chairman of the board of the Student Guild, the Baptist Student Union, and the Literary Guild. She was a junior advisor, and was the recipient of the Luiee Beese Scholarship for this year.

Mary Elaine Martin is a history and social studies major from Griffin, Georgia. She is president of the International Relations club, senior representative in Honor Council, a member of the Litcracy Guild, and of Pi Gamma Mu honorary society. She has served as president of Phi Sigma, junior representative to honorary council, and a juncor advisor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, Sr.

Editor,

I have been reading with interest the last issue of the Colonade. It is clear that some answer would be proper to the question given below in the "What’s Your Opinion?" column. It seems to me that this question is closely related to the topic of the colonies, as well as to the previous issue concerning the status of students. It is interesting to note that the question given to the students is in the form of a game, which is often used in educational settings. The question asks whether the colonies should be abolished or kept as they are. The students are then asked to respond to this question, either in writing or verbally, and their responses are collected and analyzed. This kind of exercise is useful in promoting critical thinking and encouraging students to express their ideas. It is also an excellent way to engage students and encourage them to participate in the decision-making process. Overall, this is an excellent example of how educational institutions can use games to promote critical thinking and encourage student participation. Thank you for providing this opportunity to share my thoughts.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
Christmas is almost upon us, in fact, there are only 20 more shopping days remaining! Your Mad-Shopper picked up some Christmas spirit by visiting Eberhart's, the studio where they're already taking photographs for Christmas gifts. It's about time to go down there if you're thinking of giving any photographs of yourself to anyone on your shopping list. Speaking of Christmas shopping, not only does Vincent's Men's Shop have a nice selection of gift items, but they also have a very friendly sales staff who go out of their way to help you choose exactly what you want.

Don't miss seeing Harrold's display window this week. It's jam-packed with styles in yellow the up-and-coming color this winter. Goldstein's has a shipment of the latest rage in sheapwear all ready for you to buy at the price of only $1.99. What is it? The Granny Gown, of course! Plaid wool knits are becoming the rage this year, too. You can buy them to match your favorite plaid skirt at Trapnell's Shoe Store. Ever get tired of the same old shoes? Day after day? Mr. McMillan down at McMillan's Shoe Service has the answer. It's instant shoe coloring, which comes in a variety of colors, is easy to use, and is easy to remove when you want to change colors. As Mr. McMillan says, you can even paint your shoes to match the color of your nail polish!

In case you're planning to have your parents, or better, a male-type friend down for a weekend, and don't know where they can stay, The Baldwin Hotel is a very nice place, with a couple of extra advantages: the rates are very reasonable, and, since it is only two blocks from the school, there is no transportation problem for your car-less friends. Then Grant's is always a great place to eat, whether you want to splurge on a full meal, or whether it's just a glass of tea you're after. Drop by there after classes—sometime you'll agree!
